HEED THE WARNING

Many Stayton People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys up on the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they help weak kidneys to rid the blood of uric poison. There is no better recommended remedy.

Read the statement that follows:
Mrs. E. E. White, 303 N. Seventeenth St., Corvallis, Oregon, says: "My back and kidneys troubled me for quite awhile. Another of our family had had good results from Doan's Kidney Pills and I decided to try them. They were just what I need and rid me of kidney trouble in a short time. There has not been a symptom of the complaint since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. White had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Girl With Grit.

A spirited girl went into the employ of a man known as one of the princes of Philadelphia business.

"I wish to be your stenographer," she said. "But you don't know how to write shorthand," exclaimed the astonished business prince. "No," replied the girl, "but I shall know how in thirty days." "If you can write seventy-five words a minute inside of a month the job is yours," was the answer from the trade chieftain.

When the test came at the end of the month the girl wrote not only seventy-five but ninety words in a minute, and she got the job, which has developed into a sort of confidential secretaryship and lasted for more than twenty-five years. A business prince whom all Philadelphia honors told this story himself.—Philadelphia Ledger.

FLINT STONES WERE SCARCE.

Our War Office Had to Advertise For Them in 1776.

"The war office calls upon all persons who know where flint stones can be secured to notify congress."

Was there aught of prophecy in this brief appeal printed four days after the signing of the Declaration of Independence? A copy of the Pennsylvania Packet contains the advertisement. The newspaper bears date of July 8, 1776, and in the same column explains that the flints are to be used for rifles. And without the old flintlock there would have been no American independence—at least not for many more years after the Boston tea party. If indeed, the colonials unarmed could have mustered up courage to dump the lead lined boxes into the bay.

Further perusal of the old newspaper shows Jamaica rum and sugar were offered for sale by the hogshead; a reward of $0 was offered for the return of a horse that had strayed away from the range, and a woman who had lost two cows rushed into print with the statement that the individual who would lead the bovines home again would be remunerated to the extent of $4.

Sheriff's sales occupy a column and a half and the Packet's publisher takes space to announce "advertisements are thankfully received," adding that "unless subscribers pay their back dues at 10 cents a copy it will be impossible to continue publication after another month."

THANKSGIVING.

Come forth, come forth, to the festal board

As our sires were wont in the days of old;

The reapers are home with their harvest hoard,

The herds have hied to their wintry fold,

And the culivers of fruit our vaults have stored

With the wealth of the orchard's freight of gold.

—Hannah E. G. Arey.

Two Suits.

"Did you every try that tailor I recommended to you?"

"Yes. Too expensive. Got two suits from him—one dress suit, one lawsuit."

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

And Very Light in Weight.

A mother is always seeking a good match for her daughter, yet a good match is often merely a cheap stick with a head on one end of it.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Woman's Way.

Mrs. Crawford—Why don't you ask your husband's advice? Mrs. Crabshaw—I intend to, my dear, just as soon as I've made up my mind what I'll do.—Judge.

The Swiss Want a New National Hymn.

Switzerland is seeking a new national hymn in place of "Rufst du, Mein Vaterland," which is sung to the tune of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and "God Save the King." It is said that there is some intention of adopting a patriotic song, beginning "Hell dir, Mein Schweizerland," but whether this is to be sung to the same tune or a new one is to be evolved is not yet known.

Dogs of War.

Shakespeare's well known line in Julius Caesar, "Let slip the dogs of war," has now practical as well as figurative meaning, for both the French and German armies have war dogs, "les chiens militaires" and "die kriegshunde," as they are respectively called, which are trained to act as scouts, carry dispatches and help to succor the wounded.—London Chronicle.

Japan's Famous Teahouse.

As a part of its display at the Panama-Pacific International exposition Japan will bring the materials for a beautiful building that will be a reproduction of the famous teahouse at Kinkakeji, more than 1,000 years old, and one of the most exquisite examples of Japanese architecture in existence.

Four Footed Poultry.

A certain old man in the Wynchope settlement named Bickley was exceedingly fond of "big words." He was riding his horse over the country one bright spring day, apparently intent on some important business.

Whenever he met anybody he gravely asked: "Have you seen anything of any stray poultry today? I've lost mine and am hunting it." When they told him "No" he would proceed on his way.

After spending several hours in what seemed to be a vain search he at last rode up to the door of a farmhouse and called, "Hello!" A lady came to the door, and, doffing his hat very politely, the old man inquired if she had "noticed any stray poultry around?"

After a moment's thought the woman told him she had seen no chickens.

"Oh," he replied, "it's my boys that I've lost, not my chickens."—Youth's Companion.

Armenian Peasant Life.

Among the Armenian peasants the old patriarchal system prevails. The entire family of a score or two of people of several generations lives beneath a single roof. Together both men and women till the fields in a primitive manner, and when the grain is ripe, they take a sheaf to the roadside that the passing stranger may give a present and thus bless the crop. Their houses are of stone roughly laid or of mud, or frequently they are half underground, and from a distance their domelike roofs resemble the mounds of a prairie dog settlement.—Christian Herald.

Loomis Russell, Wallace and Nello Mack returned Saturday from the mountains where they were trapping.

W. J. Howitt and family ate dinner at the T. L. Sanders home Sunday. Mrs. Hewitt and Mrs. Sanders birthdays happen to fall on that day, hence the occasion.

Dr. Beauchamp reports two births this week, a boy, Nov. 26 to Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. McCully of Aumaville and a girl, Nov. 30 to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Berry of Lyons.
