ELEVENTH YEAR.

STAYTON, MARION COUNTY, OREGON, APRIL 27, 1906.

NUMBER 12

JONATHAN BOURNE, JR.

According to the latest returns, has secured the most votes for United States Senator. Early reports gave the nomination to H. M. Calk.

Walter Tooze proved himself a good spender, but it appears that in a primary election such as just passed, it takes something besides plenty of money to insure success.

Now that Bourne is secure in the nomination for U. S. Senator it will be interesting to see some of his party papers "crawfish" to get away from the rocks they threw at him before the primary election.

San Francisco is already rising from the ashes, and her people declare will be rebuilt grander than ever. While many declare they will never make the city their home, the larger portion it is said will remain and help make the new town. Buildings will be erected as much as possible to withstand the effects of an earthquake, and hope is great that another such as this may never occur.

To the people of Stayton and vicinity
Now, that the primary contest is over, I wish to most heartily thank those who so loyally supported me for the nomination for State Senator. For those who had other preferences I have only the kindest feelings, recognizing it to be every man's privilege as well as duty to support his choice for the nomination.

As I am now one of the regular nominees on the Republican Ticket for State Senator, I most respectfully solicit the support of all and I will, if elected, serve all the people honestly and to the best of my ability.

Respectfully,
T. B. KAY.

Creffield, the high priest of Holy-rollerism, who created such a sensation in Corvallis a couple of years ago, and who was sent to the penitentiary, was released in December, and has since that time been working upon the sympathies of his former followers. He had carried on a secret correspondence with some of them, and from his different locations at Sacramento, San Jose and Seattle, and finally induced several to join him at Waldport, about 20 miles south of Newport, in Lincoln county. Here it is stated a colony has been formed, and several of his old converts have joined him. Eight or ten people were confined in the asylum for a time as the result of his teachings, and prospects are now good for their return. Creffield alleges that he is Christ risen from the dead, his death being his two years residence in the penitentiary, and it is said some of his followers accept his claim of Christ-hood.

When Solid Iron Floats.

Experiments show that if a ball of solid iron is lowered into a mass of liquid iron by means of a metal fork the ball at first sinks to the bottom with the fork. But in a few seconds it leaves the prongs and rises to the surface, where it continues to float until it melts. The rising is explained by the expansion of the ball, due to heating, whereby it becomes, bulk for bulk, less dense than the molten metal.

Stayton people should stand for Stayton. Those who have the best interest of the place at heart should use their united efforts to silence the sorrowful groans of the croaker and to cause the knocks of the knocker to return from whence they came. The people of this town who are interested in the welfare of the whole community, and not bound by the selfish desire to personally make all the money that is to be made and to do all the business in their line that is to be done, should make it a point to use their influence to show the people who are standing in the way and holding back the progress of the town that the thing for them to do is to get in line and push with the pushers. The people of Stayton do not need the assistance of any outside brains if they will get together and use their own. Still, there are a few here who seem to prefer to take the advice of outside parties than to rely on their own judgment, when it is plain to be seen that the outsider has more interest in the illfare than the welfare of the town. The opportunity is it hand for the people of Stayton to show whether or not they are interested in the town's future good. We believe that those who truly are interested will use every effort to continue the excellent progress that the town has enjoyed during the past year or more, and do the best they can to quiet the croakers, demoralize the knockers and destroy the evil effect of opinions forced upon the town by designing outsiders.

The Republican primary vote in Stayton for some of the candidates is given below. For State Superintendent, Ackerman received the highest number of republican votes cast, 67. Hobson received 44, Lafollett 26, Kay 21, Richardson 48, J. B. Grier for justice, 46, Watters 23, Smith for constable, 54. A. L. Mack was elected republican chairman for this precinct, and M. J. Spaniol democratic chairman. W. H. Queener received the democratic nomination for justice, and Jo. Kearns for constable. There were 24 democratic and 67 republican votes cast.

Forget Your Lost Battles.

Napoleon the Great on one of his campaigns while walking about the camp one night, as he was accustomed to do to discover how the soldiers were occupied, chanced to come upon a group listening to an excited speaker. Napoleon stole near to listen and found that the man was regaling his comrades with an account of battles that Napoleon had lost.

"I had the fellow hanged as a traitor," Napoleon said. "Men do not win battles by the memory of battles lost!"

It was perfectly true. A distinguished military officer affirmed that after troops had been beaten in a battle it took weeks to get them to fire as well as they had done before. Bad success demoralizes them. If one is continually looking back at the things one has missed in life one loses the power to grip what is yet within reach of one's hands.—London Spectator.

Peppermint.

The preparation of peppermint is especially an American industry. The peppermint is cut when in bloom, like hay, dried, placed in close wooden vats and steamed. The oil cells burst and the oil passes upward with the steam, which is condensed and conducted into a receiver, where the oil rises and is piped off. It takes about 350 pounds of dry peppermint to produce one pound of oil. An acre of land yields from six to ten pounds of oil, often more, even as high as fifty pounds.
