Clouds and Cold.

A clear, bright, starlight night in winter is always much colder than a cloudy one.
The little known reason for this is that the heat of the earth is always thrown off much more quickly when there is nothing to intercept it. Clouds act as a kind of blanket and, in preventing the earth's heat from escaping, tend to keep the atmosphere warm.

Watchful Waiting.

Mother--Gledys, you stood on the porch quite awhile with that young man last night. Gledys--Why, mother, I only stood there for a second. Mother--But I'm sure I heard the third and the fourth--Pitt Panther.

Wise boy.

"I hope you didn't ask for a second helping of pie when you were at Mrs. Smith's house," said Johnny's mother. "No'm, I didn't," said Johnny. "I just asked her for the recipe, so you could make some pie just like it, and then she gave me another piece without my asking for it."--St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

AMIABILITY.

The cultivation of an amiable disposition is a great part of your religious duty, since nothing leads more directly to the breach of charity and to the injury of our fellow creatures than ill temper.

Tea in the Time of Buddha.

At the time of Buddha China was enjoying a large foreign commerce in tea. It was carried by her Junks to Japan, Korea, Tonquin, Anam, Cochin, Burma, Siam, India, Ceylon, Persia and Arabia. According to one record, it was sent to a great black river country west of Arabia, from which it was separated by a long and very torrid sea, which must have been Egypt. It was carried by caravans to Manchuria, Mongolia, Kuldja, Tartary, Tibet, Persia and northern India.

A Fine Judge of Eggs.

The Ichneumon is an animal that every housewife should possess. There is no finer judge of eggs in existence. The Ichneumon, in fact, makes a study of eggs all his life, and he is not particular whether they are hen's eggs or turtle's eggs so long as they are eggs. It is impossible to deceive the animal with regard to their freshness. If a dozen fresh and partly fresh eggs are mixed up together the wily little animal will pick out the fresh ones with a certainty and quickness that are positively amazing. At the zoo he is provided only with the genuine newly laid. He would have to be in a very bad way before touching an egg that was "shop laid."

Such is Life.

"When we were first married I allowed my wife $20 a week for household expenses."
"Yes. And now?"
"She allows me $1.50 for lunches and car fare."--St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Thousand Refusals.

Kate--That Bragson girl claims to have made a thousand refusals of marriage. Ethel--That's true. When Gus asked her to be his wife she replied, "No; a thousand times no!"--Boston Transcript.

Then She Let Loose.

"Their honeymoon is over."
"What happened?"
"He telephoned at ten minutes to 6 last evening that he was bringing two friends up to the house for dinner."--Detroit Free Press.
