WILSON'S SOCIAL SEASON TO BE GAY

Two Diplomatic Dinners Will Be Given to Avoid Friction.

NEUTRALS WILL BE GUESTS OF BOTH

Allies' Turn to Come First; Germany, Austria and Turkey Second—Other Dinners to Follow.

Washington, D. C.—President Wilson announced Monday a gay season for the coming winter. He and his bride will be the host and hostess at several receptions and dinners.

Among these dinners will be two given for the diplomatic corps. Heretofore only one dinner has been given. That, however, was in time of peace, when the British and German, the Russian and the Austro-Hungarian, the Turkish and Italian, and all the other ambassadors representing the two armed camps of Europe, were on speaking terms. To overcome the present awkward situation, two dinners will be given.

Here, again, the President is likely to find himself in difficulties. Which side will be represented at the first dinner? In other words, who will have precedence? Again, who will be asked to meet the allies, and who the Germans and Austro-Hungarians?

The State department has carefully studied this question. The dean of the diplomatic corps is Mr. Jusserand, the French ambassador. Naturally, he must be invited to the first function. This means that invitations must be extended also to the British ambassador, the Russian ambassador, the Japanese ambassador, and the Italian ambassador.

The understanding is that the representatives of all the neutral nations will be invited at the same time.

The second dinner will be given with Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, as the guest of honor. His colleagues of Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria likewise will be invited. In order that no untoward questions shall develop, the representatives of all the neutral nations will be asked for the second time to dine at the White House.

Here is the official program of the receptions and dinners which the President and Mrs. Galt have arranged:

January 7, Friday, Pan-American reception.

January 11, Tuesday, Cabinet dinner.

January 21, Friday, diplomatic dinner.

January 25, Tuesday, diplomatic dinner.

February 4, Friday, judicial reception.

February 8, Tuesday, Supreme court dinner.

February 18, Friday, Congressional reception.

February 22, Tuesday, Speaker's dinner.

March 3, Friday, Army and Navy reception.

Dynamite Placed to Kill Archbold, President of Standard Oil Co.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—A plan to kill John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, was frustrated by the finding of a dynamite bomb in the wheel rut of a roadway on his estate here leading from the financier's home, in the opinion of Chief of Police Bowles.

The bomb consisted of four sticks of dynamite, with wires and percussion caps, and Chief Bowles said he believed the plan was to blow up Mr. Archbold in his automobile as he was riding over what is known as the south roadway from his home.

The dynamite, wire and caps were wrapped in dark yellow paper. Chief Bowles said it was all so arranged that the slightest impact would explode the bomb.

The bomb was found Saturday, but the fact did not become known until Monday, when Mr. Archbold issued instructions to increase the number of guards about the estate.

Liberty Bell in Danger.

Paducah, Ky.—Safety of the Liberty Bell was threatened Sunday when fire swept a warehouse near the spot where the train bearing the relic was sidetracked. The blaze threatened to reach a 600,000-gallon oil tank across the street. High wind fanned the flames in the opposite direction.

Memphis—As a result of excitement incident to the Liberty Bell parade here, Mrs. Emily Crane, 37, collapsed and died while being placed in an ambulance. Two Confederate veterans fainted in the line of march.

Deportation Is Ordered.

New York—A special board of inquiry of the Bureau of Immigration Monday ordered the deportation of Professor Elia Volpi, of Florence, Italy, and his secretary, Mme. Lizetta Morosino, who arrived here two days ago on the Italian liner Dacca Deglia Abruzzi, from Genoa. Professor Volpi, who says he has brought paintings valued at $500,000 with him, will appeal to Washington. Professor Volpi is 60 years old and his secretary is 25.

SON, ONCE THOUGHT DEAD, HOME AGAIN; PARENTS COLLAPSE

Oregon City, Or.—Charles Sturgis, 42 years old, who disappeared two years ago after escaping from the insane asylum at Salem, and whose body some months ago supposedly was buried by his parents, walked into the home of his aging parents at Canby Tuesday night, a rejuvenated and apparently a rational man.

The shock was so severe that his father and mother both collapsed on hearing the news and before they could see or welcome him.

