SIRES AND SONS.

W. F. Murray, postmaster of Boston, is only thirty-three years old.

General Horatio Gates Gibson, the oldest living graduate of West Point, left the academy in 1847 at the age of twenty for service in the Mexican war.

Professor H. Julius Eggeling, professor of Sanskrit and comparative philology at Edinburgh university since 1875, has resigned his professorship on account of the war. Dr. Eggeling was born in Germany in 1842 and has a worldwide reputation.

Dr. W. A. P. Martin, who recently celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday, is the oldest Protestant missionary in China, having been engaged in his labors in that country for sixty-four years. In point of service it is believed that his record stands alone. He was born in Indiana.

Sir Edward Goschen, until recently British ambassador at Berlin, is of German ancestry, but was born and educated in England and married an American, the daughter of the late Rufus Clark of New York, who had immense interests in Argentina. Sir Edward Goschen is a banker, as were his father and grandfather before him.

Short Stories.

Holland pays old age pensions to more than 80,000 persons, who are over seventy years of age.

It is stated that no city in the world produces newspapers in such a variety of languages as New York.

In the per capita consumption of tobacco Holland leads the world, with Belgium second and the United States third.

Cameras that will photograph objects many miles away, the details of which are carefully guarded secrets, have been added to the equipment of the United States army signal corps.

Over 50,000 visits are made every year to the free clinics of the University of California medical school. During the past year the number of patients treated at the out department of the University hospital in San Francisco increased by more than 50 per cent.

Pert Personals.

Caruso entertained the idle of Rome by singing for them. In this country he gets paid for it.—Baltimore American.

George Bernard Shaw says the thinking public numbers less than 50,000. Shaw modestly refrained from telling as the names of the other three or four.—Detroit Free Press.

Adelina Patti, singing at seventy-two before the king of England, contributes her bit of evidence that not all the vigor and valor of the world are in its armies.—New York World.

Winston Churchill is being very much pulled and hauled these days, naked over the coals and panned. At least he seems to be no longer first lord of the admiralty.—New York Sun.

Echoes of the War.

A little trigger is a dangerous thing—Life.

Belgium will be one great iron mine when the cannonading is over.—Springfield Republican.

Some of the war critics are complimentary. They always refer to it as "civilized warfare."—Atlanta Constitution.

The actual assassin of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand gets off with twenty years in prison. Some way or other, the penalty on the rest of Europe seems out of proportion.—New York World.

SHARP AND SHORT.

There are few things more uncertain than life's certainties.

But it does seem rather queer not to have congress in session.

All things considered, there is no incentive to give history an encore.

There may be sermons in stones, but you don't get them out by stumping your toe.

Wild oats will take out of your soil what no system of crop rotation can ever put back.

The insurance of Westminster abbey is like making a money estimate of English history.

All that goes up has to come down, but it doesn't work the other way with a torpedoed cruiser.

Contentment cannot dwell where thoughts of what might have been are regularly entertained.

Those who have all the say in war do no fighting, and those who do all the fighting have no say.

A Detroit man has invented a suit of armor for army mules. It will take a brave soldier to act as valet.

It's a strange thing that usually the person who tells it first is the one who kicks most when a "secret" reaches the third party.

Edison says the war will leave the world as round as ever. But some-what scurred and scuffed in the north temperate zone.

If, as Judge Gary says, the war in Europe is merely a matter of dollars and cents, the participants are not getting the worth of their money.

Lyons and Fox Valley

Miss Marietta Thompson and Alva Grimes, both of this place were married in Albany on Monday this week. They were accompanied to the latter place by the bride's mother. The newly-weds made a short wedding trip after which they will be at home to their friends in Lyons.

H. C. Strom and wife were visiting in Lyons Sunday.

We have been having considerable fog up this way. It would be much more agreeable if it would clear up.

A party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stone Saturday evening, also another at Mr. and Mrs. Ed Trasks, both of Fox Valley.

Mr. Wiley is slowly improving.

Frank Johnston and wife ate dinner with Mrs. Woodworth Sunday.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Bleeding Gums.

Bleeding gums are one of the signs of scurvy, a dreadful disease, of which, happily, we hear less now than in the days when men had to take long voyages on sailing ships and could not get fresh food. Mild cases of it are found among children who have been fed on condensed milk only. As soon as these children are given a proper diet with fresh milk the gums cease to bleed and grow hard again. Many other constitutional disorders besides scurvy cause bleeding gums, but most cases are owing to local conditions and need to be treated by the dentist rather than by the doctor. If your gums bleed because you have discarded a soft toothbrush for a stiff one you can relieve the trouble by a mouth wash of salt and water or by putting a little myrrh in the water. If, nevertheless, the gums continue to bleed visit the dentist at once, for spongy gums soon cause loose teeth. In many cases he will find suppuration round the sockets of the teeth or between them.

It is possible for that to be the case, although the teeth themselves show no sign of disease. It can even happen to the most cleanly people, for the brush, even when conscientiously used, will not reach the affected spot. If neglected the condition is sure to lead to trouble, because the patient constantly swallows the poisons that are formed, to the detriment of his digestion and his general health.

That Saturday Night Line of Men at the Express Office

THERE'S a strong story in that, Williams—a story of what prohibition is doing for your town. Those men are spending a lot of money because you've tried to deprive them of their honest right to drink beer. That money's going to dealers just twenty miles from your town—not a cent of it ever comes back. It's a sure thing, too, that the express companies don't spend those heavy shipping receipts in your city.

It's the old story of prohibition, Williams. Close the respectable, well-conducted beer saloon and seek by legislation to rob men of their liberty, and you have a problem that never works out in favor of a town. You don't keep men from drinking. Refuse to sell them beer, which heretofore they have drunk moderately because they know it's the drink of True Temperance and beneficial and stimulating, and the stronger drink line bobs up. You send thousands of dollars out of the town that ought to be spent right there, and you encourage drunkenness and law-breaking.

Your town will wake up some day, Williams, like many another town that has been disillusioned.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
