LOCAL BRIEFING

Next three city council meetings canceled

The next three Redmond City Council meetings — scheduled for July 26, August 2, and August 9 — have been canceled.

City council often takes a midsummer break from their meeting schedule.

The next meeting will be August 16, according to the Redmond city recorder's office.

Jennings to lead Hayden Homes imprint

Redmond-based Simplicity by Hayden Homes announced Ryan Jennings as its next president.

Jennings succeeds Ken Brodeck, who announced his retirement from Simplicity by Hayden Homes after leading the company over the last 11 years. Brodeck will remain with the company through the transition before retiring later this year.

Jennings has more than 17 years of management experience within both Hayden Homes and Simplicity by Hayden Homes, including as project manager, senior project manager, regional director, operations director, and most recently, purchasing director.

Dennis Murphy will remain CEO of both Hayden Homes and Simplicity by Hayden Homes.

Latino Association adds to board

The Latino Community Association has named new members of its board of directors.

Zavier "Zavi" Borja became president of the Latino Community Association's board of directors in April, as LCA elevated some members to leadership positions. Borja is a first-generation Mexican-American who grew up in Central Oregon. In 2019, he founded the first local chapter of Latino Outdoors and the nonprofit Vamonos Outside.

LeeAnn O'Neill, managing partner at Allyship in Action, an organization that advances equality and social justice in Central Oregon, is the new board vice-president. Kinsey Martin, director of diversity, equity and inclusion at Bend-La Pine Schools, is the new board secretary. Chad Gilliss, principal at Stillwater Energy, is board treasurer.

M.A. Lynch Elementary receives $2,500 grant

M.A. Lynch Elementary School in Redmond will receive a $2,500 grant from the Chambers Family Foundation for the upcoming school year.

According to the press release, M.A. Lynch Elementary "is one of the most food-insecure census tracts in Deschutes County" and mentioned that Jordan Chandler, the FAN advocate at the school, helped 118 individuals by connecting them to resources like food, clothing, school supplies, health services, rent/utility relief and more.

FAN's stated mission is to "offer assistance, possibility and hope to Central Oregon families in need by connecting them with crucial resources that will help children flourish in school in life."

The network works with nearly 8,000 children and family members every year in Deschutes, Crook and Jefferson counties. They employ 30 advocates at 66 sites across these three counties.

PET OF THE WEEK

Meet Kanani! Kind Kanani was brought to BrightSide after being found alone and can't wait to find his new forever home.

Although we don't know much about Kanani, this pup has shown our staff that he truly is a sweet boy — he just needs some time until he is out of his "awkward stage" with new people. Kanani, after being brought in, was given veterinary care and included a medical procedure to remove two tumors. One was a benign hemangioma and the other a mast cell tumor. Subcutaneous mast cell tumors typically are associated with good prognosis and long survival times. His mast cell tumor was noted to be incompletely excised on his histopathology report which means that there is a roughly 12% chance of recurrence. If recurrence occurs, it would be recommended to exercise again. That doesn't slow him down any, this big boy still loves to play and be around people he gets to know. Kanani is looking for a low traffic home with no dogs, kids, or cats so he can be the superstar pet and his personality can shine.

CHUCK of the week

The July 26 "Chuck of the Week" is actually two chucks who together share the top prize. Angelique DeRoux snapped this photo of Chip and Dale, her favorite backyard rodent friends. This duo is known for their spirited hijinks and high pitched squeals.

As always: Have you snapped a photo (or written a poem, or complete a painting) inspired by your favorite neighborhood chuck? Email it to news@redmondspokesman.com and you could win a free subscription to the newspaper and give your chuck its week of fame in the print edition of the paper.
