Advice from Food Commissioner

A word of caution and advice to farmers who are preparing dressed meats to be sold in Portland and other cities within the state, will be of great benefit at present.

A great amount of this meat is condemned and ordered destroyed because of reaching the market in such condition that it is unfit for food. This is not only a direct loss to the farmer who ships it but in such times when we are exercising every effort in the line of food conservation, it is a loss to the consuming public, and we feel a great deal of such loss could be avoided if farmers and butchers would properly prepare their meats taking necessary precaution to see that it reaches the market in the best possible condition.

Dr. E. E. Chase, Chief Meat Inspector of the City Health Department of Portland, informs me that during the last 16 months there has been condemned 18,426 lbs. of meat that was killed and dressed by farmers, and this condemnation has not been on account of a diseased condition of the meat but simply on account of what is termed as "Spoiled Meat." We feel that if farmers and butchers will observe the following requirements much of this loss can be eliminated:

1st-The carcasses of veal and hogs must be entirely free from animal heat before being offered to the transportation company for shipment.

2nd-All carcasses of veal should have two sticks, one in the thoracic cavity, the other in abdominal cavity, so as to spread the carcass and hold it apart. In hogs weighing over 200 lbs., it would be well to have them split through the hips and shoulders, as hogs sour very quickly during the hot weather. Thoroughly wash the inside of the veal with hot water and wipe with a clean cloth until all slime and dampness is thoroughly removed; the sprinkling of cayenne pepper on the inside of the carcass tends to prevent the work of flies.

All carcasses, except veal must be wrapped in a clean cloth before being offered for shipment.

Signed,
J. D. Mickle,
Dairy and Food Commissioner.

Navy Believes in Feeding Men

The great Kitchner said "This war will be won in the kitchens." Cromwell expressed the same by claiming "A soldier's nerve comes from his belly, keep it full."

Believing this the U. S. Navy Department has ordered an extra meal served to the men on night watch, increased the food allowance, and sent out an urgent call for cooks, bakers, stewards, and mess attendants.

These great floating monsters of our First Line Defense, greatly resemble a first class hotel, with their large cold storage plants (stocked with fresh meats fruits and vegetables) and large spotless kitchens, equipped with the latest electric ranges and appliances.

The Navy offers a splendid position to both experienced cooks and bakers, and non experienced men in the mess department. The former will board ship at once, and the latter will be given a complete course at the Navy Cooking School, near San Francisco.

Application for enlistment can be made to any postmaster or to the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Dekum Building, Portland, Oregon.

Competent Repair Man Located Here

Peter Deidrich is installing a complete repair shop for Ford and Dodge cars, some of the machinery is already installed and the remainder is on the road and will be here shortly. He has secured the services of W. H. Moore formerly with the Ford Motor Car Co., who is a thoroughly competent and skilled mechanic who understands this line of work. Mr. Deidrich is also putting in a full and complete line of all Ford and Dodge parts which will be of great convenience to users of these cars.

In addition to being able to supply these parts without the inconvenience of a long wait he is now able to turn out any kind of a repair job quickly and in a first class manner. The service he has been rendering his patrons has pleased the Ford Co., and they have shown it by enlarging his territory permitting him to have a large section of Linn county in addition to his Marion county territory.

Fitting Hogs for Fairs

Doerfler Bros. of Silverton are getting a fine herd of Duroc Jersey Hogs for the fairs this fall. This herd is being selected from some 50 head, headed by the great Duroc sire Golden Rod, probably the greatest Duroc sire in the west. A. N. Doerfler the overseer of the herd is devoting most all his time at present to their care. He is now traveling over different parts of the state visiting the largest Duroc herds and reports there will be a strong competition at the fairs this fall. Doerfler Bros., are finding a ready demand for all their fine stock. Orders have been received from all parts of the west.

"My Best" Says Florence LaBadie

Florence LaBadie, Thanouser star, thinks "Her Life and His," which is to be a feature at the Star Theatre Sunday is her best picture. She and a party of friends saw it in the Thanouser studio "theaterette" at New Rochelle, N. Y.

"Isn't she grand!" murmured Miss LaBadie when she saw the heroine derail a conspiracy that had the ruin of the state prison warden for its goal. "O-h-h! I don't mean to compliment myself. I mean the girl in the play. I think it would be wonderful to be as resourceful and intelligently helpful as she is!"

Philip Lonergan wrote the story which was directed by Fredrick Sullivan.

Knitters Attention!

An urgent appeal comes from Red Cross headquarters for knitters. All laides, whether members or not, who will help with this work are requested to leave their name with the local secretary at the Stayton Red Cross headquarters in the Merrifield building, Friday afternoon, August 24th.

It is absolutely necessary that we know at once how many will take up this work, so that we can order the required number of needles and the amount of yarn.

Mrs. G. F. Korinek,
Sec. Stayton Auxiliary.

Entertained In Country

On Saturday last Mrs. T. W. Creech entertained the Birthday club at her home in Linn county. The ladies left Stayton at 2 p. m. and motored to the Creech home in the W. F. Follis, Alva Smith and J. P. Wilbur cars.

Upon reaching their destination the ladies spent some time visiting and doing fancy work, and later were invited into the dining room, which had been appropriately decorated for the occasion with the various kinds of vegetables now in season. An attractive basket of vegetables formed a centerpiece for the table and small cucumbers made good imitation candles. Each guest found a "corsage bouquet" composed of a small onion, carrot, etc., at her plate. The decorations were further carried out in the ice-cups, which had been tastily dressed in yellow tissue paper to resemble pumpkin blossoms. Excellent refreshments were served. The guest of honor was the hostess' sister, Mrs. Wilson, of Culver, Indiana. Beside the club members Mrs. Hall and small son Jack, little Misses Louene Thomas, Neva Smith, Elionae Smith and Julia Creech and Masters John Creech and Hugh Wilson were present.
