Guitarist Leo Kottke heads to Redmond

BY BEN SALMON

For The Bulletin

In 2012, Leo Kottke did an interview with The Bulletin, wherein he said this: "I am one of those people who didn't go to the instrument. The instrument came and got me."

The instrument he's talking about is the guitar, of course. Kottke was born in Georgia, eventually settled in Minnesota and established himself as one of the most adventurous and influential acoustic guitarists of the late 20th century with the release of his first two albums — "12-String Blues" and "6- and 12-String Guitar" — in 1969. Since then, he has made an admirable career out of his propulsive style of fingerpicking, his innovative approach to composition and his seamless integration of folk music, country-blues, wry humor and experimental forms.

He'll return to Central Oregon next week for a show at Redmond's High Desert Music Hall, which should be a wonderful place to watch this legendary artist do what he does best.

■ Ben Salmon is a Bend-based music journalist and host of Left Of The Dial, which airs 8-10 p.m. Thursdays on KPOV, 88.9 FM and streams at kпов.org. You can find him on Bandcamp and Twitter at @bcsalmon.

CHUCK of the week

An ode to all chucks

The July 19 "Chuck of the Week" is about the spirit of the species. Barb Vulture used her pen, not her camera, to wax philosophical about her favorite garden guest — er pest?. Where else beside Redmond are residents writing odes to their beloved fairway marmots?

As always: Have you snapped a photo (or written a poem) inspired by your favorite neighborhood chuck? Email it to news@redmondspokesman.com and you could win a free subscription to the newspaper and give your chuck its week of fame in the print edition of the paper.

The Uninvited (guest?)

Our garden is in and the plants fill the space.

We relax in the shade enjoying our place.

Then under the fence pushing all rocks aside comes a cute little critter not relaxing his stride.

He knows what he wants without bidding hello, heads straight for the plants — that cheeky fellow.

We rise from our seats and cry in dismay,

The plants we just sowed he's eating away!

But in our alarm, he senses disaster and flees for his life scurrying faster.

We admit 'twas a feast for that rock chuck we'd spread,

but our intentions were not for him to be fed.

Guests come to our front gate, but he comes behind

from the field that is empty, he comes to dine.

Perhaps it's the same chuck that partakes of our crop?

If that is the case perhaps we should stop to give him a name and treat him as one of the family. Now wouldn't that be fun?

PET OF THE WEEK

Meet Max!

This mighty meathead was brought to BrightSide and now awaits his forever home. This happy senior loves snuggling up as much as he still enjoys playing with people. Max is a people pup — meaning he does not like any other animals, just his human friends. Max is looking for an owner with a low traffic home where he can lounge, play, and snuggle all day.
