LOCAL BRIEFS

Redmond motorcyclist dies in crash

A Redmond motorcyclist died Wednesday night after crashing into an SUV near Tumalo.

Quinn Chastain, 30, died at the scene. According to police, Chastain was riding northbound about 8 p.m. near 94th Street on the Old Bend Redmond Highway.

Investigators determined he was traveling "at a high rate of speed and passing in designated no passing zones" when he struck a Lexus SUV that was pulling onto the highway from a driveway.

According to crash investigators from the Deschutes County Sheriff's Office and Oregon State Police, the SUV driver did not see the motorcycle.

The SUV driver remained on scene and was cooperative, according to police.

Old Bend Redmond Highway was closed for almost five hours while the crash was being investigated.

Redmond Proficiency Academy announces valedictorians and salutatorians for 2022

Redmond Proficiency Academy announced the valedictorians and salutatorian for the Class of 2022, the highest academic honors for graduating high school seniors.

Valedictorians earned grade point averages higher than 4.0.

A salutatorian includes student with the highest grade point average below 4.0.

"We're thrilled to recognize this year's valedictorians and salutatorian during upcoming ceremonies," Executive Director Jon Bullock said. "Each student showed incredible perseverance and adaptability since the beginning of the pandemic. While many challenges were thrown their way during the past two years, they overcame and never lost their ability to thrive at RPA and obtain a high quality education."
