There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Soldiers Letters

France—May 12, 1918

Dear Mother,

Well mother, thought I would drop you a few lines. Today is a very busy day for me and will not have time to write much. All the boys are writing to their mothers today. Most all of them have mothers and have been talking about them all day. I hope this letter will find you well and happy. I am well and like it fine here in France.

It is raining some today but it won't last long. We have a ball game once in a while and lots of sports of that kind.

You will have to pardon me for this short letter for I am pretty busy today.

As your very own loving son
Pvt. Luther S. Cole

Camp Sheridan, Ala.—June 11.

Dear Uncle, Aunt and all,

Will write you a few lines this evening. I read your good letter yesterday and had a letter from home today.

I am fine and dandy and like the work all O. K.

We took a little hike this evening about three miles with our full equipment consisting of medical belt, provision pouch, canteen, hatchet, bed shelter, tent and necessary toilet articles, it was awfully warm and a few of the boys got so hot they had to fall out and rest.

They had us get all of our stuff that we wanted to take across the sea and they inspected our goods and we will have to send what we don't need home or get rid of it.

Well, Uncle John, I can't tell you much about this country for we have not been out of camp but once since we came down here and that was mostly after dark and we went to town. I see a little cotton and corn growing, the corn is mostly garden corn. Tell the people at Howell I sure appreciate the remembrance they have shown me by remembering me in their Service Flag.

Am sorry there is a gold star in it so soon.

Well Elma, we take all kinds of arm exercises, bend backward and forward, sideways, and just such things as that.

Next time they treat John to ice cream you tell him to eat two dishes for me.

Yes, we have cotton suits but our new fellows have not any woolen clothes yet.

Yes, I sure am getting enough to eat.

Will close and do a little washing.

With love to all,
Algie Moss

Somewhere in France—May 17-18

Dear Father,

As I have a few spare moments will drop you a line or two.

Am over here safely in good comfortable quarters and plenty to eat and feeling O. K. But everything is so different and old fashioned which seems funny after being in our own country at home with modern equipment.

The country is rolling here and the roads and fields are well kept up. The buildings are nearly all stone and there is some great work in the big stone railroad bridges. Have taken hikes out different roads from the city and enjoy new sights every day. Today has been a dull day as it has rained nearly all day, the first for several days.

Nearly all my Battery has moved a short distance in the country and a few of us are to have special instructions in driving tractors and trucks.

Have seen several Oregon boys in different places who were supposed to be in the trenches at home, but are not over here. All the soldiers over here are well cared for, as America has too much not to look out for us.

Hoping this finds you all well, I am closing for this time.

Your son, Clyde Harold

For Riley, Kans., June 7.

W. F. Klecker:

Dear Sir: Will drop you a few lines, letting you know that I am still well and hope you are all the same. Well, how is good old Stayton? I sure miss Stayton, especially the dances.

I was at Camp Lewis first. I was there about four weeks and applied for medical officers training camp and passed and am now in the M. O. T. C. and transferred to Ft. Riley, Kan. But Camp Lewis for mine. I've been in Ft. Riley two weeks. It is sure hot here. Storms of all kinds.

We sure get treated fine in the M. O. T. Corps. As far as I know we will leave here next Tuesday to go east. Will soon be treating wounded in France. I wish, Bill, you would apply for a job at Dr. Brewer's for me, as after the war I will be some doctor.

How is Sublimity? I was home just before I left Camp Lewis. Home sure looked good to me.

Give my best regards to my friends in Stayton.

I remain as ever your friend

Henry F. Rauscher.

Vivian Martin as

A Fire-Fighter

The fact that motion picture people are usually equal to any emergency was never better demonstrated than by Vivian Martin, well-known Paramount star, and her director, George H. Melford, and the members of her company when one of the numerous buildings of the Rincon Camp, far up in the San Gabriel Canyon, California, caught fire the night they were to start on their long ride back to the studio.

The company had been camping at this place in order to film exterior scenes for Miss Martin's starring vehicle, "The Sunset Trail" which will be seen at the Star theatre, Saturday.

The fire was discovered at one of the cabins at about eleven o'clock and Miss Martin, Mr. Melford and several of the actors sounded the alarm. The value of their work can best be described by one of the rescuing party.

"We wrecked the cabin, but we certainly did put out that fire." The ever-alert property man was discovered on the return trip, trudging along the desert road. Asked where he was bound, he replied: "Going to the studio to get a fire extinguisher."

You are invited to celebrate July 4, 1918 at Lebanon Oregon. Program begins at 9:30 a. m. with a Grand military and civic parade. Several companies of Oregon Volunteer Guards participating. Games and races for cash prizes. Ball game at 4:30 p. m. free. Music by band. Oration by prominent speaker. Rest and refreshment room in charge of Red Cross. Commissary in charge of churches, hotels and restaurants. Come and enjoy the day at Lebanon Oregon.
