"More Sinned Against Than Sinning"

A Drama in Four Acts

The scene is in Ireland and five years must be allowed to transpire between the first and second acts. It is supposed to have happened in 1876 and 1881.

Belhaven is to show forth the typical cruel and unscrupulous land agent of Squire Hilton of an illustrious family. Marmaduke or Duke, the son of the Squire, is wronged by his father, and persecuted by the land agent. Teddy O'Neil the latter's faithful friend assists and rescues him in his troubles. Major Lookout of the British Army instead of assisting Belhaven, suspects him, and assists in frustrating his schemes.

May 10, the anniversary of the discovery of the Columbia River by Capt. Gray, has been set aside by the management of the Panama-Pacific Exposition as "Columbia River day." The observance of this anniversary will come as a fitting climax to the week-long celebration of the opening of the Cello Canal.

From Washington comes the welcome tidings that the rivers and harbors of the Pacific Northwest have received an unexpected generous share of the $30,000,000 appropriated for work of that class. The total sum set aside for this section is $9,926,175, of which $1,500,000 is to be devoted to completing the improvements at the mouth of the Columbia. With the Cello Canal open to traffic and a clear deep channel across the Columbia Bar, the entire Columbia Valley is certainly in line for a long period of prosperity.
