FARM AND CITY LOANS
If you are paying a high rate of interest, why not refund your loan at a lower rate and more liberal terms. It is not good business to pay a higher rate of interest than the market demands, nor is it good business to keep your surplus funds on time deposits at 3 to 4 per cent. per annum when 6 per cent can readily be secured on first Farm Mortgages. If you have money to loan or wish to refund or secure a new one, call or write S. H. HELTZEL, Stayton, Oregon.

THE FAMILY LIFE.

Its Normal Restraints Make Man the Master of Himself.
Modern assailants of the family suppose that by destroying it they can emancipate the individuals who compose it. In their delirium they conceive that the goal of life is the throwing off of all restraints, says William Roscoe Thayer in Harper's Magazine. Nothing could be more mistaken.
Normal restraints, those which build up a man and make him master of himself, are really the means by which he gets his true freedom. A little water in a boiler will generate enough steam to run a locomotive; the same volume on the ground is a puddle and no more.
Discipline is the barrel of the gun, the rudder of the ship. The same law applies to human beings, and such an institution as the family has proved itself indispensable to the highest development of its members.
The man who thinks that by casting off his ties he gets a larger freedom deceives himself. At most he exchanges a higher plane for a lower and secures whatever privileges that descent implies. He retreats toward the plane of the beast, out of which it has been man's mission to rise and climb. He accepts the bondage of a more insistent selfishness.

AUSTRALIAN STORE TALK.

Their Term "Soft Goods" Means What We Call Dry Goods.
The United States is not the only country that takes liberties with the mother tongue. Australia speaks a language of trade that would not be understood elsewhere. For instance, "dry goods" is seldom heard, the Australian term being "soft goods." This generally applies only to piece goods, with some inclusion of ready to wear articles. The house or shop that carries articles for men's wear is known as a "mercery" and never as a haberdashery. "Haberdashery" means what in America is covered by "notions."
The shop that handles women's wear is known as a "draper's," and the organization composed of members of the trade is called the Master Drapers' association. The "mantle" department is the one that handles women's coats and suits. The manager of the store or shop is known as director, and an "assistant" is a salesman.
"Warehouseman does not mean a man who stores goods for others, but a wholesale dealer in "soft goods" and the like. The business of what is known in America as that of warehousemen is conducted in Australia by "bulk stores."—New York World.

Corsica and England.
It is an almost forgotten fact that for a period of a little more than two years during the Napoleonic wars Corsica was a British possession. After the evacuation of Toulon the British government felt it necessary to take the island, and Lord Howe, with Nelson as brigadier, was sent to drive out the French. With the capture of Calvi July 12, 1794, where Nelson lost his eye, the island fell into British hands, and George III. formally accepted the crown of Corsica, appointing Sir George Elliott as British viceroy and allowing the Corsicans to retain their legislative assembly. In 1796 the activity of the French navy in other parts of the Mediterranean resulted in a sudden decision of the British government to withdraw from the island. The evacuation was completed on Oct. 26 of that year, and Corsica reverted to France.

He Was Game.
They had been married three months and were having their first quarrel, which shows that they were a remarkable couple.
"Evidently," she said icily, "you regret that you have married me. The step is not irrevocable, however. If you care to be released from your bonds"—
"Naw," he interrupted impatiently. "I'm no ninety day recruit. I enlisted for the term of the war."
She couldn't think of any retort, so she maintained a scornful silence.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

History and Legend.
Not far from the town of Charlotte Amalie, in what was once the Danish West Indies, are two old towers commonly known as Bluebeard's castle and Blackbeard's castle. Legend has it that here these daring old buccaners had their headquarters and played their romantic roles as "the hornets of the Spanish main," but history disputes legend, for it says that they were really built by the Danish government as a measure of defense in 1689.

Screw Propellers.
Experiments made with two screw propellers for ships, one behind the other, show that but little increased speed is obtained by the arrangement, and rotating the two screws in opposite directions, either at the same or different speeds, has little effect on the results. It is, however, claimed that the double screw gives better control of the vessel.

Not a Gift.
"Did her father give the bride away?"
"No. He said that would be a silly custom when he knew very well that in a few weeks they'd both be back living at his expense."—Detroit Free Press.

Breaking It Gently.
Pupil—Now that you have heard my voice, would you recommend cultivation? Teacher—No; conservation.—The Lamb.
Experience is the extract of suffering. —Arthur Helps.

STORY OF A FORCED LOAN.

The Way Zapata Gave the Bankers of Mexico Two Surprises.
One morning Zapata, the Mexican leader, issued two proclamations. One was a prohibition edict closing the schools, the other a command for the bankers of the city to assemble for a conference.
The bankers attended the meeting. They went in fear, dreading confiscation of their deposits. Only a few days before the armies of General Carranza had collected a "forced loan" of 10,000,000 pesos from the banks. What mercy could be expected of the bandit leader? Zapata's speech was short and to the point.
"Caballeros," he said, "my men are hungry. I want 50,000 pesos to feed them for a few days. You will pay this. I promise you protection. You may carry on your business without molestation as long as you do not aid the enemy. You may go when you sign the order for the money."
Thankful to escape with such a modest demand, the bankers did as they were ordered. Zapata kept his part of the bargain, and for months the city was better policed than it has ever been since Porfirio Diaz was driven from Mexico. But this is the strange part of the story—strange to one who knows the system of confiscation which has bled the business men of the country.
Ten days later Zapata paid back the 50,000 pesos.—Christian Herald.

