Warned Off.
"Well, father, now that I've finished my college course I've decided to enter the battle of life."
"Shucks! You're too young yet to be thinking of getting married!"—Brown's Magazine.

An Irishman says he always shuts his eyes when he looks at a lady's faults.

What English word contains three vowels and three syllables but only four letters?—Idea.

"She is the very picture of health."
"Yes, and excellently painted."—Baltimore American.

Almost Irresistible.
Briggs—What do you consider among the greatest of temptations? Spriggs—A lone and defenseless umbrella.
Bacon—That sounds like a master hand at the piano.

Egbert—It is. It's my wife.
Settlement Day.
"In our town we are celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of our settlement."

"That must be a great place to live in—where you have to settle only once in a hundred years."—Life.

One woman in a thousand marries after she is sixty years old.

More than 300 kinds of fish have voices audible to human ears.

Get happiness out of your work or you'll never know what happiness is.—Young.

She—I consider, John, that sheep are the stupidest creatures living. He (abstemiously)—Yes, my lamb!

Ample Grounds.
"My wife made me what I am today."
"You could get a divorce for that."—Boston Transcript.

Roasted coffee is an excellent disinfectant for sickrooms.

Only about one man in each 208 exceeds six feet in height.

A man has no more right to say an unkind thing than to act one; no more right to say a rude thing to another man than to knock him down.—Johnson.

Safety First.
Wife (at midnight)—John, there's a burglar in the house. He's coming up the front stairs. Hub—Then we'll go down the back stairs. There's no need of our being crowded when there's plenty of room.—Boston Transcript.

More than 12,000 students are taking courses in agriculture in the colleges of the United States.

Plantago is the most important mineral product of Ceylon, which has about 1,000 mines.

"Might doesn't make right."
"No, but it does force a lot of compelling."—Detroit Free Press.

It is unfortunate that it is so, but it is so, that the paths for going wrong are planted so prettily with flowers at the beginning.

Egypt has more blind persons, proportionally, than any country in the world, having 1,325 to every 100,000 population.

In the opinion of a French scientist, the swinging motion that often breaks electric transmission lines is due as much to terrestrial magnetism as it is to wind.

Her Advice.
"Ah," he said as he led her back to her seat after the waltz. "I just love dancing."
"Well," she replied as she attempted to repair a torn blouse, "you're not too old to learn."

Potato Bread.
Potato bread is not alone a ration for war stricken peoples, but also a very pleasing and nourishing food which any American housewife can prepare by using a recipe made up by the department of agriculture. It calls for three pounds of boiled and mashed potatoes and two and a quarter pounds of wheat flour. Bread made with these materials has a rich brown crust, an appetizing odor, a very agreeable taste, and will keep fresh several days longer than ordinary bread.—Popular Magazine.

Punishing the Ladies.
Fondle conspirators against Rameses III. of Egypt, says Wilkinson, were punished in 1200 B. C. to the servitude of keeping a beer house which was thought sufficient punishment for ladies of delicacy and refinement.

She'll Be There.
"My wife promised to meet me here promptly at 2 o'clock."
"You don't expect her on time, do you?"

"Yes, she's coming to get spending money this time."—Detroit Free Press.

Platinum.
Platinum was so named by the Spaniards on account of its silvery color, "plata," signifying silver. It was discovered in the sand of the river Pinto, in South America, and was unknown in Europe until 1741, when it was announced in Ullon's narrative of his voyage to Peru. In 1827 Dr. William Hyde Wollaston rendered it malleable and ductile.

The man who discovered Pike's peak said that it would never be climbed. Today the topmost point is accessible to automobiles.

An Everyday Husband.
"My husband is such a blockhead."
"How now?"

"Couldn't locate a lady I wanted to find, although I had told him plainly that her gown had sleeves of ulin and velvet revers."—Exchange.

Disavowal.
Private Biggs (whose period of training is over)—See here, Cap'n Miggs, now that I am a civilian again, I want you to understand that I take back all the salutes I've given you since I came here.—Life.

One Way.
"Pa, why do you insist on my singing when Mr. Bimley calls?"
"Well, daughter, I don't like the fellow, and yet I hate to come right out and tell him to go."—Boston Transcript.

Old Boycott on Coffee.
About thirty years or so ago nearly every family, including prohibitionists, drank Maracalbo coffee. The demand for that brand of coffee was so great that the coffee lords increased the price of Maracalbo coffee from 35 to 40 cents a pound. The Knights of Labor, headed by Terence Powderly, boycotted Maracalbo coffee for thirty days, and before a week the whole country joined the boycott. Before the thirty days had expired Maracalbo coffee sold at retail for 28 cents a pound.—Letter to New York Sun.

Greased Paper.
Paper in which butter, margarine or lard has been wrapped should be kept and used as a lining for cake tins, as a covering for a pudding which is to be steamed and for wrapping up sweet roly polies before putting them into the cloth to be boiled. These papers are all ready without any more greasing, so there is a saving of both time and labor.

