TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY STORIES

And every story a good one. They are entertaining, but that is not all you can say about them. You know there is hardly a periodical published that is not full of time-wasting stories, but not a single story in The Youth's Companion is a time waster. Take the stories of C. A. Stephens. It would be hard to pick out one from which you cannot learn something useful and yet entertaining.

Some of The Companion stories refresh your knowledge of geography; some tell you the mysteries of chemistry; some reveal the secrets of forestry and of general farming. They cover a wide range. They are chosen with an eye to the possible likings of every member of a Companion family—stories of vigorous action and stirring adventure for boys, stories of college life and domestic vicissitudes for girls, stories that range all the way from sheer rollickery to deep seriousness for men and women. There are no stories quite like those in The Companion.

If you are not familiar with The Companion as it is to-day, let us send you sample copies and the Forecast for 1916.

New subscribers who send $2.00 for 1916 will receive free a copy of The Companion Home Calendar for 1916, in addition to all the remaining 1915 issues from the time the subscription is received.

STAYTON PEOPLE PRAISE SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many in Stayton praise the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. This remedy is the most THOROUGH bowel cleanser ever sold being even used successfully in appendicitis. ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. Adler-i-ka cannot gripe and the INSTANT action is surprising. V. Dare Sloper, druggist.

FROZE HER SKIN WHITE.

Doctor Recounts Effect of Ether on Colored Woman.

Chicago.—Dr. J. W. King of Bradford, Pa., told a number of his colleagues at a meeting how he turned a negro's skin white as the result of an accident. He treated a colored woman for lumbago by freezing one leg from the hip down to the ankle with ether.

"After a week or so," said Dr. King, "she returned to my office and said: 'Doctor, the lumbago is gone, but I think I shall have to prosecute you for mistreatment. You've done more than you said you would.'

"The leg I had treated was perfectly white and is so to this day."

Some of the doctors present agreed that ether freezing has been known to remove the pigments in the skin, but they say Dr. King's case is unusual.

NINETY-TWO; RECHRISTENED.

Many Tail Feathers is Grows New Teeth After Dentist's Visit.

San Francisco.—Chief Many Tail Feathers, ninety-two years of age and prominent in the Indian colony of the Great Northern railway's exhibit at the exposition, possesses a single tooth, gnarled and battered by many years' service.

"The white brother may have his teeth replaced, why not the Indian, to whom the great father in Washington promises all things that are good?" pondered the aged chief.

Many Tail Feathers conferred with Chief Bull Calf, and now that Many Tail Feathers has been measured up for a new set of pearls his tribe has rechristened him "Grows New Teeth."

IS OLDEST MESSENGER "BOY"

Snowy Haired Uncle John Speeds With Telegrams at Eighty-four.

Luling, Tex.—J. E. Palmer of this city probably enjoys the distinction of being the oldest messenger "boy" in the world. At the age of eighty-four he works for the Western Union from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., delivering messages from one end of the city to the other.

Palmer was born in Flemingsburg, Ky., Jan. 29, 1832, and fought all through the civil war. Uncle John, as he is better known, came to Caldwell county in 1856. He is snowy haired and slightly bent.

U. S. SUBMARINES ARE BUILT THE STRONGEST

Our Undersea Craft Beat Those of Other Nations.

Washington.—Whatever else may be said of the submarine torpedo boats of the United States, naval experts familiar with this type of craft are confident that the underwater boats of no other nation are built on stronger lines. In fact, naval officers say that none of the great world powers requires the construction of submarines to resist anything like the great water pressure that is required of American submarines.

Submarines built for the American navy must have hull strength sufficient to resist the pressure of the ocean at a depth of 300 feet. Before these delicate craft are accepted they must have withstood pressure at a depth around 210 feet, which is deemed sufficient, but must be strong enough to go much lower. British and German submarines are not required to stand pressure at 300 feet, the requirement usually running around 200 feet. German submarines, as a rule, are tested at a depth around 150 feet and those of the British navy sometimes at a greater depth.

Of all submarine defects those affecting the propelling engines have been most numerous and bothersome. The development of this type of engine has been very gradual. Until very recently, however, engine trouble has been of common occurrence in submarines, and the work of construction has been delayed more by engine defects probably than from all other defects combined.

For example, while the contracts for submarines usually call for delivery within two years, it has been understood at all times that the vessels could not be completed and delivered in that time, and the reason given always has been the engines. It is believed, however, that the submarine engines have been so far perfected that from now on delivery of the boats may be confidently expected within the contract period. Naval experts concede that Germany may have a superior submarine engine.

While deeply regretting the loss of the P-4, with its crew of twenty-two men, naval officers take pride in the fact that that was the only fatal accident to an American submarine, while similar accidents have happened to the submarines of the big European nations on more than one occasion.

But submarine cruising is hazardous at best. The structure of a submarine is necessarily delicate. Any one of many things might be responsible for wrecking an underwater boat.

Cow Prefers Pear Diet.

Hood River, Ore.—E. Reeve Claxton, an orchardist on the west side, has a cow that has been expensive to keep this summer. Mr. Claxton figures that the cost of the cow's feed, including fifty boxes of d'Anjou pears, has been about $112.50.

DISLOCATES ANKLE BY A BAD FALL

T. Rizzo while engaged in working on a telephone line in front of the Mail office last Saturday, fell with the pole on which he was strapped and dislocated his left ankle and fractured one of the bones of his leg.

The pole on which Rizzo was working was known to be rotted off at the bottom, but it had been braced with three pike poles and was considered safe, however, one of the pike poles broke and hence the fall. He was carried to Dr. Brewer's office, where his foot was placed in a plaster cast, and it will be some time before he is up and around again.

OLD-TIMERS VISIT SILVERTON

The many old-time friends of Aunt Mary and Uncle Chris. Eisenhart will be glad to know they were able to once more visit Silverton. Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfard drove over to Stayton Thursday morning and brought them over in their auto. This old couple have lived in this part of the country since 1851 and have a wide circle of friends. Uncle Chris, who has been under the doctors care for a long time, begged so hard to be allowed to visit Silverton again, that he obtained the doctor's consent to come for one day. They returned Thursday night.—Silverton Appeal.

YOUR KIDNEYS

Stayton Residents Must Learn The Importance of Keeping Them Well

Perfect health means that every organ of the body is performing its functions properly.

Perfect health cannot be enjoyed if the kidneys are weak and disordered. Thousands testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have a reviving action on weak kidneys.

What this remedy has done in so many cases of this kind is the best proof of its merit.

Read the following. It's testimony gratefully given by a resident of this locality:

Mr. A. Siefert, 509 Washington St., Dallas, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proven to be a fine medicine in our home and I have recommended them many times. They have given me good relief from backache and kidney trouble on several occasions. They have also helped others of my family."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Siefert had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
