Personal Gain First

The rankiest example of seeking votes at other peoples expense was just witnessed in Oregon when a candidate for public service commissioner ran for office on the slogan, "A six cent fare is too much for a five cent ride."

The public service commission is supposed to use reason and justice in deciding rate questions, which they did in the Portland case, but the slogan was used to catch the socialistic and ignorant vote in Portland at the expense of one of Oregon's largest industries.

It entirely ignored Pres. Wilson's and Sec. McAdoo's request that utilities be granted immediate relief where necessary and takes no cognizance of the fact that railroad rates are to be increased by the government, 25 per cent to meet just such conditions as the street car companies face.

Its a disgrace to the state that a political catch all phrase can be used to buy votes in this manner.

We are not personally interested in Mr. Miller and never heard of Mr. Williams but we are interested in a system of this kind by which personal political ambitions can be used to destroy the credit and good standing of our state.

Trains on the C. & E. railroad will change time Monday. Trains going west will pass through Kingston in the morning, and going east in the evening. The time has not been given out.

NATURE'S WARNING

Stayton People Must Recognize and Heed it.

Kidney ills come—mysteriously. But nature generally warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unnatural—If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. Its time to fear serious kidney trouble.

Its time to use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Z. T. Stoutemyer, Washington St., Eugene, Ore., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I have needed a kidney medicine for the past twenty-five years and they have never failed to do me good. Whenever I notice that my kidneys don't act right, I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon put them in good working order and my back becomes as strong as ever."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Stoutemyer uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

How Much Longer?

Oil and waterpower legislation has had a rocky road to travel in congress for years past.

Politicians have cried "conservation" in regard to these great natural resources without considering what conservation meant.

The cry brought votes, however, at the expense of the west, while coal burned which should have been supplanted by waterpower running merrily to the sea and oil staid in the ground while the price doubled and trebled and our oil burning industries begged in vain for the precious fluid where is the conservation in the forced destruction of coal and the crippling of industries through the scarcity of fuel oil.

Some false conservationists are still trying to block oil and waterpower development at this critical time but the public has a better understanding of the situation today and relief must soon be granted.

True conservation is shown by the wise and economical use of any resources

Down to Earth

In addition to its other qualities extraordinary, unusual night photography is one of the features offered in the new Douglas Fairbanks-Artercraft picture coming to the Star theatre next Sunday. With the aid of flare lights and a special photographic device Camera-man Victor Flemming filmed a scene of the popular actor relaxing on the ground looking up at the stars one evening, which effect has caused considerable comment around film producing centers. The Fairbanks photographer is hardly more than a boy and his exceptional work has often caused wide comment. Youth is quite characteristic of the Fairbanks organization. Anita Loos, the clever scenario writer, is in her 21st year. Camera-man Flemming and his staff including Harvy Thorpe, Glen MacWilliams and Charles Warrington are all under the voting age and various other important members

GEHLEN'S STORE

The Farmer's Share

Live stock is marketed from farmer to consumer at a lower cost than almost any other farm product.

The United States Department of agriculture reported in 1916 that the farmer gets for his cattle "approximately two-thirds to three-fourths" of the final retail price paid by the consumer for the resulting beef.

Under normal conditions, the farmer's share of retail prices of various farm products is approximately as follows:

Butter	71 per cent
CATTLE	66 2/3 to 75 per cent
Eggs	65 per cent
Potatoes	55 per cent
Poultry	45 per cent
Fruits	35 per cent

The difference between farmer's price and retail price represents the necessary expenses of packing, freight and wholesale and retail distribution.

Swift & Company not only performs the manufacturing operations of preparing cattle for market in its well-equipped packing plants, but it pays the freight on meat to all parts of the United States, operates 500 branch distributing houses, and in most cases even delivers to the retail butcher. All this is done at an expense of less than 2 cents per pound, and at a profit of only about 1/4 of a cent per pound of beef.

Large volume of business and expert management, make possible this indispensable service to the live-stock raiser and to the consumer, and make possible the larger proportion of retail prices received by farmers.
