TWO BROTHERS MEET THREE SISTERS AFTER SEPARATION OF 27 YEARS

Reunion group at Stayton, Or., at home of Mrs. David Reese.

Sunday was a gala day for the Me-Cannon brothers, of Iowa, when they called upon their sisters, Mesdames Reese, Houser and Jarvis, of North Santium. The brothers and sisters had not met in 27 years. The brothers are west on a visit and are greatly pleased with this section, but will return to their homes in Iowa, as they are comfortably located there. Quite a number of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. David Reese.

Klumb Echoes.

Our fair weather continues. Many of the farmers are busy seeding, while others, who were not fortunate enough to get their plowing done are anxious for rain, the lack of which has delayed their work somewhat.

Co Judge Bushey did some surveying in our vicinity on Saturday.

Mr and Mrs H A Siegmund and Miss Caroline Siegmund have gone to Gervais to visit relatives. Miss Caroline will remain indefinitely.

Miss Bertha Titze has gone from our midst. She goes to Wardner, Idaho, where she and her sister will enter business.

Last Friday, Mr and Mrs Lake of near Stayton visited the Siegmund homes.

The Klumbites are boosting for the big dance to be given in Mehama on Oct 9th. It is the first of the season in our neck of the woods, and should be well attended. Cheer up boys happier times may come.

Mr and Mrs H A Siegmund visited at C R Rabens on Sunday. Mrs Raban is a sister of Mrs Siegmund and lives in Lyons.

Among the "Echoes" we recognize the names of L E Burnette of Silverton and G E Berringer of Mehama, also Mrs F A Mariels of Fox Valley. The latter is visiting her uncle Wm. Imber.

Misses Caroline and Mathilda Siegmund spent Saturday afternoon in Lyons.

Our boys, members of the Wolf Club are responding to call No 3. Said call having been made by A A Richard of Mehama who recently brought in a wolf scalp. The members of the Club are always prompt in answering calls and we hope that the enthusiasm for hunting will not lag.

Jos Etzel, Sr. has gone to Salem and Portland on business.

F A Siegmund took the traction engine to the Berringer farm where he thrashed a crop of grain for Berringer Bros.

P C Freres has been spending the past few days gathering his crop of prunes. He will haul them to Stayton to be dried.

J A Richards of Mehama visited at the home of his son, J F Richards, recently.

The clover hulling is done now in our neighborhood. The crop of clover seed was a good one, and owing to the favorable season, this new enterprise has been a success in every way.

SCHOOL NEWS.

The noblest sight this world offers is a young man or woman bent upon making the most of his or her life.

Clyde Bressler, Guy Sloper, Clifford Stayton and Ruby Sandman registered in the 8th grade and Henry Huntly in the 7th on Monday.

Rev. Hunsaker, of McMinnville, gave us a pleasant call Monday.

Roxey Stayton made a hurried call at school on Friday. Roxey is a graduate from the 10th grade of last year. She said, "I could not pass without coming up and taking a peep."

The ninth grade are starting out in splendid colors. There are two examples in algebra that require mathematical knowledge of signs and careful work on the part of the pupil after he knew the how. All classes usually come to a sudden halt for a short time, but so far some member would come out victorious. This new class faced the difficulty bravely. All were working earnestly and thoughtfully when Mae Crabtree came out victor. The boys are still working and won't give up. Stick-to-it—boys.

The seventh grade are perfect in punctuality and attendance.

The Grammar Department will organize a Literary society this week. They are enjoying the freshly painted wall.

The Fourth Grade were perfect in attendance the first week.

Norvill Eskew, Constantine Mertz and Lefa Hill registered in the Intermediate room this week.

The primary room all show great interest and the prospects are good for a splendid year work. Come and see the little ones.

We appreciate our clean walls and doors. We thank the board and taxpayers for making it possible to remedy some of the needs of the public school.

An Experimenting Committee consisting of Milca Roy, Mable Gardner, Stephen Taylor and Everette Crabtree from the 8th grade, performed a single experiment in Agriculture, by which the class saw "How water rises in the Soil." The class discovered by observation that water rises more slowly in some soils than in others. The experiment was a success.

We had the pleasure of holding our first meeting of the Entre Nous society on Friday. The Entre Nous society was organized in October 1907. The first president was Etta Gentry and the first secretary was Glen Porter. The society grew rapidly and soon became a worthy contestant for honor in the school. Miss Cornelius and G H Ramsey were our critics during the year just passed, and they contributed largely to the success of the society by their kind advice and liberal assistance. Last Friday an election of officers was held. Guy Kearns has the