The sister who opened the door to the long-lost and mourned son was able to receive the brother; as gently as possible broke the news to the parents and put the younger Sturgis to bed before she, too, gave way under the strain.

The return of Charles Sturgis vindicates the aged mother's intuition often expressed in the last few weeks that her son was not dead. She often feared that they had buried the wrong body and expressed a vague feeling that some day "Charley" would return. Only comparatively recently, after patient waiting for the son to return, had she appeared to accept his death as certain.

In May a body, on which was clothing similar to that worn by Sturgis when he was last seen, was found on the outskirts of Eugene. Word was sent to the man's parents and a relative went to the university city and there identified the body as that of Charles Sturgis.

The body was returned to Canby and the funeral services were duly performed on May 17 over the body supposed to be that of the lost son.

Ban on All Luxuries Urged for Economy Throughout England

London—The campaign for economy in living as a vital necessity for financing the war, which is costing Great Britain nearly $25,000,000 a day, continues to be pressed. Imports are exceeding exports by nearly $5,000,000 a day and consequently depreciating foreign exchange, so that England really pays about 5 per cent more than the nominal prices for commodities bought in America. Restriction of imports is urged as one of the most obvious practical methods of economy.

Some papers, notably the Morning Post, demand a high tariff on imports and one so framed that the colonies will have preference through the diverting of business from the United States to them. Thus the British Empire must live on its own resources, so far as foodstuffs are concerned, the Post contends, and spend its money among its own people as Germany is doing.

Lord Devonport, who has had long experience as a successful business man, told the House of Lords the import of non-essential things through the Port of London alone reached $125,000,000 a year.

474 More Officers Die.

London—Officers' casualty lists for the fortnight ending October 25 show that the British army, in all theaters of the war, lost 474 officers killed, 837 wounded and 147 missing, a total of 1458, which brings the casualties since the beginning of the war to 19,668. Of this 6033 have been killed, 11,957 wounded and 1683 recorded as missing. Losses have again been heavy among officers of high rank, Major General Wing and Brigadier General Wormald being killed and Brigadier General Bruce is missing.

Economy Rolls Britons.

London—Wooden spoils in the place of matches, penny wooden penholders instead of the quills so dear to British officialdom and a few envelopes and odd sheets of note paper instead of unlimited supplies, gave a surprise to members of parliament, who are accustomed to utilize the houses of parliament as a club. In reply to angry protests, the attendants explained that this was the first step in the direction of national economy.

Apple and Potato Crop Big.

The average yield, all crops, per acre in the Pacific Coast states made a very favorable showing, according to a government crop report just issued. The comparison is made with the average yields of recent years and is shown in percentage as follows:

Oregon, 100.4; Washington, 104.3; Idaho, 97.9; California, 103.8.

In its detailed report on the American apple crop, the department says: "The apple production for local and farms, as well as commercial consumption, as reported November 1, 76,670,000 barrels, more than confirms the earlier promise of a large crop. The crop is approximately 8,000,000 barrels less than last year's bumper crop, but 18,000,000 barrels above the five-year average.

Of the American potato crop the government report says: "The estimates of potato yield show a decline of 2.3 bushels per acre from the promise of a month ago. The estimated yield of 96.3 bushels indicates a total crop of 359,000,000 bushels, 47,000,000 bushels less than the large crop of last year, and 3,000,000 bushels greater than the five-year average.

Hog Market Good.

In general price conditions of swine in Portland are unchanged. Cattle values are quoted steady with demand for good quality. Sheep are firm. The undertone of the hog market is inclined to be weak in view of the large receipts of late, but a smaller run is looked for this week than last.

Commenting on the marketing of swine, the Livestock Reporter says: "For the period from November 1 to November 13 there has been nearly 100 per cent gain made in the marketing. This period last year the total receipts were 11,779, this year for the same period 22,542, a net gain of 10,763. For the year to November 13, 1914, there were received 188,471 and the same period this year 220,267, a gain to November 13 for the year of 31,796, which is a very substantial increase and reflects in the very best way the popularity of the Portland market. It looks as if the total receipts for 1915 at the end of this month will more than equal the total receipts of hogs for the entire year of 1914."

Centralia to Get Big Corporation.

