The moving picture entertainment given Wednesday evening under the auspices of Stayton Circle, Women of Woodcraft, was the best of its kind we have seen in Stayton. The ladies of the circle gave the entertainment free to those whom they desired to entertain, and the opera house was packed. Music was furnished by a graphophone and the Woodman band, and the evening was entertaining and instructive. Stayton Circle has a large membership of live workers, and this entertainment will undoubtedly assist in adding many new names to the roll.

For holiday presents, such as Toilet Cases, Albums, Work Boxes, Collar and Cuff Boxes, Shaving Sets, Glove and Handkerchief Boxes, go to Ditters, at Sublimity.

We have 150 acres of fine timber land on the river near town for sale or exchange.

"Aunt Mary" Hollenbeck died Saturday last at the home of Lon Shelley, in this place, where she has made her home several months past. She was 79 years of age, an old resident of this neighborhood, and had been quite feeble for some time. The funeral service was held Tuesday, at the M. E. Church, and interment made in the Peitrok cemetery, where her husband and children are buried. Her son-in-law, Frank Osborn, and his daughter, of Clackamas county, were present at the funeral.
