CALICO CARNIVAL

About seventy five people gathered at the I. O. O. F. hall and enjoyed a good old fashioned Calico Carnival. From the time the fun started until the door was locked for the night there was something doing.

Every young lady brought a pound of carpet rags or paid a five cent fine, also wore a calico dress or paid a similar fine. Each man brought a thimble and wore a calico tie or was fined.

A program was enjoyed after which games became the order of the evening until the supper was served. Perhaps the big event of the evening was the contest to see which couple could sew their half pound of carpet rags first. Much ignorance and wisdom was displayed in the art of threading a needle and of sewing. The evening was such a success all were loud in their wish for another in the near future.
