LOCAL MERCHANT WINS EASTERN BRIDE

THE YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED MONDAY

J. W. Mayo Of Stayton And Miss Marcia Stewart Of Lincoln, Nebraska Wedded In Portland

Many of the friends of John W. Mayo will be pleased to learn that he and Miss Marcia Stewart of Lincoln, Nebraska were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. B. Day, at 1154 Ellsworth Street, Portland, Oregon, Monday, June 30.

The wedding was a quiet and unostentatious affair, only immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present.

The house was prettily decorated for the occasion and June smiled her bravest for the happy pair. The Rev. McCullough performed the ceremony, after which the entire party repaired to the Oregon Hotel, where the wedding breakfast was served at high noon.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of J. M. Stewart, a prominent lawyer of Nebraska's capital. She has spent several seasons on the Coast, where she became acquainted with Mr. Mayo.

While the groom has lived but two years in Stayton, he is a native son, and is well known and well liked by everyone. He is the principal owner of the Thomas-Mayo Mercantile Company, and although but a young man, is one of Stayton's most enterprising and substantial citizens.

The young couple went to Gearhart By The Sea for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home to

TRASK BUYS AUTO TRUCK

It has been reported that the Union Meat Co. of Portland is the owner of the new Auto truck that is in Stayton. Gus Trask says that it belongs to him individually, and that he is ready at any and all times to do any kind of hauling with it.

RANGERS TO BE MADE GAME WARDENS

The United States forestry service and the state game wardens will cooperate for the protection of game, as well as of the forests under an agreement recently entered into between State Game Warden Finley and District Forester Cecil. The agreement provides that rangers, assistant rangers and other officers may be appointed deputy game wardens. They will report all violations of the game laws within their respective districts and will also make arrests in cases which come under their personal observation, except during the fire season. On the other hand, the regular deputy game wardens will extinguish any small fires they may discover and all such fires will be as promptly as possible reported to the forest officers in charge of the district.

The pastor of the Methodist church will next Sunday morning speak about the conversion of an honest sinner, and in the evening, will continue his series of sermons on Pilgrim's Progress.

Washington, July 1—Government today began issuing postal savings bonds in place of postal savings accounts. Interest is paid at rate 2 1/2 per cent per annum; bonds redeemable at pleasure of Government year after issuance.

Their friends in Stayton. The out-of-town people who attended the wedding were: J. M. Stewart of Lincoln, Nebraska, S. C. Stewart and wife of Lebanon, S. L. Stewart of Stayton, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stewart and Donald Stewart of Halsey.

We feel sure that all the readers of The Mail will join us in wishing Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mayo a long, happy and prosperous life.

CITY COUNCIL MET ON TUESDAY NIGHT

LIQUOR LICENSE WAS RENEWED

Mayor Cast Deciding Vote Two Times—Recorder's And Treasurer's Reports Accepted

The City Council met in regular session Tuesday evening July 1, with the full membership present.

About the first thing up was the application of Smith & Schott for a renewal of their liquor license. On a vote it turned out as usual, Murphy and Roy voting no, Blakley and Spaniol voting yes and the mayor deciding it by a vote of yes.

A. C. Stowell was placed on the "black" list by a vote of Murphy and Roy, yes; Blakley and Spaniol, no and the mayor again deciding it by voting yes. Lee Brown & Sons were ordered to vacate Water St., where their lumber sheds are built on the street, by September 1.

The usual number of bills were allowed and ordered paid. The quarterly reports of the Recorder and the Treasurer were read and approved and the Recorder's report ordered published in the Mail.

After considerable discussion on different subjects including the advisability of a new Charter etc., the council adjourned.

Guy Sloper was home from Portland over the Fourth.

O. J. Ruble brought in a sample of Perfection currants that were dandies. Mr. Ruble has a nice plot of this beautiful fruit which is just beginning to bear.

GOES TO WASHINGTON

Andrew Rauscher and his son Joe left for Goldendale, Wash. yesterday, where he will look after his croo on his 400 acre ranch at that place. Andy says that there is a good crop in that district. He will be gone a couple of weeks.

DEFEATED 7 TO 8 IN SUNDAY'S GAME

About thirty Stayton ball players and fans went to Silverton last Sunday to give the boys of that town a chance to even up the score of a defeat here several weeks ago.

The game was a fast one, and although the final score showed 7 to 8 in favor of Silverton, the locals would undoubtedly have won out but for the crippling of two of Stayton's players in the middle of the game. Frank Van Nuys and John Thoma came together while after a high fly, and VanNuys was so seriously injured that he could not be brought to his home near West Stayton until the next day. Harve Beauchamp got a wrenched knee in the sixth inning.

It was a good game all around and had it not been marred by accidents, would have been won by the locals.

