Tallow Dips in Denmark.

Denmark has a lighting problem so serious that the Danish government recently purchased 400 tons of tallow from which to make candles. Commercial Agent Normal Anderson reports from Copenhagen.

"There is a scarcity of kerosene also, and electricity is, of course, not available to the isolated farmhouse," says Mr. Anderson, who quotes from the Tidskrift for Industri, which, in discussing the possibilities of acetylene and alcohol illumination, states: "Acetylene may now legally be used and may be included in fire insurance risks. As a result the manufacture of acetylene lamps has flourished greatly and at the end of the year 180 types had been put on the market."—Exchange.

Yperite, New Poison Gas.

J. Baudouin and J. de Polinoff (Bulletin de l'Academie de Medicine) call the reader's attention to the efficiency of hot air in the treatment of burns caused by yperite, a gas used by the Germans in their offensive of March, 1918. These burns, even when very small, cause extremely sharp pain and sleeplessness. A number of cases were rapidly healed by hot air after various treatments had failed.

An Allied Uniform.

In a vaudeville theater at one of the French ports there was a comedian who had an act which he called "Le Nouvel Uniforme." He wore a French steel helmet topped with the cock feathers of the Italians. His coat and breeches were of khaki. About his waist was slung a Scotch sporran. He wore golf stockings. The top of one was the pattern of the French flag and the other of the American flag. And he sang a song about the lurch at Wauchope—a Frenchman's interpretation of an American idea of American harmony! Certainly nothing could have been more silly.—Roy S. Lurston, in Scribner's Magazine.

No Co-Operation.

"I always try to make the best of a bad situation," remarked Mr. Galt.

"What do you do when your water pipes freeze and then burst?"

"Oh, I sing a little song just to show that I'm not worrying."

"That's highly commendable."

"But when the water begins to leak on the people who occupy the flat beneath mine to save my life I can't persuade them to join me in singing."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

JAMES KNEW IT WAS COMING

So, contrary to all precedent, he pleaded with his mother to administer the "Dose."

James, his mother called him, but he preferred the name of Jimmie, by which the neighborhood knew him. He also preferred rough-and-tumble clothes to starched clean apparel—the movies to Sunday school—and almost anything to grade school, although he had given it only a few weeks' trial, the Kansas City Star says.

While his father is overzealous with a government permit to hunt the Hun, the mother adds to the family income by working in an office close to home. James had made it a custom to meet his mother at the closing hour and accompany her home.

Early one morning James started for school dressed in a clean new suit. That evening an almost unrecognizable six-year-old youngster awaited his mother at the office. Immediately upon her appearance he stepped forth with the explanation, forestalling anything that might be said or done on her part. "I didn't go to school. I went riding with the coal man. I 'spect you're going to whip me." Placing a smudgy hand upon his mother's arm, he continued: "Come on, let's hurry home and get it over with."

PROBLEM FOR ART EXPERTS

How to Save Masterpieces of Painting is Matter Which Puzzles Authorities in Italy.

A heating apparatus powerful enough to force heat through a pile of sandbags 12 feet thick and to dry without scorching the wall behind is needed to preserve one of the world's masterpieces, "The Last Supper," of Leonardo da Vinci, which is painted on the wall of the Church of Santa Maria delle Grazie at Milan, Italy. The dampness which accumulates in the sand necessary as a protection from air raids is fast fading the colors of the picture, already damaged by time. The restoration necessary for Leonardo's picture is unsuited to the frescoes of Luini and other masters painted on the same wall. How to give each set of masterpieces the treatment required is the problem. So far the experts of the Italian ministry of the arts have been unable to find a solution.

In the Trenches.

"What's the matter, Bill, home-stick?"

"Well, not exactly, but sometimes I wonder which one of my brothers-in-law is wearing my white waistcoat"

Peace Ambassadors.

General Mangin possesses a vein of serene humor. When, in the autumn of 1916, he had helped to undo in a few days the work for which the crown prince during eight months had sacrificed the flower of the Kaiser's army, at Verdun, Germany launched a peace offensive. Reviewing his men one day, Mangin eyed them over and remarked with a grim smile. "Ah, you're the sort of peace ambassadors the republic wants."

Wrecked Punishment.

A cigarette carelessly thrown away by a guard caused discomfort to a squad of engineers at Camp Shelby, Miss., says a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. E. Borton, Indianapolis, from their son, George K. Borton of the engineers.

Borton and six comrades awoke about midnight to find their tent in flames. They were driven into the chilly night air in sleeping apparel. Soldiers from nearby tents hurried to the rescue with blankets and Private Borton ran a hundred yards for water. The fire department arrived in time to soak the cot. The following morning the guard of the squad was ordered to wash seven pairs of trousers as a punishment for dropping the cigarette near the tent.

What Does Testing Mean?

"Testing" means finding specific gravity of battery solution by measuring it with the hydrometer.

The test is simple, but of utmost importance because it is the only means of telling whether your battery is being kept in condition by proper charging or weakened by starvation.

Testing is an important part of the service that you as a user of a Willard Storage Battery are entitled to receive. We will make the test for you or show you how you can keep tab on your battery by testing it yourself every week or two.

When you come for your next test ask for the booklet, "A Talk with a Meaning for You."

Lafayette Home Shelters Orphans.
The old home of General Lafayette, at Chauvauc, a town in the department of Haute-Loire, is being used as an American home for French war orphans. The Lafayette fund conducts the shelter.

A hundred children from the devastated regions are at Chauvauc. A modern schoolhouse and a hospital have been built near the old chateau. The orphans learn English. They are being brought up with the aim of sending them to America after the war for the completion of their professional or commercial education. They are learning American ways and ideas. In America, each child has a godfather who will take over its education later.

The best care that American science can give is afforded the children. The Lafayette fund is a wealthy organization and intends to greatly extend its work.

Some of the money paid to the farmer during a single day comes back to the company in a month from sale of products; much does not come back for sixty or ninety days or more. But the next day Swift & Company, to meet the demands made by its customers, must pay out another $2,000,000 or so, and at the present high price levels keeps over $250,000,000 continuously tied up in goods on the way to market and in bills owed to the company.

The farmer, feeder, or shipper receives every cent of this money ($300,000 an hour, nearly $2,000,000 a day, $11,500,000 a week) in cash, on the spot, as soon as the stock he has just sold is weighed up.

All this money is paid to the farmer through trading hours of every business day.

This amount is paid to the farmer for live stock, by Swift & Company alone, during the
