

"I Didn't Realize How Cold It Was This Morning"

"Some of the people I met on my way down town were huddled up and apparently half frozen. But the weather didn't seem particularly cold to me. I think it must have been that new Mesco Underwear I put on that kept out the cold. There was a warm, comfortable feeling about it when I slipped it on."

MESCO Underwear

Mesco Underwear is a friend to every man—no matter what his business. Every part of this unusual Underwear fits perfectly and always allows complete freedom.

There is no "prickly" sensation when in a warm building, because Mesco Underwear allows perfect ventilation at all times. And the perfect weave of the garment protects the wearer from any possible exposure to the cold winter winds. The body is always properly protected and continually kept warm and comfortable.
