Ridgeview softball seeks to continue dominance

BY BRIAN RATHBONE

For The Spokesman

REDMOND — For nearly a decade, the Ridgeview softball team has run the Intermountain Conference, having won the conference crown every year since 2014.

The team is technically still the defending state champs because there was no postseason play for the last two years. But to earn an eighth-straight conference title the Ravens will have their work cut out for them after winning just four of their nine nonleague games to start the spring.

“We know what it is we need to fix and we have time to fix it,” said Ridgeview coach Sandy Fischer. “That is our task. We have more new players than we have old players this year. So we are trying to get it all to mesh, and that takes time. We will be fine, we will be there in the end.”

In their nonleague finale on a chilly Friday evening, the Ravens (4-5 overall) were on the wrong side of a wild game, falling 11-10 against Putnam (3-4). Both teams squandered leads and were able to string together rallies.

“It was very, very intense,” said senior shortstop Teeghan Reams.

“We had a lot of energy going into the fourth inning, which really sparked some good hitting and fielding.”

Although the youthful Ridgeview team made its share of mistakes against Putnam, several positive signs of a team finding its footing early in the season showed as well.

The Ravens made three fielding errors that yielded seven unearned runs against Putnam. After the first inning they found themselves down five runs and remained down by five with two outs in the fourth inning. Then the Ravens bats came to life.

Eight straight batters went to the plate and six runners scored — all with two outs. Reams’ two-run homerun over the right-center fence tied the game 6-6, then Madi Godfrey’s RBI single gave Ridgeview its first lead.

But the lead was short lived. The Kingsmen would plate five runs in the sixth inning to extend their lead back to four.

“When you get down that far and are able to come back, that is a good sign of a team that is together,” Fischer said. “We hurt ourselves with errors. That is not really normal for us. That is the thing that we have to clean up.”

In the final two innings, Ridgeview would again mount a comeback, scoring two runs in the sixth inning then adding another run in the seventh. However, the Ravens came up one run short of sending the game to extra innings.

“It is satisfying to know that all the work we are putting in at practice is transferring to games to fight back and to get back into a game,” Reams said. “Even though we lost, it still felt like a really good game that we played.”

The Ravens open their conference title defense next Friday on the road against Hood River Valley, taking the lessons learned Friday into its first road game of the spring.

“They had a lot of fight today. They were down and could have quit and they didn’t, and that is a big piece,” Fischer said. “They know they can come back now, and you play confident when you know you can do that. Now we just have to be more selfish when we get a lead.”

Redmond’s Brant named USA Lacrosse Player of the Month

SPOKESMAN STAFF

A key factor in the success of the No. 3 College of Idaho men’s lacrosse team, Joey Brant was named the USA Lacrosse MCLA Player of the Month for March.

Brant has done it all for the College of Idaho as the Yotes racked up a 4-0 record in the month of March, including wins over a pair of Top 10 teams, and are sitting at No. 3 in the polls.

The Redmond native scored seven goals and dished out a pair of assists in March while also winning 27-of-29 faceoff opportunities and gobbling up 30 ground balls.

“To quote Brendan Munnord, ‘There are guys who play lacrosse, and there are lacrosse players.’ Joey is a lacrosse player,” said coach Alan Morgan. “He has a nonstop motor, and a drive to be the best. He is our utility guy. There’s nothing that we ask of him that he’s not capable of doing. He’s an unbelievable talent that the rest of our guys benefit greatly from.”

For his efforts, Brant will receive a one-year membership to USA Lacrosse, the national governing body of the sport.

Currently, College of Idaho is 8-0 overall and 3-0 in PNCLL play.
