Non-Tarnishing Steel.

Steel made by a new process and said to be non-rusting, unstainable and untarnishable has been brought out by an English firm. It is especially adapted to use in making table cutlery, the claim being made that it retains its polish indefinitely with use, even when brought in contact with acid foods. The cost of this steel is about double that of ordinary steel.

SUPERSTITIONS OF THE NATIVES OF INDIA.

Toad Soup as a Cure for Insanity Is One of Them-Caste Question Always of Profound Importance.

Hidden among the pages of statistics and maps in the 1911 general rebers, however, for the players are port on the census of India are some quaint stories of Indian beliefs and superstitions. Mr. O'Malley, who superintended the census taking in Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, tells us that the lower classes think that insanity is due to excess of bile in the system or to worms in the head.

"Neglect of the worship of the gods, or the curse of Yogi Sadhu or other holy man may produce it. Madness being due to possession by an evil spirit, every attempt is made to appease or exorcise it. The exorcists hold smoking chilles to the nostrils of the patient and chant mantras, addressing the spirit in obscene language, all with the idea of driving it away. When these means prove futile they prescribe a diet calculated to force the spirit to leave his victim in fear of losing his caste. The unfortunate patient has therefore to consume soup made of toads, etc. When these abominable nostrums fail the use of medicated oils and of indigenous herbs and drugs is resorted to." The medical treatment of the insane sometimes takes the following forms: "The mud taken from putrid tanks is plastered on the patient's head, or aloe pulp is mixed with water and applied in the form of an emulsion. A favorite remedy is soup made from a particular kind of frog." Again, the caste question is one which is of particular importance in many of the Eastern provinces, and it is told how one chief excommunicated the recalcitrants in one highly organized caste which had been split into two hostile camps, and so effectual and binding was this order that not only did the barbers, washermen and priests of the state, who had hitherto erved them, refuse to work for them, but the services could not be obtained even of barbers, washermen and priests residing outside the state. This order was strictly enforced for some time. The men of this caste are clean-shaven and very well groomed and dressed, but when the dispute was eventually settled the persons affected by the order had long, dirt-matted beards, the hair of their heads was in long strands and filthy is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.

Glass to Destroy Enemies-Material is Carefully Selected.

In a little attic workshop in Cleve land a twelve-year-old boy spends his spare hours turning out big, feroclouslooking "war" kites, which he sells to his playmates, says an exchange. The boy is Stuart Jenney, a seventh grade pupil. Stuart caught the war that the European powers had declared hostilities.

For several years he has been the most skillful kite maker of his district and had sold many kites to his playmates, but he has abandoned the conventional types for the fighting kind. the air, their long tails armed with jagged bits of glass designed to cut the cords of rival kites that are not maneuvered cleverly enough to dodge their foes.

For overparticular strategists Stuart designs and makes special warriors, collecting, of course, special prices for these models. He carefully selects the wood, linen and paper that go into their construction, and will not let a kite leave his "factory" until he has personally tested it.

China Needs Weather Bureau. The need of a weather bureau in China is emphasized by C. D. Jameson in his report to the American Red Cross on the measures which his personal observations in China indicate spirit almost from the day he read should be adopted to ameliorate the flood and famine conditions of that country. There are at present practically no rainfall statistics for the river basing most subject to floods, much less any organization for flood prediction. Torrential rains sometimes oocur in this region. In June, 1910, a local downpour in the vicinity of Szechow, lasting some 42 hours, is estimated to have amounted to 24 inches. The unofficial meteorological service of Zikawei observatory, extending along the coast and up the Yangtse valley is the nearest approach to a national weather bureau yet existing Temperature and Conductability. It has been known that some materials are better conductors of electricity than others, and now Professor Kamerlingh-Onnes of Leyden has discovered that at certain very low temperatures many metals which are conductors of electricity lose every trace of resistance to the current and become what he calls "superconductors." The finest wires of tin and lead do not become heated under the highest currents. It is strange that when the critical temperature is lowered even slightly the superconductivity ceases and the metal behaves as at other low temperatures.

The doggondest fool above ground is the man who tries to fool himself.

Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers-hundreds of them-are all genu-ine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true-if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.-"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."-Mrs. C. A. RICKRODE, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others-why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for fe-male ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this fa-mous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.
