

THE LOCAL FIELD

Horseshoe Camp

Meets every 2d and 4th Monday night. Choppers welcome. E. B. WATERS, Clerk. O. V. MYERS, C. C.

Miss Dena Roy was a visitor in Albany over Sunday, calling upon friends. She returned home early this week.

M W Hunt who resides on a very fine farm near Sublimity, in the Waldo Hills country was a business visitor in town Monday.

Father Laineck was a Stayton visitor Saturday last and held low mass in the church here on Sunday. A very large attendance was reported.

Rev A H Carman, pastor of the Baptist churches of Scio and Stayton was in town Saturday, and held services in his church morning and evening.

C W Tebault, who has been working in the interest of a milk condenser for this place after making a brief stay here returned home Saturday to Albany.

J. C. Sill who represents the Willamette Manufacturing Company of Salem was in town this week on business. He is much impressed with Stayton and its future prospects.

W. F. Chase has accepted a position in the W. E. Thomas & Son grocery. This is the first case on record where Cole gave Chase to Thomas. The official time has not been reported.

Joe Mielke of Salem is in town for a few days visiting his brother John Mielke and calling upon old time friends. Joe recently left this place and engaged in business in Salem.

B. Prange, proprietor of the general merchandise store in Sublimity, accompanied by a friend Mr McKinney, were business visitors last Saturday. We are pleased to acknowledge a call.

Thomas Smith who has been working at Sidney, putting in head gates was in town over Sunday, but left Monday for Salem where he will be busy for the Salem Ditch company for several days.

Mr Cradlebaugh, a Nevada mining man has been in town several days recently in the interest of the Santiam Mining District, but more especially the Freeland properties. He made a business trip to Portland early this week.

We print calling cards, invitations, posters, counter pads, checks, stock books and in fact we are able to supply all demands for strictly first class high grade work in all lines. We respectfully solicit your patronage, The Mail.

Special Sale October 10th till November 1-08. We have a few Buggies, Surries and Farm Wagons left which we will offer at the lowest Factory prices. Now is the time to buy if you want a bargain. Chas Wesely, 35-39 Scio, Oregon.

While in Portland this week W. F. Klecker, one of our leading merchants met with an unprecedented bargain in the way of a job lot of strictly high grade shoes. His trip was a successful one and now the patrons of his store are to be given an opportunity of replenishing their needs in the shoe line at an early date.

THE MAIL is just in receipt of the O A C Barometer and we are glad to welcome it to our desk. It is bright, newsy, full of snap and we trust it will be a source of great pleasure to every parent having a child enrolled at O A C as well as to those interested in the advancement of education generally.

We will sell all our Buggies and Wagons at Factory prices, from Oct. 10 till Nov. 1 08. If you need anything in this line be sure and see us before you buy. We give you bottom prices that no one can offer the goods any cheaper. Factory prices, remember what that means. Chas Wesely, 35-39 Scio, Oregon.

Thomas W Tuttle and J B Bradshaw of Mill City were in town Monday and returned Tuesday. Mr Tuttle is a journeyman printer, but has not followed his profession for the past three years. He resides on a ranch at present. His prime object in coming to town at this time was for the purpose of paying a visit to Dr Pintler, our dentist.

E P Heger, of Aumsville was a very pleasant caller at the office Saturday. He like a great many of our local people are preparing themselves to keep the nimrod from killing their stock when going after the game birds which frequent this section. Very few of our people object to the local people getting an occasional bird, but they do oppose, and rightly so, the professional nimrod who cares for nothing but to discharge his fuzee, caring not where its contents penetrate. Scores of fine stock are injured and many killed each year by careless hunters.

SCHOOL NEWS.

School opened with a registration of 135 pupils. They are still registering as this goes to press.

The present staff of instructors are: Miss Cornelia, prin., $70 per month. Miss Nora Crabtree, grammar grade, $60 per month. Miss Grace Crabtree, teacher intermediate, $50 per month. Miss Shepherd teacher primary grade, $50 per month. Miss Cornelia was offered $85 per month to leave the field in Stayton and take principalship elsewhere. We are glad that she decided to stay with us. We need an enthusiastic leader.

The directors of the school, James Gardner and Mr. Shepherd were present on Monday morning, Sept. 28th to greet the teachers and pupils at its beginning.

The chairman of the board has not returned from his trip to the Hot Springs.

