Feb. 2, 1922 — A Thief is a thief (excerpts from an editorial)

Owners of automobiles in Redmond have been victims of petty thieves during the past two or three months to an extent never before known in this community that has heretofore virtually without crime of any kind. One automobile has been stripped of its accessories three times in the past few weeks.

The work is thought to be that of youths. Probably the result of the widely reported crime wave in the larger center of the Pacific coast.

If anybody should ask what is the most crying social need of the time, this is an answer that would win a high rating: take the romance out of stealing.

Most of us forget one thing. Every real youngster growing into man's inches carries in his bones more or less of the spirit of recklessness, or of adventure and daring. When directed aright by education or by natural good brains in the boy himself, it is a fine thing. But when misdirected, the Ladd goes bad in one way or another.

America doesn't handle thieving as it should be handled. We make too much of a romance out of it.

Let's call stealing, stealing, and a thief, a thief.

Feb. 6, 1947 — Shrine Hospital to Get Central Oregon Potatoes

A carload of potatoes donated by central Oregon and Klamath growers left Redmond today for the Shrine hospital for crippled children at Portland. Starting at Malin, the car, which was sponsored by Redmond Shrine club, arrived early this week in Redmond where loading was completed.

In central Oregon, potato donations were received from Powell Butte Farmers club, and growers of Tumalo, Cloverdale and Lone Pine districts. Freight charges were donated by Great Northern Oregon Trunk, and S.P. & S. railways. Inspectors from central Oregon shipping Point service certified the shipment without charge.

Last Monday night, a delegation of Redmond Shiners, including Hugh Stewart, club secretary; Olaf Anderson, E.O. Adams and J.R. Roberts, attended a meeting of Powell Butte Farmers club to request aid in filling the car. Farmers club members complied with a number of donations.

Robert said that the Shrine club received fine cooperation from growers in supplying the potatoes, which go to an organization whose work is gratis. Children are treated at the hospital regardless of race, creed or color, he added. During the past year, a number of central Oregon youngsters have received treatment at the hospital.

Feb. 2, 1972 — Greater coordination of fire crews asked

Hoping to upgrade forest fire protection in much of eastern Oregon, congressman Al Ullman this week introduced legislation to allow the federal government to contract with Oregon state forest crews for fire emergencies and special projects.

Ullman said the primary purpose of the bill is to make sure adequate forest fire protection is maintained in Oregon by allowing more cooperation between state and federal forest crews.

To get economical use out of forest crews, Ullman called for using them for forest improvements and road maintenance when they are not on fire call. He said his bill would allow the U.S. Forest Service to contract with state crews for these services.

"presumably," Ullman said, "the U.S. Forest Service would be a prime contractor to keep pace with the increased public usage of national parks and forests."

Cosponsoring the bill with Ullman are Rep. Wendel Wyatt and Rep. John Dellenback.

Feb. 5, 1997 — Chamber names Vern Patrick first citizen of '96

Retired businessman and community activist Vern Patrick was named Redmond's 1996 citizen of the year by the chamber of commerce Saturday night. Patrick, a retired pharmacist and former owner of Cent-Wise Drug Store, has lived in Redmond for nearly 50 years. In that time he has become one of the best known volunteers and community boosters around. In 1995, the school district named its new elementary school for Patrick.

Among the many local causes he was recognized for are providing scholarships to high school students for more than 40 years; serving as a member of the Buckaroo Breakfast for more than 40 years; sponsoring youth baseball teams for more than 30 years; volunteering with fire department and ambulance crews for more than 25 years; serving as assistant fire chief; serving as a charter member of the Redmond Booster Club; serving on the Ronald McDonald House board; and taking in youth who need a place to stay.

As a member of the Redmond Kiwanis since the early 1950s, Patrick was instrumental in the building of grand stands for Don Rich Stadium, and he headed the drive to build Cascades Swim Center.
