The Suave Mr. Perkins.

[Copyright.]

James Treadwell of Boston, being in London, dropped in at a sale of goods and chattels at a private house. A sandalwood box was put up which caught his fancy. He bid first against a ferret faced man and determined to have it. The people around him got on to the fact that he was a "Yankee" and made comments that further determined him. To the auctioneer's surprise, the bids went up to £10. Mr. Treadwell would have carried them to double that sum, but the other bidder rushed away to look for some one in the crowd, and, being afraid of missing a good thing, the auctioneer knocked the trifle down to the last bidder, and it was handed to him and paid for amid giggles and open laughter. He had not gone two blocks from the house when a young woman overtook him. She explained that she had been lady's maid in the house for a number of years and coveted the box as a souvenir or her dear dead mistress. The ferret faced man had been bidding for her. Would Mr. Treadwell respect the sentiment that actuated her and let her have the box for what he paid? Mr. Treadwell declined to sell.

The hotel had scarcely been reached when a Charles Perkins desired an interview. Mr. Perkins was suave—exceedingly suave. He had been in America. He had seen Boston Common. Although he was one of the most patriotic of his majesty's subjects, he had gazed upon Bunker Hill monument and found his heart swelling with pride at the thought of how bravely it had been held against the redcoats.

When Mr. Perkins had got through praising Uncle Sam's country and children he turned to the subject in hand. It was his wife that had died, and his furniture that had been sold at auction. He was an architect and had met his downfall by trying to introduce American ideas into England, such as dark bedrooms, parlors in which two people had to sit with their knees touching and hot air furnaces that only produced hot air from the mouth of the manufacturer. That sandalwood box had been presented to his wife by Queen Victoria in person for making the best pumpkin pies in all England. There were other associations connected with it, and he had called in hopes that Mr. Treadwell could see his way clear to taking the sum of £15 for the sad relic.

Mr. Treadwell felt for the suave Mr. Perkins, but he couldn't part with the box. He was still mad at the people who had called him a Yankee and giggled over his bargain, and he had begun to smell a rat. No sixpenny sandalwood box was worth £15 unless there was some secret connected with it—something by which he might profit and get even. He therefore turned Mr. Perkins down and took the box to his room and examined it. It seemed nothing more than a plain handkerchief box. There were no traces of the tears shed by the dead and gone. If the late Mrs. Perkins had ever broken it by throwing it at the head of her husband, it had been repaired again. Mr. Treadwell peered and peered and found nothing. It was only when he came to measure that he suspected a secret drawer and at length found one. The contents consisted of a birth and a marriage certificate of the same person, and the death of that person had taken place fifteen years previously. As near as could be figured out, the papers were valuable to complete a record and establish a claim. The ferret faced man knew it, the young woman knew it, and the suave Mr. Perkins knew it. They were in cahoots to get possession, and not for one moment did Mr. Treadwell believe that any of them had a legal right to the documents.

He had read them over and over, and he sat pondering on the matter, when his bedroom door opened softly. He sat with his back to it, and the hour was almost evening. He heard nothing and had no premonition. The first he knew two hands gripped his throat and pulled him over backward on the floor. Then he looked up to find Mr. Perkins sitting on his chest and another man in the room.

"Don't kill the bloke!" whispered the other man. "The documents are right here under our noses, and we ought to be obliged to him."

Mr. Treadwell was not throttled to death. Mr. Perkins had evidently come prepared for such an event, but gave over grudgingly and slipped a gag into the mouth of his victim. Then he produced cords and strung him up so speedily and securely as to almost excite admiration. When he had finished his work he shoved the body aside, took a glance at the papers and shook hands with his coadjutor. The latter may have been in the same architectural line of business. Mr. Treadwell had ordered up a bottle of wine, but had forgotten to open it. The two men now saved him the trouble. It was good wine, and they smacked their lips over it and complimented the American. Then they winked at him, twiddled their fingers from the ends of their noses, and walked softly out.

It was three long hours before a walter looked in to see if the Yankee had jumped his bill and departed. Then Mr. Treadwell was untied and ungagged, a charge of sixpence extra placed against his name for being tied up and robbed, and when he went to the police and related the whole circumstance and asked that Mr. Perkins and the others be run down he was answered by the officer:

"Oh, go home and sleep it off! You are one of those buggy Americans who ought never to be allowed at large!" M. QUAD.

Dealing in "Cats and Dogs."

