Oct. 25, 1972 — Ghost and goblins visit youngsters

Once again ghosts and goblins, haunts and horrors will visit Redmond youngsters on Halloween night at the Redmond Jaycee Hall, Eighth and Glacier Ave.

All Redmond trick-or-treaters aged 12 or under are invited to the Redmond Jaycee-sponsored spook house between 6:30 and 8 p.m. next Thursday. Proceeds from the small admissions charge will be given to the Unicef.

The Jaycees traditionally sponsor the spook house to give youngsters a safe, but fun, activity on the spooky night.

work, and the new path through the north end of Dry Canyon is an appealing stretch of his route.

"It makes my commute easier," said Adams, who lives north of the city. "I don't like to ride on highways anymore than I have to."

An avid cyclist, Adams said an off-road trail instead of a paved one would have suited him, "but I realize more people will probably be able to utilize it this way."

The path for walkers, joggers and cyclists was paved this summer, and civic leaders have scheduled a ribbon cutting ceremony for noon Thursday to officially open the trail. The ceremony will take place at the trails north end by the wastewater treatment plant off NW Pershall Way.

The trail leads from a parking lot at its north end to an access point at northwest fork, where a stairway with a track for walking bikes leads from the end of the street down into the canyon.

The path is the first phase of a planned trail system that will extend south to Highland Ave.

The project has a few critics, who regard the paved path as an unwelcome intrusion in the canyon. Others say there should be more than two access points.

But the folks planning the project, and working to transform the entire canyon into an accessible community park, think most residents will discover and enjoy the path.

People in Redmond are being crushed by rising gas, food, and housing prices. As your City Councilor, and a local small business owner, I understand this skyrocketing cost of living is unsustainable for families and businesses alike.

As your City Councilor today, and with your vote in November, I will continue to work to create more affordable housing and job opportunities in Redmond.