TAKES CHARGE OF POST OFFICE JULY 1

W. A. Elder took charge of the Stayton post office Tuesday, July 1. All his friends will be pleased to learn of his success and no doubt "Art" will make a good postmaster.

W. S. Watters the retiring postmaster has faithfully served the public nearly sixteen years. He was appointed in 1897, during McKinley's administration. "Cap" as he is familiarly called is getting well along in years. He is a member of the local G. A. R. having served nearly five years in the Union army.

NEARBY TOWNS ALL READY FOR CELEBRATION

STAYTON'S STREET CARNIVAL JUL. 11-12

Browning Amusement Company Will Help Entertain The Crowds Next Week In Stayton

The nearby towns are all preparing for a big time the Fourth.

Mehama will have an oldtime celebration and balloon ascension.

Sublimity is all ready for a crowd. Hon. W. H. Downing will deliver the oration and the Sublimity people will treat you right.

Jordan Valley is not to be behind hand this year, and will celebrate in a fitting manner with games, races and ball game.

Scio has advertised a large number of attractions and undoubtedly will come through.

Aumsville will have a Socialist picnic, but every one is invited to be there. W. F. Ries, the author of "Men and Mules" will speak. He is a master of wit and wisdom, and will tell you things you never dreamed of before.

Stayton has called of their celebration and will hold a two-day carnival July 11-12.

This was decided upon for several reasons, but principally because the nearby towns had advertised celebrations, and the fact that we had the chance of securing the Browning Amusement Company on the above dates.

The Browning Amusement and Carnival company has four large tents and a company that is not often duplicated. Their Riding Gallery alone cost over $5000.

Wonder Land contains many of the mysteries of Mother Nature and should be visited by all means.

Minstrel Show and Vaudeville will be going all the two days, while the Electric Vaudeville is something entirely new and novel.

There will be two Free Shows each day of high wire artists in death defying stunts.

In addition to all of the above there will be two fast ball games, while all the races that had been advertised for the Fourth will be pulled off. These include all manner of racing, jumping, swimming etc., for valuable prizes.

Be sure and come to Stayton at least one of the two days, Friday and Saturday, July 11-12.

John Zimmerman of Sublimity made a business trip to Stayton Tuesday.

Geo. Zimmerman of Sublimity visited at the John Kerber home Sunday.

SUNDAY REUNION

Those who visited at the John A. Lulay home on Third Street, Stayton, last Sunday were; Mrs. A. J. Mayer and daughter Magdalena of Linn county, Adam Lulay and family of Linn county, Joseph Lulay and wife of Stayton, Mrs. Eva Gooderham and son Henry of Stayton, Jas. Breitenstein and wife of Sublimity and A. Rieger of Stayton.

EASTERN OREGON STOCKED WITH CATTLE

Through the interest of Harney County National Bank, the ranges of that section of the state are to be stocked with high grade cows, representatives having been sent into the Middle West for the purpose of purchasing high grade Holsteins. The bank has received notice that 77 head of fine young cattle have been secured and will be shipped into the county within a few days. Until this Summer Burns has had to depend on outside points for its butter, a condition which will doubtless be corrected in the near future.

Mr. Mayer and son of Linn county were in town Tuesday.

EFFORTS MADE LAST SEASON A SUCCESS

At the annual convention of the Oregon State Bankers' Association, held recently at Corvallis, the progress made in agricultural development and education during the past year was carefully reviewed. Reports from all over the state indicate that the effort made last season to interest the school children, as well as their parents, had met with remarkable success, enabling the association to hold fairs in every county in the state except two at which the various articles made and the products grown by the children were exhibited. At these county gatherings the finest specimens were selected and forwarded to the State Fair at Salem where the children were awarded prizes in an amount aggregating $20,000.

It was pointed out that under the provisions of Senate Bill 72, passed at the recent session of the Legislature, the counties of the state are authorized to provide an unlimited amount of money for the purpose of carrying on educational farm work and to pay the salaries and expenses of field agents, with a further provision that appropriations made by the individual counties will be duplicated by the state. From the splendid reports coming in from all over the state to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and to the Agricultural College, the Bankers' Association was convinced that it could not afford to discontinue their support of the movement until such time as it could be taken over and carried forward by the state.

INVESTIGATE FOREST RESERVE LANDS AND SOIL

The Forest Service department has recently taken up the work of reclassification of lands in the national forest reserves with a view to opening up for settlement such agricultural lands as may now be included within the reserve boundaries. Under the plan for this work the bureau of soils will determine what soils are agricultural in character, experts of the forest service will determine whether or not the value of the timber or such lands is greater than the agricultural valuation, and if not, any lands which are found valuable for agricultural and not needed for public purposes will be immediately opened to settlement and entry under the homestead laws.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

The merchants of Stayton have decided to deliver goods but once a day, in the forenoon. No order for afternoon deliveries taken. Be sure and send in your orders before 10 A. M.