No antiquarian pursues a more profitable or fascinating calling than the dealer in "cats and dogs," as the antiquities of Wall street are dubbed. "Cats and dogs" are the remnants of old stock, bond and note issues of railroad, industrial or mining companies on which payment of interest, dividends or principal has been in default for years. Some of these securities are worthless and obsolete, some of doubtful value, while a few are worth their weight in gold. Only the expert in obsolete securities can detect their worth. Many of these securities can be picked up at the official auction room of Wall street. Many brokers closely scrutinize the securities that are offered at this auction room, and only a few months ago 100,000 shares of stock in a certain mining company were sold for a song, from which the broker hopes to realize a big sum.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Do you have backache occasionally, or "stitches" in the side, and sometimes do you feel all tired out, without ambition and without energy? If so, your kidneys are out of order. Take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They promptly relieve backache, weak back, inflammation of the bladder and weak kidneys. Sold by Brewer Drug Co.

Sorry He Spoke.

"Really, Miss Primm, you ought to get married," remarked Wedderly. "You'll soon be in the splinter class if you don't hurry up and catch on."

"Oh, don't worry about me, Mr. Wedderly," replied Miss Primm. "If I were as easy to please as your wife I would have been married long ago."—London Telegraph.

To Eva Richmond and F. L. Richmond, her husband; Viola Steinfeldt; Fletcher Coultter and ——— Coultter, his wife, and Guy Webber.

In the name of the State of Oregon, You and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the Complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before Saturday the 1st day of February, 1908, that being the last day for your appearance or answer by you, fixed by an order of this Court for the publication of this Summons, and that if you fail so to appear or answer, or want thereof the Plaintiffs will apply to the above named Court for the relief prayed for in their Complaint herein, to-wit: For the partition, and in case partition cannot be made, the sale of the following described lands and premises to-wit:—The North half of the South East quarter of Section 21, Township 8 South, Range 1 East of the Willamette Meridian in Marion County, Oregon, and containing 80 acres of land, more or less, and the distribution of the proceeds of such sale among the Plaintiffs and Defendants herein according to their respective interests in said above described real property as set out in their Complaint now on file herein.

This Summons is published for six consecutive weeks in THE STAYTON MAIL by order of the Honorable William Galloway, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Marion, which said order was made at Chambers, in the City of Salem, in Marion County, Oregon, on the 17th day of December, 1907, the first publication being ordered to be made on the 29th day of December, 1907, and the last publication on the 31st day of January, 1908, and the Defendants being required to answer and comply with the same on or before the 1st day of February, 1908.

A. O. CONDT,
Attorney for Plaintiffs.

FROM THE ANTILLES.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY BENEFITS A CITY COUNCILMAN AT KINGSTON, JAMAICA.

Mr. W. O'Reilly Fogarty, who is a member of the City Council at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies, writes as follows: "One bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had good effect on a cough that was giving me trouble and I think I should have been more quickly relieved if I had continued the remedy. That it was beneficial and quick in relieving me there is no doubt and it is my intention to obtain another bottle." For sale by Brewer Drug Co.

She—Oh, look at that scarecrow out there in the field!

He—That isn't a scarecrow.

She—It must be. See how motionless it is.

He—That's a man working by the day.

BAD STOMACH TROUBLE CURED.

Having been sick for the past two years with a bad stomach trouble, a friend gave me a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They did me so much good that I bought a bottle of them and have used twelve bottles in all. Today I am well of a bad stomach trouble.—Mrs. John Lowe, Cooper, Maine. These tablets are for sale by Brewer Drug Co.

Some Other Fellow's.

"With $100,000," said the man of expansive ideas, "I could make a fortune in Wall street."

"Yes," replied the pliker, "but whose fortune would you make?"—Washington Star.

A CURE FOR MISERY.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at Brewer's drug store.

How It Affected Him.

Mrs. Myles—When are you coming to call on us?

Mrs. Styles—Oh, I really don't know! "But you said you'd come soon and bring your husband?"

"I know I did, and I asked him last night to come over, and he said he'd like to dream over it, and, do you know, dear, he had an awful nightmare last night!"—Yonkers Statesman.

It is for want of application rather than Rochefoucauld.

THE PRICE OF PEACE.

The terrible itching and smarting, incident to certain skin diseases, is almost instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. Price, 25 cents. For sale by Brewer Drug Co.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.
Bottles only. Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc.
Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., CHICAGO.
