W. A. Weddle Returns.

After having made a complete examination of the fruit cannery and evaporators in Monmouth and other towns, W. A. Weddle returned Friday. He is favorably impressed with the business end of the proposition and feels confident that Stayton is the proper place in which a cannery would pay well.

He says that he was very courteously treated by the proprietors of the various plants who also gave their expression of assistance in the establishing of a cannery in this section. We believe that a cannery would be well patronized here and with it would come a greater production of fruits of all kinds. At the present time there are tons of fine fruits going to waste for the need of something in which to can them.

This is a fine fruit section and irrigation is not necessary. Nature has favored this vicinity with everything needed in agricultural pursuits.

Burned With Gasoline.

On Friday last shortly after noon, Oliver Lesly son of Frank Lesly of this place met with a very painful accident.

While drawing gasoline from the tank in the auto to fill a gasoline iron, he got his hands greatly moistened with the liquid. He thought that he had sufficiently dried them before starting the gasoline iron, but the moment he struck a match there was an explosion, his hands and shirt sleeves being wet were in an instant a mass of flame.

The flame speedily went out but not before they had cooked the flesh on one hand along the lower portion, and scorched the other member badly. Dr. Beauchamp was called, and in a short time had the young man resting easily. Hopes are sustained for his speedy recovery but at the present time he is compelled to carry his arms in a sling.

TURNER.

SEPTEMBER 16TH.

Henry Barnette met with a very painful accident last night getting off the train. Thinking the train had stopped he alighted, but was thrown headlong, skinning up his face. Though not serious his injury is very painful.

J. A. Kelley has opened a meat market here.

A carrier pigeon was caught here by Messrs Robertson and Ransom. The bird had been turned loose at Chemawa, Sunday, September, 6th, but had lost its way and came here. The bird was owned by H. J. Wilson, of Portland.

We saw the editor of the Stayton Mail in town Wednesday in company with several others. They took passage on the north bound train. The train was so heavily laden that a box car was added here; it to was soon packed with Fair visitors.

O. H. P. Cornelius is reported as being very aggressive. Some one might call him.

Irvin Putman the chub fisherman went out last Sunday and caught six very fine trout. Good boy Irvin, go again.

Moves To Town.

Uriah Whitney, who has been farming near West Stayton is now a resident of Stayton. He had an auction sale a few days ago and after having disposed of his surplus chattels has taken up his abode in town. A fine new home awaited them in the north west part of town on First street. In order to take life easy they have added a splendid Lorain Range from Kerber Brothers also a Studebaker buggy from the same firm. We are glad to welcome Mr Whitney to town. This is only one among many who have proven that the agricultural pursuits properly followed in this section makes one able to enjoy the fruit of their labors in the eve of life, when they need comforts most.

Changes

Residence.

Rev W. F. Chase, and family who have been living on Third street for a short time are now comfortably located in the dwelling formerly occupied by Chas Salt, previous manager of the Stayton Woolen Mill. Mr Chase and family are making many friends here and he is taking active interests in the promotion of business interests in the town.

Rev. A. H. Carman and wife of Scio were here over Sunday, returning Monday. He is the regular Baptist minister for this place and Scio.

There was a local committee left here Wednesday to visit the Milk Condenser in Amity. Several of the party remained in Salem to visit the Fair.

Born—Saturday, September 5th to the wife of J. H. Misler, a fine baby girl. Both are doing very nicely, but Jake is having a difficult time in staying at the shop lately.

There was a large delegation of citizens left early this week to camp in Salem to attend the State Fair. They find it more convenient to do that way rather than procure rooms.

The investigating committee sent by the citizens to look up the milk condenser proposition in Amity returned too late to submit their official report for publication this week.

We regret that we were so busy last week that we were unable to gather the Hotel Arrivals and with apologies to the proprietors we are yours truly,
THE EDITOR.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boyd, of Baker City, were guests of A Hill last week. They were however disappointed in not having seen Mrs. Hill who was at the time ill in Mill City.

Mr. Clyde of Marion and Mr. Miller were visitors in our town early this week. Mr. Miller was on his way to the State Fair at Salem. He is a resident of Shelburn and owner of the land upon which Shelburn is situated, that is he at one time owned all of the land now used by the Shelburn site.

Andrew Cornish and family and Albert Rabens returned from the Boist-n-bush Hot Springs, they report a pleasant trip although the fishing and hunting was very poor in the immediate vicinity of the springs, but farther back the fishing was very good.