The flag again floats over the school house. The merry voices of the children at play fill the air with pleasant sounds of joy and laughter.

The school rooms and hall ways have been painted, and two new floors have been put in the lower rooms.

The side walks have been made nearly new, and other improvements have been made on the outside.

Over thirty applicants for High School work have been turned away on account of not having room for them.

With the graduating classes of the last two years from high school we lost some of our best workers. But we hope to profit by their helpful endeavors in the past and work on feeling that we still have their thought and best wishes for our success in the future.

Ethel Mack who passed from the tenth grade last year, could not stay away from school at its beginning, so she came and acted as private secretary in the enrolling of pupils.

Our motto this year, "Believe that we can do, and we will do."

Ninth grade yell:
Hobble gobble, zip boom bust!
What in the world is the matter with us?
We're the Highs entered this year
Get out of our way,
We want the track clear.
Eighth grade yell:

Higgle de! Wiggle de!
Zip! Boom! Bah!
We're the 8th graders!
Yah! Yah! Yah!
You don't know us?
Well, it isn't to late
We're the class of 1908!

Motto of Grammar grade, "We excel."

Thirty five pupils 12 boys 23 girls, very enthusiastic pupils.

Miss Grace Crabtree has an enrollment of forty pupils.

The primary plans will be given later.

A society will be organized on Friday in the higher grades. Parliamentary Law will be studied, debates, writing and recitations will be largely looked after and music will have its place.

Thursday morning, a quartette composed of Everette Gardner, Harvey Beauchamp, Mable Gardner and Lettie Weddle with Malana Sestak at the organ sang "Love makes the Home."

BOUTTELL ON BRYAN.

Is His "Shall the People Rule?" Simply "a Local Issue?"

Congressman Henry Sherman Bouttell of Chicago, commenting on Mr. Bryan's speech in Iowa, says:

Mr. Bryan's question, "Shall the people rule?" implies that somewhere in this country the people do not rule. The only States where the people do not rule are the States that are expected to give overwhelming majorities for the Democratic ticket. Perhaps Mr. Bryan thinks that his question is purely "a local issue." If he is sincere, I challenge him to make a speech in Vicksburg, Miss., on "Government by the People." Let him repeat one of his famous anti-imperialist speeches, simply changing three words, substituting "Mississippi" for "Philippines" and "black brothers" for "brown brothers." Let him suggest that we have as chairman of his meeting John Sharp Williams, leader of the Democrats in Congress, and as vice-chairmen the other members of the Congressional delegation from Mississippi.

And after he has made his speech in Vicksburg, if he should have escaped the rule of the people in that community, I dare Mr. Bryan to repeat his oration on popular government in Charleston, S. C., with Senator Tillman as chairman of his meeting. Mr. Bryan's sentiments have a purely geographical sincerity. His epigrams and startling contradictions are especially designed to meet local demands. Of this nature are all his views on tariff and taxation.

Mr. Bryan's proposition that every time a trust is formed a tariff schedule should be repealed, and every time a trust is dissolved a new duty should be added, is too funny even for comic opera.

If on March 4 next Mr. Bryan should become President, with a Democratic Congress in both houses, and should actually place upon the statute books the financial and economic vagaries delivered by him in his speech of last Friday, it would plunge the nation into bankruptcy and bring on industrial chaos. If he should begin by repealing the duty on sugar to punish the sugar trust, he would upset the national finances by losing $60,000,000 a year in revenues, and would stir up a revolution in Louisiana, Utah, Colorado and Michigan. Then, if he should repeal the duty on cotton goods, because some hustling manufacturers of New England or the Carolinas were dumping goods in China in rivalry with England and Germany, he would divert other millions from the treasury and invite still further industrial ruin.

But, of course, Mr. Bryan would do none of these things, any more than he will invade the solid South and summon the cohorts of Democracy to the defence of the Constitution with the battle cry "Shall the People Rule?" Mr. Bryan simply does not mean what he says. What he utters with Chaddanianunction in the North he repudiates with Pecksniffian duplicity in the South.

Campaign of Education.

In the great battle of 1896 the Republican party again stood for the maintenance of the integrity of the nation. The fight was against odds produced by a great industrial depression, and against the most sophistical arguments. The Republican party maintained a campaign of education among the wage-earners and the farmers, which ultimately led to the complete defeat of this second financial heresy which has threatened the integrity of our business structure.—Hon. Wm. H. Taft, at Kansas City, Mo.
