

The Regular Meeting

of the Commercial Club will be held Friday night in the Odd Fellows' Hall. Every member is earnestly requested to be present, as business of importance needs prompt attention and hearty cooperation of all members is desired.

Ladies Improvement Club Hold Regular Meeting

The Ladies Improvement Club met in the parlor of the Stayton Hotel on Tuesday afternoon. It was a beautiful springlike afternoon and only two of the Club's members were absent, both of whom had good and sufficient excuses. There were nine visitors. Mesdames R.L. Morton, H.E. Wright, Willis Caldwell and F.I. Jones were elected to membership.

After the business meeting a short program was recondored.—Mrs H.A. Beauchamp favored the audience with a piano solo, "Simple Confession." Mrs. A. L. Shreer read an article on "Shall parents allow children to have pets?" Mrs. Cahler favored by playing a selection on the piano. Mrs. Frank Leslie recited, "An Inventor's wife." Mrs. Lee Tate read a very appropriate selection full of good that and Mrs. F. G. Conley sang "The Song That Reached My Heart."

Nuts and penoche were served and the ladies enjoyed a half hour in a social visit after which they adjourned to hold the next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Beauchamp.

Among the visitors present was Grandma Darbey who is 82 years old. Grandma is one of the oldest residents of Stayton and the club was indeed pleased to have her present to meet with them.

Put Stayton on the Map

Opportunity knocks once. It is knocking now at Stayton's door.

With the coming of the Alaska-Yukon Fair and the low rates offered by the railroads to the Eastern travelers to come west, many homeseeker and capitalists will take advantage to see the West and most of them will settle some where on the Pacific coast. Will Stayton get its share?

By a systematic effort on the part of its two Clubs for progression, Stayton can be put on the map and new people can be brought here.

There is no reason why Stayton should not grow to be one of the foremost towns of the Willamett Valley if its citizens desire.

A small amount expended in good literature to be distributed at the Oregon Building of exhibits would bring forth rich fruit.

The writer is sure the auxiliary club will do its share in getting a fund for this purpose and if the other body will will raise a like fund Stayton need not go unrepresented at the fair.

What will be done for this proposition between now and June 1st.
