National Guard unit departs for Idaho in 1972

July 6, 1922 — From 'Local Happenings'

John W. Allen has just completed painting his bungalow. The colors are gray, trimmed in white. It is certainly a splendid combination and makes a great improvement in his property.

75 YEARS AGO

July 10, 1947 — Crews oiling state routes

Extensive oil operations are underway on various highways in this area, says Forrest Cooper, district maintenance superintendent for the state highway department.

One crew is working out of Redmond putting a seal coat on the O'Neil secondary highway. Oiling also is to be done between Redmond and Prineville and in the Mitchell area.

Another crew is oiling the highway in the Sisters vicinity, Cooper said.

July 12, 1972 — National Guard unit depart for Idaho

Redmonds Company M, Third Squadron, 163rd Armored Cavalry, Oregon Army National Guard, will arrive at Gowen field, Boise, Idaho, July 13, for its annual two weeks of field training.

The 53-man unit will leave the main base at Gowen Field July 16 for the 166,400-acre training site in the Idaho desert where it will undergo seven days of intensive troop tactical training, firing and testing.

Upon its return to the main base the unit will be doing cleanup and maintenance work until July 26. Company M, commanded by 1st Lt. Jan VanNice, expects to improve its already high efficiency rating during this period.

The unit will return to Redmond on July 27.

25 YEARS AGO

July 9, 1997 — Rimrock development dies as session ends

The amended bill that would have cleared some obstacles for the proposed Rimrock resort was voted down in the state Legislature's chaotic closing rush.

The original version of the bill passed by the Senate was drastically altered in the house to win the support of Gov. John Kitzhaber, who had a hand in writing the amendments to SB870.

The revised version would have let Rimrock developers apply for Deschutes County approval of their proposed $500 million resort through the exemptions process, which allows consideration of proposed developments that don't meet all requirements of the state land-use laws.

The amended bill was defeated 38-19 when it came up for a vote in the house with no time for the debate shortly before the harried legislators had to end their Thursday night session.

Voting on the resort bill was rushed because the house also had to squeeze in voting on a charter schools bill. "The issue of destination resorts was just lost," said Sen. Neil Bryant (R-Bend), who sponsored the original bill. "It should not have taken place that way."

Rep Ben Westlund (R-Bend) also was dismayed the resort bill was not discussed on the house floor before the vote.

"You give the issue an airing; that's what we are therefore," Westlund said.

Bryant noted the vote came after several grueling days as legislators worked long hours last week to finish their business before the holiday weekend.

"I think given normal circumstances, if there are normal circumstances at the end of a legislative session ... there would have been good debate and the bill had a chance" to pass on a close vote.
