The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

NOTABLES IN THE LIMELIGHT

Rev. Charles Stelzle, Labor Preacher and Sociologist.

Rev. Charles Stelzle, for ten years in charge of the social service work of the national Presbyterian church, has resigned his position as superintendent of the bureau of social service of the board of home missions in order to enter the broader field of general social service and church efficiency upon an undenominational basis. Mr. Stelzle will become a "consulting sociologist" for national church organizations, social service agencies and industrial enterprises. This is probably the pioneer effort in this direction, particularly with regard to religious organizations. Mr. Stelzle is the machinist who became a preacher after twelve years' experience in the shop, for the purpose of trying to break down the antagonism existing between the workman and the church, and to introduce in the church in a national way, the principles of industrial efficiency. He organized the department of church and labor for the Presbyterians, the first bureau of its kind to be established by any denomination. Similar departments have since been organized by nearly a dozen of the leading denominations in the United States. One of the enterprises that he established for the purpose of talking out with workmen their own problems is the Labor temple in lower New York, in the most densely populated section in the city.

vessel is in command of Captain Robert Bartlett, who commanded Rear Admiral Peary's vessel, the Roosevelt, on Peary's journey to the north pole. With Captain Bartlett on the steam whaler Karuk, on which the expedition sailed, was Dr. Robert Anderson, codiscoverer with Stefansson of the blond Eskimos on Stefansson's last journey in the arctic.

Explorer Stefansson, who will join the Karuk at Nome, Alaska, her first stopping place, is enthusiastic over the expedition and the outlook and says that, while every reasonable precaution will be taken to safeguard the lives of the party, it is realized both by the backers of the expedition and the members of it that even the lives of the party are secondary to the accomplishment of the work. The expedition expects to be absent in the arctic probably three years and in that time to make discoveries of importance to several sciences.