ARMOR PIERCING SHELLS.

They Proved Their Superiority Over the Gathmann Explosives.
The late Louis Gathmann, the inventor, who died at the age of seventy-four years, labored long and hard and with zeal and enthusiasm to bring about the development of the high explosive shell which bore his name.
It was Mr. Gathmann's belief that it was not necessary to carry the high explosive shell through armor plate and into the interior of a ship, but that if a sufficient quantity were detonated against the outside of a ship it would be equally if not more destructive.
He secured from congress an appropriation for an eighteen inch gun capable of throwing a shell containing 500 pounds of gun cotton. Our army and navy officers held that the only effective shell would be one of the armor piercing type provided with a delayed action fuse, which would burst the shell back of the armor.
Both types were tested at Sandy Hook about a score of years ago. The armor piercing shell penetrated an eleven inch plate and tore the backing to pieces. The Gathmann shell burst against the face of the plate, but failed to do more than dent it in the earlier rounds, finally cracking it in two in the last round. The superiority of the armor piercing shell was thus established.—Los Angeles Times.

She Was Fired.
In Hudson Maxim's "Dynamite Stories" is the following sad narrative:
"We once had a servant girl whom we nicknamed 'Jeopardy' because she could not be prevented from pouring kerosene directly from the can upon a lighted fire. One day Jeopardy left us very suddenly, and she never came back. We were sorry she left, as Jeopardy was a good girl. It developed that she had chanced to find a fifty pound case of dynamite sticks in the woodshed, which she had been using to start the fire in the kitchen stove. Sometimes dynamite will work all right for such a purpose, but it is notional stuff and cannot be depended upon merely to burn. It was during one of those intervals that Jeopardy went."

The Ruling Passion.
"Jibway is such a confirmed fan that he applies baseball slang to every conceivable situation."
"I've met men like that."
"For instance, the other day Jibway attended what was expected to be a wedding ceremony. The bridegroom failed to show up. There was much excitement and confusion. The bride was so angry she vowed she would marry any man who would take the missing bridegroom's place."
"Well, well!"
"That was when Jibway sang out, 'Is there a pinch hitter present?'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Famous Beauty.
Mme. de Remusat had features so perfect that her contemporaries said she was worthy to sit as a model for a Greek goddess. The flesh of her face closely resembled alabaster, and yet she was not pale and did not give the impression of being in delicate health. Her beauty attracted universal attention to her, no matter where she went, and even in old age she retained most of her good looks.

Passes Him By.
Askett—Well, George, are you meeting with success now that you are a lawyer?
George—Yes, I seem to meet with it every place I go, but it is the other fellow who is on friendly terms with it.—Indianapolis Star.

A Word to the Boys.
A boy should not get the idea that he can score in the game of life through the errors of his opponents. To win he must be able to make hits.—Youth's Companion.

Worse Than Before.
Mrs. Exe—Well, what do you think of Clara's voice now that she is through with her singing lessons?
Exe—It's no better and there's a lot more of it.—Boston Transcript.

School Notes

Stayton experienced their first defeat of the season at Woodburn last Friday night. During the first half the game was very close, being 10-7 in favor of Woodburn. But in this half Wallace Smith sustained a sprained ankle which decreased the team work and quality of playing during the second half and the game ended disastrously for Stayton, the score being 34-12.

Since Friday marks the end of the first semester of school, this is the week of final exams. The students receiving an average of "A" for their semesters work are not required to take the exams.

A local teachers meeting will be held in the Stayton high school building, on Saturday January 26, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. Demonstration lessons in reading will be given in the forenoon by Mrs. Clara Pratt and W. C. Hapes. The afternoon will be given to teachers' questions and to the teaching of thrift, club work, etc. A high school teachers' council will be organized in the forenoon.

The supper given by the D. S. girls last Friday evening was a grand success and the girls and instructor are thankful to all those who helped in making the evening a success. Psychic waves are so great about the Commercial room that no notes could be given.

Isinglass in its natural state was exhibited to the grade pupils last week, also a live tarantula was shown to them.

The eighth grade girls were entertained by Alma Nendel at her home last Friday evening.

The seventh grade pupils had a party at Weddle's last Friday evening, a taffy pull took up the greater part of the evening.

Some of the seventh and eighth grade pupils are to do some reading work for the Teacher's Institute Saturday.

The pupils of the sixth grade are writing book reviews.

The picture "By the River" has been studied by the fifth grade pupils.

Mrs. Mars' pupils are learning "Shades of Night" a three part song.

The second grade pupils will give a demonstration in reading by the Unit Method at the Teachers' Institute Saturday.

Luine Thomas is seriously ill.

Chas. Porter, son of J. H. Porter, returned Friday from Anchorage and other points in Alaska, where he has been for about three years. Mr. Porter states that the Mariposa, which recently went down, was the boat that he and Warren Richardson went to Alaska on. He also says that there were about 30 men who had worked under him, on the boat when she went down.

Stayton friends of Corp. Billy Smoke, who went east with Co. M. some months ago, have received word that he has been sick in bed for eight weeks. He was taken sick with scarlet fever, which was followed by pleurisy and a complication of disorders. He is now in the general hospital in New York and has about recovered from his ailments.
