A Pioneer's Birthday

A residence of about seventy years in Oregon places the resident among the pioneers of the state. This is the record of Mrs. E. J. Miller, who celebrated her 82nd birthday Friday last. Coming to Oregon in 1847, she has since made the Willamette valley her home. Her brother, Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, was the shepherd boy of the company crossing the plains, and he and his sisters had charge of a band of sheep and walked a good part of the distance.

To appropriately celebrate the 82nd birthday of Mrs. Miller, a dinner was served under the trees at her home in this city Friday, and the occasion proved one of much pleasure to all present, these being Rev. Hunsaker, age 83, and wife, of McMinnville; her sister, Mrs. Margaret Barbre, age 79, of Eugene; G. W. Hunsaker and wife and M. T. Miller and wife, of Turner; J. R. Miller and wife, L. A. Thomas and wife, Mrs. Gertrude Kabourek, and the hostess, Mrs. E. J. Miller.

The dinner was all that could be desired and the visit of these old residents and estimable people carried them back to the early days and the pleasures and trials of pioneer life.

John R. Lake Dead

After an illness lasting several weeks, John R. Lake, an aged veteran of the civil war, and a well known resident passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hewitt, this morning at four o'clock.

The funeral service will be held Friday afternoon at the M. E. Church. An obituary will be published next week.

Editor's Mother Dies

On Monday the writer received the sad news of the death of Mrs. W. L. Parry, mother of W. C. Parry, editor of the Times, at Berkeley, California. W. C. Parry and wife were called south two weeks ago by the serious illness of his mother. For a time after their arrival it was thought that the editor's mother was somewhat improved, but she was taken suddenly worse on Saturday and the end came at 9:15 that night. Mrs. Parry was about 52 years old and is survived by her devoted husband and three sons, David H. of Seattle, W. C. of Junction City, and Edgar at home. All were with her at the last. Two sisters and several other relatives live in the east.

The writer was personally acquainted with Mrs. Parry, who was a woman of sterling qualities, thoroughly devoted to her home and the members of her family and her church. The above from the Junction City Times is from the pen of Mrs. G. F. Korniek who had charge of that paper during the editor's absence in California. Mr. Parry was formerly connected with the Mail and is well known to many Stayton people.

How to Address Mail to Soldiers in France

When addressing a paper, package or letter to your soldier in France, write plainly his name, regiment, and company and then add "American Expeditionary Force to France." That is all that is necessary as of course a more definite direction is not permitted. They will be somewhere in France and the words "American Expeditionary Force in France" will suffice.

Postage rates to soldiers in France will be the same as postal rates in this country. Papers may be sent for one cent for four ounces and an ordinary letter for two cents. Packages of merchandise take the eastern rate of twelve cents a pound. It is suggested to prevent delays in mail, that packages be weighed at the postoffice and the proper amount of postage affixed.

Notice

Beginning Wednesday August 15th, we the undersigned merchants will make only two deliveries a week. These will be made on Wednesday and Saturday mornings. This move has been made in the interest of economy and we trust our patrons will appreciate our efforts along this line and continue to give us the same loyal support they have in the past.

The threatened S. P. railroad mens strike is off for the time being. Its getting monotonous the way the "brotherhoods" call for a general tie up every time they are peeved; they are losing public favor.

Help the Nation Build Ships

Farmers of the Pacific Northwest are hampered in harvesting crops by lack of gasoline and distillate and should be interested in promoting shipbuilding.

Harvesting machinery and farm tractors cannot be driven without gasoline and distillate, and gasoline and distillate cannot be brought from the great oil refineries in the south without ships.

Scarcity of ships causes shortage of distillate, gasoline and crude oil and not only agriculture but other industries will suffer.

Grain growers are deeply concerned and it all comes back to the great national need for millions of tons of shipping—the urgent equipment of the hour is ships, ships, ships.

The campaign of the Portland Chamber of Commerce is for ten thousand men to work summer and winter, day and night in the shipyards to build steel and wooden ships.

Ships are the great national need for our country and the allies and any man who can wield a hammer or a saw can serve his country in the shipyards as effectively as in the trenches.

Portland and Oregon shipyards need 5000 men for building steel ships and 5000 men for wooden ships.

Help enlist ten thousand workers for this industry which is as important as service in the army or navy.

Married

Monday morning, at the Catholic church in Sublimity, occurred the marriage of Miss Anna Neitling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Neitling, to Al Friedl, Rev. Father Lainck officiating.

An excellent wedding dinner was served at the bride's home, only relatives being present.

The newlyweds are a couple of well known young people of Fern Ridge, and their many friends will wish for them a long and happy life.

Sunday School Man Comes

Dr. Frank of Salem will give a ten minute address at the morning service at the M. E. church in the interest of the Sunday school convention it is planned to hold in Stayton in the near future. It is hoped that as many representatives as possible of the Stayton Sunday schools and of those of the surrounding country will be present to hear the Salem man's message. He will endeavor to reach by personal visit as many of the organizations as possible and will wind up his itinerary in this part of the country with his visit and address at the Methodist church. It is possible other workers may accompany the well known capital city physician in his visit to the various Sunday schools of Stayton and about the country.

With a labor problem, the country at war, conservation of energies and resources a necessity and nitrates essential for crops, we should demand fair legislation from Congress encouraging development of waterpower, thus conserving labor and fuel and furnishing fertilizer so necessary for the soil.

Time to Deal With Offenders

The labor agitators in Montana and Idaho seem to care not what happens to the nation so long as they can tie up industry and create trouble.

It is hard to understand how a handful of lawless leaders can create so much discord and strife among thousands of ordinarily satisfied workmen.

If a man reasons at all he must see that following such leaders can have but one ending. It is the same as following any leader who advocates violence and destruction, the end comes quickly, for the balance of society when finally aroused will not tolerate the depredations.

It is absolutely necessary that Montana and Idaho farms and mines be worked to the very highest state of efficiency and labor troubles which interfere with there operation cannot be tolerated.

Probably in no place in the world do miners and farm hands receive as high wages as in this section and yet the agitator is not satisfied but continues to try and stir up trouble among the workmen.

The interest of the public is now at stake and the time has arrived to deal with such offenders to the fullest extent of the law.

Portland—Five contracts, aggregating $275,123.15 for grading 17.6 miles of upper and lower Columbia river highway, to make ready for paving next year, were awarded by state highway commission.

"Her" New York

Note the punctuation in "Her New York," the Pathe Gold Rooster play, starring Gladys Hulette, to be shown at the Star Theatre Sunday.

The extra quotation marks are rightly around "her" because the New York in the story is wholly and absolutely in the proprietorship of Phoebe Lester, the lovely little country girl, played by Miss Hulette.

She first sees it rising in a mirage from out a cornfield wherein she imagined she was in "her" New York, rubbing elbows with glittering people instead of brushing against cornstalks.

"Her" New York" is even better than "The Shine Girl" and "Prudence The Pirate".

Salem—Chief Justice McBride will serve as member of the board of conciliation and arbitration to be named by the Governor. He says: "I would be willing to serve on the commission but I would have no wish to do so if I felt that the remainder of the board would be made up of partisans of the employers and partisans of labor, who were so strongly biased in their attitude that they appeared in the capacity of attorneys rather than as conciliators and arbitrators."

Salem—Marion county signs contract for $237,901 bridge over river here.

If congress can be moved to pass legislation giving American ships an even chance with foreign ones this country now has an opportunity to regain its supremacy on the seas, why delay action.
