GOOD SHOW AND SMALL CROWDS

The Gotham Stock Co. played to small crowds here last week, although they had a first-class show in every respect. Their vaudeville was of a high-class variety, seldom seen outside the cities, and Mr. Graham was all he claimed, a singer with a powerful voice. When the company returns to Stayton they will no doubt be greeted with better crowds.

NOTICE

The fire bell sounded Saturday afternoon, but after the arrival of the apparatus at the Methodist parsonage, it was found that it was only the flue burning out. No damage done. Watch your chimneys during the cold weather, nearly all fires come from defective flues.

Won by a Name

During the Afghan war of 1879 a small British detachment gained a victory over a large body of the enemy by a mistaken order. A private named Vance, who had distinguished himself by several acts of bravery, was a great favorite with one of the officers, and during a skirmish the officer wanted him to carry a dispatch to the colonel in command of another detachment. The man was only a few yards away, and he called out "Vance!" at the top of his voice. The men thought he had given the order "Advance!" and immediately rushed forward with such dash and spirit that the enemy broke and fled.

A Hint to the Engaged

There is an old superstition which says that engaged couples who are photographed together never get married. Superstition is gradually dying down, so that few would be kept back by an old woman's saying. There is, however, one thing which should keep engaged couples from being photographed together, and that is the thought that if either or both should marry some one else the fewer tokens there are of previous love affairs the greater is the chance of happiness in the final choice.—Exchange.

All the Difference

A resident of a metropolis on the Pacific coast had occasion to fill a sunken place in the lawn of his country home. Desiring expert advice before undertaking the venture, he looked up a friend of his who did a good deal of contract work in excavating and grading lines for the municipality. "Say, Rully," he inquired, "about how much would it cost to fill a hollow of such and such dimensions with stone?"

German and Germane

German silver was not invented in Germany and does not contain any one particle of real silver. It is really an alloy of copper, nickel and zinc. The word "german" is really a corruption of the original word "germane," which means "related to." Therefore it is "germane silver," meaning "related to" silver. So with "german menses."

Underfoot

Some men could be sized up in two words — human doormats.—Florida Times-Union.

Anatomically

"I've been pondering over a very singular thing."

"What is it?"

"How putting a ring on a woman's third finger should place you under her thumb."—Pearson's Weekly.

The Springs of Wit

The Browns were at dinner. The second course was brought on, and there was a period of silence broken only by the sound of knife and fork. Then Brown looked up.

"What is this?" he asked, pointing to the joint.

"The butcher said it was spring lamb," replied Mrs. Brown.

"Umph!" grunted Brown. "The butcher was right. I've been chewing one of the springs for the last five minutes."—London Tit-Bits.

She Wasn't

May—How did you happen to miss your train? Blanche—Oh, the horrid old thing was right on time.—Judge

No Previous Experience.

Traffic Cop (to autoist whose car has just been in a bad collision)—That's the most complete smashup I ever saw. Autoist (proudly)—Thank you. And, would you believe it, it's the first one I ever had!—Puck.

It Wouldn't

An absentminded dry goods clerk was in love with a spirited girl. He took her hand one night and droned:

"Dear, dear little hand! I wonder— I wonder—and then his absentmindedness got its work in, and he said: "I wonder if it will wash?"

"The girl gave a sudden start.

"No, George," she hissed, "it won't wash, and I may as well tell you, too, that it won't cook, or sweep, or darn socks, either. Good evening!"—Washington Star.

A Pessimist

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is a pessimist?

Pa—A pessimist, my son, is a man who derives most of his pleasure from his effort to spoil the pleasure of others.—Chicago News.

Money Helps

The way to make life seem a bed of roses is to first make it a bed of "rocks."—Florida Times-Union.

Facts About Animal Structure

The complexity of animal structure is marvelous. A caterpillar contains more than 2,000 muscles. In a human body are some 2,000,000 perspiration glands, communicating with the surface by ducts, having a total length of some ten miles, while that of the arteries, veins and capillaries must be very great. The blood contains millions of corpuscles, each a structure in itself. The rods in the retina, which are supposed to be the ultimate recipients of light, are estimated at 30,000,000, and Melenet has calculated that the gray matter of the brain is built of at least 600,000,000 cells.—Exchange.

Unsatisfactory

"Why is a kiss over the telephone like a straw hat?"

"Because it is not felt."
