Fitz said he weighed 168 pounds when he was taken sick and just tipped the scales at 100 when he came out. A little bit lighter, so he says, but he is feeling fit as a fiddle now.

Under the title How Bold Is Anne! Winifred Harper Cooley presents the personal side of Anne Martin of Nevada, a woman who admits a feminine fondness for lingerie blouses and frilly things while she puts in her days working to achieve a United States Senatorial chair. Her picturesque campaign for the Senate is explained, and enough of her history to show why she feels that a woman can satisfactorily represent her state in Washington.

Rev. W. J. Warren received the following from Burgess F. Ford, which shows that Mr. Ford has been "over the top"
Headquarters 19th Div.,
A. E. F. France
Sept. 24, 1918

To J. W. Nixon,
Div. Sec. Y.M.C.A.,
Nine Secretaries were with the Infantry battalions, and two secretaries (F. A. Daws and B. F. Ford) actually went over the top with the assaulting battalions and carried on their work in the midst of the severest losses. I specially desire to commend the zeal and fortitude of these two gentlemen, and to thank the Y. M. C. A. for having sent such representatives to us.
Very truly yours,
Henry T. Allen,
Major General.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our thanks to the many friends for their kindness in the days of our wife's and mother's illness, and in the hour of our bereavement. We also desire to express our appreciation for the many beautiful flowers.

Juneau, Alaska.—Few governors under the Stars and Stripes can travel 5,000 miles within their commonwealths, and Gov. Thomas Riggs, Jr., of Alaska is one of the few. In making a tour of his territory he goes from Juneau to Nome on the first lap, then crosses the Gulf of Alaska and goes up Cook Inlet to Anchorage. At Fairbanks he strikes the Tanana river and boards a sternwheel river boat for St. Michael on Bering sea. Thence an ocean vessel or launch takes him to Nome.

On account of the Influenza scare of the past two weeks, the
