SALEM MEN COMING.

To-morrow night a delegation from the Salem Board of Trade will be in Stayton, and a meeting will be held at the City Hall, commencing at 7:30, for the purpose of discussing the building of an Electric road from this place to Salem. The delegates from the Salem Board are W. Y. Richardson, E. Hofer, J. Frank Hughes and Aug. Huckestein. We do not know what plan, if any, the Salem people have, but it is hoped that there will be a large turn out of business men and citizens, whether members of the Club or not.

The Silvertonian—Appeal a short time ago stated that Silverton would have an electric line before Stayton, and from what we learned in Portland yesterday this seems very probable, unless Stayton gets busy. Let us have a good turn-out of men willing to do something for their town.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The writer came to Stayton last December and engaged as pastor of the Baptist church for three months, which time expires next Sunday. Whether or not I remain longer is yet to be decided, but next Sunday morning, no preventing providence, I will speak on the subject

STAYTON AND I.

Everybody invited. No services in the evening on account of the Union Temperance meeting in the Christian church to which all are invited. Will say I am much pleased with Stayton and have been royally treated by everyone and am grateful for the many kindnesses shown.

A. H. CARMAN.

A writer in the Scientific American declares that he effectually put an end to the depredation of hawks in his poultry yard by fastening an old scythe, ground to a razor edge, with the sharp end down, on a high pole set in the edge of a field near his yards. The hawks, as is their habit, lit on the scythe, grasping it with their claws, with the result that their feet were badly cut. This angered them and they attacked the scythe, literally tooth and toenail, and of course got the worst of it. Every hawk that came along met with a like reception, and within a short time they were either killed or driven away.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

Mrs. McKinney and class will give a musical recital at the opera house, Friday evening, April 3rd. SPRAYING TREES.

There will be a great many better trees in the country after this with a corresponding increase in better fruit and less of the worthless, scrawny kind, because of the new enterprise of the Gideon Stolz Company in manufacturing Dependable Brand of lime and sulphur spray. The demand for this splendid spray has been enormous, one reason being that people knew it was dependable, being made from a formula supplied from the Experiment Station of the Oregon Agricultural College. There is still a great demand for the spray, and many orchards have not as yet been touched, and the owners of such orchards should call at the store and examine this spray and get prices. It is for sale by Brewer Drug Co.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

One day this week a change occurred in the firm of Sestak & Stowell, Mr. Stowell being the retiring member. The new firm will be Sestak & Sons, Louis and Wm. Sestak taking an interest with their father. Both these young men are enterprising and industrious and well posted in the business. This is one of the most up-to-date markets in the state, and the new firm will see that it is kept so.

Mr. Stowell hasn't decided yet on any future business.

R. C. Payne, of Fresno, Calif., visited at the home of H. E. Wirth, several days this week. He came here with the expectation of making Stayton his home, but was called back to Fresno by a telegram announcing the serious injury of his father. He will probably return to Stayton later to remain. Mr. Payne is a live young business man, such as Stayton desires to welcome. It was his intention to have met with the Stayton Commercial Club, but was called away. The members of the Club regret that he could not have met with them before he left, and hope he may soon return and become one of them.

Delmer Caldwell and John Blakely spent a few days of this week in Dallas.

Horse Show.

The date for the big Horse Show in Stayton has been set for Saturday, March 28th. There will be a lot of fine animals exhibited.

Only an Office Boy.

"If you want a ready-to-hand study in the downright cussedness of human nature unwarped," said an insurance agent, "just watch the office boys in your own or any other place of business. In four cases out of five the thing will come out this way: "A new boy is engaged. He is meek and mild, apologetic of bearing and courteous of speech. He is apparently seeking an excuse for daring to make a living. He looks reproachfully at the head office boy, who orders him around in a rough, catch-as-catch-can style. Such rudeness pains him. "Note this boy a little later. His rude superior has resigned or been dismissed, and he is now head office boy. Is he meek and mild, apologetic and reproachful? Say, he's a worse young ruffian than his predecessor—bullyrags the newcomer, ignores the cuspidor, uses language not fit to print and comes dangerously near 'sassing' his employer. He knows it all, and a little more. "There are exceptions, but they prove the rule."—New York Globe.

A Big Grasshopper.

A geographical expedition which set out for Australia on an exploring and mapmaking tour had engaged a negro cook, who took great interest in everything he saw. While the party was en route a kangaroo broke out of the grass and made for the horizon with prodigious leaps, an event that interested the colored gentleman exceedingly. "You all have pretty wide meadows hereabouts, I reckon," he said to the native who was guiding the party. "Not any larger than those of other countries," returned the guide most politely. "Well, there must be mighty powerful high grass roundabouts, heh?" he insisted. "Not that I know of," replied the guide. "Why do you ask such odd questions?" "Why, I'll tell you, boss. I was thinkin' of the mighty uncommon magnitude of them grasshoppers."—Kansas City Independent.

Kept Busy.

One of the contemporary poets asks, "Where are the bright girls of the past?" Our own observation is that some of them are administering cautious doses of paregoric to the bright girls of the future.

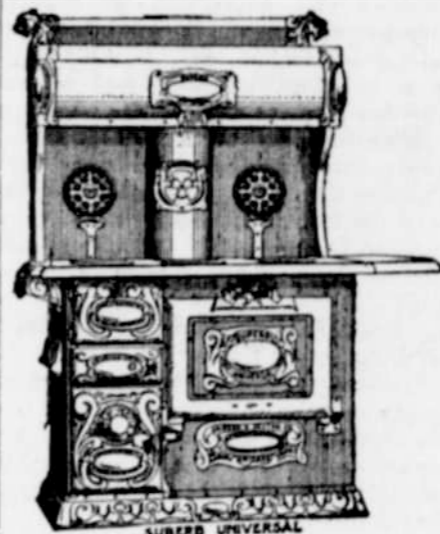

The W. F. Klecker Store is the Creator of the "One Price Way."

There are many things about this young store that will vitally interest you. Some people told us we couldn't make a success of this store by having a "guaranteed one price" on good clothing. They argued that the sliding scale price plan had been in operation in this city for so long a time that the people could not get accustomed to any other method. But these people underrated the intelligence of the public. That the public appreciates the advantage of buying "the one price way" when that price is the lowest in town, is shown by the manner in which the store is growing.

We also carry a full line of ladies dress goods, shoes, notions, and will gladly make your acquaintance in the one price plan.

Your friend,

W. F. KLECKER.