No Sentiment for Jack.
Not every one is imbued with sentiment, as this story teaches: Fred Jane, the writer on naval subjects, used to tell of an old gentleman, an enthusiastic member of the Navy league, who visited Portsmouth and looked at Nelson's Victory, lying in the harbor. A bluejacket passed. The old gentleman seized him and pointed to the Victory. "D'you know what that ship means, my man?" he exclaimed.

"Rather," replied the bluejacket. "It's the old tub they hold courts martial in."

Handing Out Advice.
"You are not compounding that prescription as I would," remarked the stranger who had dropped in. "Dump in a little of this and a pinch of that."
"What do you mean? Are you a druggist?"

"Nope."
"Then what do you mean by telling me how to run my business?"

"Oh, I'm the manager of the ball team. I notice you in the bleachers occasionally handing me unsolicited advice."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

NOTICE

The "Old Maids' Club" to be given by the Rock Point Parent Teacher's Association at that place, will be staged Saturday night, February 10. Everybody come.

Prejudice.

Prejudice is knowing it isn't so when you don't know anything about it. Prejudice is something you are sure you haven't a bit of yourself, but you are sure everybody else has a lot of. Prejudice is the mother of laziness, the ally of ignorance and superstition and the world's greatest bar to progress.—Osteopathic Magazine.

Boatswain's Whistles.

Boatswains in our navy have as part of their uniform a lanyard on which is a silver whistle of a peculiar shape, only used in the navy. A boy's of the old school who could trill one of these whistles in a heavy gale of wind was a jewel and was always looked upon with envy, for he was the only man on board who had the prerogative of whistling.—New York Sun.

A Roar That Failed.

There is a playful apologue by Wendell Holmes about a great experiment that was to be made on a universal scale. He describes mankind as arranging to combine on a certain New Year's eve to raise a shout in unison, to see if it would reach to Mars. It didn't, for the simple reason that when the crisis arrived there was no cry at all; everybody was too busy listening.

He Was Misinformed.

A politician of generous avoirdupois entered the editor's office wearing a dark frown.
"I understand," said he in a stentorian voice, "dat youse had a piece in your paper callin' me a liar!"
"You have been misinformed, sir," returned the editor calmly. "This paper publishes only news."

Figuratively Speaking.

Crawford—He must have a pretty good reason or he wouldn't break the lense. Crabshaw—You bet he has. His wife figured out that they could afford a more expensive apartment.—Life.

After His Share.

Motorist (recovering from smashup)—Isn't that a pretty stiff bill, doctor? Surgeon—You don't suppose I'm going to let the other repair men do all the getting rich in this business, do you?—Boston Transcript.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Feb. 4 is "church going Sunday" in Stayton, especially so at the Christian church, as preparations are being made to interest a large number of people in church attendance. Special themes are being prepared for this day. These will be helpful and uplifting.

Preaching services every 1st and 3rd Sundays.

Bible school 10 a. m.
Morning service 11 a. m.
Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m.
Evening service 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meeting Thursday, 7:30 p. m. The sermon subject at 11 o'clock is: "How to Double the Power of the Minister and the Church." At 7:30 p. m. "The Ideal or N. T. Church." Come and let's get acquainted.

Marion F. Horn, Minister.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "Epphroditus" and in the evening Hon. L. Mahone, soldier, legislator, preacher, lawyer, will give an address as the first number of the "Community-Citizenship" series of Sunday night discourses to continue through a number of months, alternating, perhaps, every other Sunday evening.

Mr. Mahone, a former member of the state legislature, is prominent in local circles of Portland, and for years has been a student of sociological problems. He is a young man who fought in the Philippines and has had wide experience. Mr. Mahone will give a ten minute address at the Epworth League session on his experiences in the Philippines. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

DIED

Edwin M. Hartmus of Portland, died at the Tuberculosis hospital near Salem Jan. 26, and was buried Saturday in the Fox Valley cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Nellie, aged 14, and Eunice, aged 12, and a brother, W. E. Hartmus, who is managing editor of the Oregonian. The funeral party stopped in Stayton and took dinner at the Hotel Stayton.

Miss Laura Taylor died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Gentry in Mill City, Saturday, Jan. 27. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church the next day, and interment was in the Fox Valley cemetery. The Stayton Undertaking Parlors of this city, had charge of the arrangements.

FREAK BILLS

Until lately the legislative session has been gratifyingly free from bills intended to hamper industries and public service. Of late such bills are beginning to appear.

One member evidently thinks that telephone and telegraph tolls are not high enough now, so he proposes to require a time guarantee on messages and assess double damages for failure to deliver within the guaranteed time. The effect of such a law, even if susceptible of practical enforcement, would be to so heavily increase the cost of telephone and telegraph service that rates would have to be raised.

There are some more bills in of similar import. The members who introduced them are green and are entitled to the benefit of the doubt as to their innocence.—Oregon Voter.
