Rock Point School Notes

The past few days our time has been filled with the study of the life of Abraham Lincoln, and this has helped the language work very much.

We are now reading "The Perfect Tribute," a little book which deals most skillfully with that deep-set character of Lincoln's. This volume is to also be distributed among the parents for perusal.

This Wednesday many of us saw our first grape fruit, and this adds another tropical fruit to the knowledge of many, which has hitherto been unknown.

The drill work in penmanship is doing a great deal of good and the results testify to the work.

The final touches are being put on the play, "The Old Maid's Club" and next Saturday night, Feb. 10, we send forth this call: "Come ye old bachelors, where e'er ye languish, Come to the garden seat, tenderly kneel. Here bring your wounded hearts, Here tell your anguish: Man has no sorrow that WOMAN cannot heal." The play is free to all and a cordial invitation is extended to those interested. It will begin at 8 o'clock.