Centralia, Wash.—The Prudential Savings & Loan association, a $2,000,000 corporation, is being organized here by L. M. Holden, of Seattle, a man experienced in this line of work, who just completed the organization of the Grays Harbor Savings & Loan association. George Barner, clerk of the school board, will be secretary of the organization and ten prominent men of the city will be numbered among the incorporators. The new company will operate in nine counties in Southwest Washington.

Storage Butter and Egg Stocks.

The national Warehousemen's report, representing 45 large warehouses of the country, shows that November 1 there were 77,913,000 pounds of butter in the freezers against 54,478,000 pounds the same date a year ago; an increase of 23,435,000 pounds. The holdings of eggs November 1 were 2,826,000 cases against 2,388,000 cases the same date a year ago; an increase of 438,000 cases.

Oregon Hop Market Is Quiet.

There has been a slowing down of trading in the Oregon hop market this week, and dealers are not so disposed to outbid one another as was the case a few days ago. The only reported dealings were in the Yakima section.

No Longer Responsible.

The dangers of travel by sea at this time have played havoc with the nerves of timid passengers.

Early one morning recently there was considerable commotion on the decks of a coastwise vessel plying between Savannah and Baltimore, when a scantily clad man hurried from his stateroom and dashed toward the upper deck. On the way he ran into the captain of the vessel.

"What's the matter, captain?" he managed to gasp. "Have we been torpedoed?"

"Calm yourself, my dear sir, and be prepared for the worst," answered the official.

"Oh, don't tell me we're going down!" moaned the other. "Quick, where are the life preservers?"

"They wouldn't be of any service at this stage," explained the captain.

"Too late?" quavered the despairing passenger.

"Yes," said the captain, solemnly. "We've done all we can for you. You'll have to look out for yourself from now on. You see, we've just tied up to the dock."

No Warning.

Petro had drifted down to Florida and was working with a gang at railroad construction. He had been told to beware of rattlesnakes, but assured that they would always give the warning rattle before striking.

One hot day he was eating his noon luncheon on a pine log when he saw a big rattler coiled a few feet in front of him. He eyed the serpent and began to lift his legs over the log. He barely got them out of the way when the snake's fangs hit the bark beneath him.

"Sun of guns!" yelled Petro, "why you no ringa da bell?"

Illuminating Comparison.

She entered the department store and complained about a lamp she had purchased, demanding that it be taken back.

"What's the matter with it, madam?"

"It has all the faults of my husband, and none of his virtues."

"What makes you keep sayin', 'Oh, War! Oh, War!'" asked the paper-hanger.

"Don't you know a synonym when you hear it?" asked the man who had just moved into a new house.

"Is that one?"

Nervous Emotional Dizzy Depressed

Mrs. Addie Curtisinger, of Cedar Falls, Iowa, Ill., writes Doctor Pierce as follows: "I send 21 cents for your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' for my daughter who has recently married and I know the book will be of much value to her. I have read and used for 25 years the valuable treatments contained in the 'Medical Adviser' and have taken many bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and have been restored to health each time I used it. It is a great remedy for women as a strength builder, fine for the nerves and general health."

Congressman Takes Money.

Patrolman Patrick J. Walsh of the South Englewood station, Chicago, was looking for some young trees to plant around his bungalow. Near there he came across a man clad in khaki, seemingly a laborer, hard at work in a grove.

"I'd like to have a few of these young trees," said Walsh.

"Help yourself," replied the man in khaki.

Walsh uprooted several trees. He said he would like to leave them there until tomorrow, and the other replied that would be all right.

"Fine!" exclaimed Walsh. "For whom shall I ask?" and he handed a quarter to the man in khaki.

"James R. Mann."

Representative Mann of the Second Illinois congressional district, minority leader in the house, pocketed the quarter as a souvenir.

"I'll take two cards," said the man on the right of the dealer.

"Three for me," said the next man.

The dealer gave each one what he had asked for and then picked up his own hand and looked it over.

"I've got enough," he announced as he cast a proprietary look on the chips in the middle of the table.

"I should say you have got enough," remarked the man opposite. "Counting the two you've got up your sleeve and the three that are sticking out of your shoe, it looks to me as if you've got enough to play the game all by yourself. But before you do so I'm sure you won't mind if the rest of us take our chips out of this jackpot."
