

» Education

REDMOND SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Redmond School District serves Redmond, Terrebonne, Tumalo, Eagle Crest, Alfalfa and Crooked River Ranch. The school district operates one early learning center, seven 1-5 elementary schools, two middle schools and two comprehensive high schools. The district's pre-school and kindergarten classes are held at Redmond Early Learning Center. The school district also offers a K-12 online school program, which uses local learning coaches and academic mentors.

Redmond High School is home to a Marine Corps JROTC program and offers extensive vocational and technical classes, many of which simultaneously earn college credit through Central Oregon Community College. Ridgeview High School offers comprehensive athletic and career-education facilities. Redmond School District: 541-923-5437, www.redmond.k12.or.us.

REDMOND PROFICIENCY ACADEMY

An accredited public charter school for grades 6-12, RPA provides a more self-designed course of study or more challenging college preparatory curriculum with a flexible schedule. The school operates as part of the Redmond School District but with a separate board and administration. Grades 9-12 and a performing arts theater are located in its downtown campus. They also have a middle school building (150 SW 25th St.).

Information: 657 SW Glacier Ave.; 541-526-0882, www.rpacademy.org.

ALTERNATIVE SCHOOLS

YouthBuild/Heart of Oregon Corps offers programs for ages 16-24 in the apprentice construction area, as well as opportunities to earn a diploma or GED: 541-633-7834; www.heartoforegon.org.

The High Desert Education Service District offers services for home-school students in our region and other special populations: 541-693-5600, www.hdesd.org.

Central Oregon Intergovernmental Council offers alternative high school education: 541-548-8163, www.coic.org.