COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

All correspondents are requested to sign their contributions, that we may know exactly from whom all items are received. The signatures are desired not for publication, but simply for our own convenience. Correspondents will greatly oblige us by following this practice in preparing their items.

We allow a liberal commission on all subscriptions, and correspondents will find it profitable to spend a little spare time in canvassing. At present we are publishing items from two or three communities which are hardly represented on our subscription list. Unless our lists for these places increase soon, we shall be forced to discontinue the news notes of these localities. We aim to make it well worth an agent's time to assist in building up our circulation. Write or call for particulars and sample copies.
