

First Interstate Bank donates $4,500 to the Redmond Senior Center

Staff report
Representatives from First Interstate Bank recently donated $4,500 to the Redmond Senior Center in support of its Meals on Wheels program. "We're very grateful," said Jamie Christman, Redmond Senior Center meal services manager. "The financial contributions First Interstate Bank provided for this crucial community program is significant in helping feed our society's most at-risk population.

We are not a tax district nor a line item on the city budget so it's support like this that truly makes a difference, especially with the rising cost of food." There is high demand for Meals on Wheels in the greater Redmond area as the Redmond Senior Center delivers roughly 150 meals a day, five days a week, reaching all three counties of Deschutes, Jefferson, and Crook. "At First Interstate, we are committed to supporting the places we call home, and we look to partner with organizations that make our community a better place" said Randi Osborn, Redmond retail manager. "We are proud to support the Redmond Senior Center as they work to help seniors in our area."

Feb. 13, 1947 — Madras to Get New Buildings; Thomas Owner

Madras, Feb. 12 — (special) — William Thomas, world war one veterans and Madras business man, has awarded the contract for a 50 x 80 foot building to Louis Kowolski, local contractor. The building of concrete blocks will be timber structure and will house display rooms for Dodge and Plymouth cars and Oliver farm machinery and a repair shop. The balcony will be used for office and store rooms.

The new business is located at the rear of the Thomas Shell service station with the main entrance on 6th street just north of the courthouse and directly across from the Community hall.

Thomas has been in business in his present location for ten years and will continue to operate his service station and wholesale gasoline business. He came to Central Oregon 34 years ago, settling on a Homestead in the Gateway section. He moved to Madras about 20 years ago. During the years from 1927 to 1933 he was associated with the late John Conroy at the Main Street garage.

Feb. 9, 1972 — Former postmaster buys Mae's Tavern

Jeri Grunigen, former country store operator and postmaster of the small community of Alvadore, located some 11 miles northwest of Eugene, has purchased Mae's Tavern.

In the near future, Grunigen plans to install a sandwich bar, featuring homemade ham, pastrami, roast beef and corn beef sandwiches and home prepared potato salad. Ours will remain from 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. seven days a week.

Assisting Grunigen with the operation will be his wife, Diane, and Mrs. Elva Maye Burwell, formerly employed by the Black Anvil and sisters.

Grunigen Purchased the tavern, located at 631 S. Sixth St., effective last week, from Ramada Taverns, which since last July had owned the business and during early fall had completely remodeled both the exterior and interior, installing a new pool table, booths, hanging lights and music system.

25 Years Ago

Feb. 12, 1997 — Trucks block icy highway north of Terrebonne

A pile of semis on ice closed highway 97 north of Terrebonne for several hours last Friday.

Did shoots county sheriffs department attributed the accident to "poor road conditions and drivers' and experience."

According to deputies, a GMC Topkick driven by Lincoln Zachary, 21, of Springfield, was ahead of three Freightliners southbound on Highway 97 near Lower Bridge Road, just north of Terrebonne. Zachary slowed as he approached a line of vehicles moving slowly on the icy road. Frederick Cole of Milwaukie, 35, in the first semi, applied his brakes. They locked, causing him to slide sideways in the road.

Zachary saw the truck go out of control and attempted to downshift, causing his wheels to lock up on the ice. Zachary's truck T-bone Cole's semi. Both vehicles hit both guard rails along the highway.

A semi driven by Edgar Roberto Quinonez, 44, of Rowland Heights, Calif., attempted to avoid the first two, but collided with Cole. All three vehicles were towed from the scene. There were no injuries, and no citations were issued. The tangle of trucks closed the highway for several hours until sanding crews could improve traction enough for tow trucks to move the trucks.
