STATE BANKING EXPERIMENT.

The Non-Partisan League which controls the legislature of the State of North Dakota will start a state bank with $2,000,000 state bonds.

A State Industrial Commission composed of the Governor, Attorney General and Agriculture Commissioner will have supreme control of the bank.

The Commission, besides running the bank, will have control of all locations of all public utilities, and the right to construct them on state credit.

All state, county, municipal, school district and road funds shall be deposited in the bank within three months after it opens for business.

All deposits placed in the bank are guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the state of North Dakota and are exempt from all taxation.

The State Bank may make loans to counties or subdivisions, to other banks or on real estate or 90 per cent of value of commodities on warehouse receipts.

Bank real estate loans and interest are to be used to issue bonds for money to be loaned on real estate and in case of crop failures loans both principal and interest are automatically extended one year.

Even the credit of N. D. may be impaired under socialism and the state become a bankrupt the same as the leader of the Non-Partisan League, now in full control of that state.

North Dakota is a good state to get out of now.

OUR ARMY.

We stand upon the threshold of a new era, and we cannot predict what its opening doors will show us.

During the next few months our young men will come home from abroad. They are indeed picked men. Both in physical and mental qualities. They are the representatives of our nation. From their age and qualifications we know them to be the men who will shape the policies of this country for the next twenty-five years.

Two million in number, they have gone through an experience which was certain to alter them. What changes may have been made in their character and opinions we cannot tell.

Probably their military training will lead them to demand more exactness in all details and business arrangements. But this is entirely subordinate to the great question of how they will react upon America—how they will form her ideas and influence her.

The future must tell us. Just now they are only our boys coming home, and we will receive them with a joyous welcome.

DEMANDS THAT ARE REVOLUTIONARY.

A radical at Chicago Labor convention said: "We will stop every wheel in the land and make the country look like an Arizona desert."

A fund of a million dollars was ordered raised to secure the release of Mooney and Billings, convicted anarchists serving life sentences.

W. F. Dunn, the Butte radical labor leader, said of the universal strike to take place July 4: "This general strike is revolution. It strikes at the power of the courts."

In the three hour's debate President Wilson's name was hissed and the Fourth of July was sneeringly referred to as "the masters holiday."

The American Federation of Labor will be asked to endorse the general strike ordered for July 4. That is simply a request to endorse revolutionary methods.

HOOVERIZE?

Oh Hoover, dear Hoover, come home to us now!

They have taken the food rules away,

Yet they ask us to save and they don't tell us how.

And we need you so badly to-day!

May we eat pork and beef, of all dinners the chief,

Or must we take lamb in their stead?

And say if you please, may we have bread and cheese,

And should it be substitute bread?

Shall we eat raisin cake? Apple pies may we bake?

We're all of us sadly perplexed.

The food rules, dear Hoover, seem all to be over:

Oh come home and tell us what next.

In securing the "dry" camel the nation is making an interesting addition to its menagerie. It already possessed the Democratic donkey and the G. O. P. elephant, and now only needs a box of monkeys to complete collection. Perhaps the I. W. W.'s will favor.

The National drill for the people at home these last two years has been simple.—Take-Pocketbook. Open-Pocketbook. Extract-Dollars. Pay-Taxes.

If you are tired, thin and thirty, be patient and have courage! You may be "fair, fat and forty" some day.

John Barleycorn will soon be buried and Aquo Pura will attend the funeral.

Home Life

By Rev. W. J. Warren

The christian home is the greatest force for good we have in the world. This being so, it follows that the unchristian home is the greatest force for evil.

The longer I live, the more I see of the successes and failures of life, the more I am impressed that the home problem is the greatest problem of our civilization.

"The homes of our country are so many streams pouring themselves into the great current of moral, social and political life."

If the home life is pure all is pure. Build your palaces amass your wealth, but as you see a drunken son or a wayward daughter coming home, where is your happiness?

Mr. Gladstone and Dr. Talmadge were talking of great international questions. Gladstone said "there is but one question, 'Christianity' (in the home)—settle that and you settle all. It seems to me the only way to make the world better is to make the home better. Our boys and girls will be the men and women of the future, who will make or mar our fair land. The home gives us our men and women.

National life never rises above the home life nor sinks below it. Therefore home authority and example are needed. It was cursed because "his sons were vile, and he restrained them not." God's ideal nation starts with the home; He selected Abraham to be the father of the nation, because God knew him "that he will command his children and his household after him."

Home authority and example settle the great question of life and character. Anarchy and outlawism are born in the home. The child who does not obey his parents will obey neither social, civil nor divine laws.

When God said "children obey your parents, He told the world where obedience originates.

As far as I can see the most dangerous sign of the times is neglect of home life, and the growing disrespect of children for their parents.

An eight year old boy can scream and lie on the floor and kick, when asked by his father to close the window, and can bring his father to his terms so well that he says to hisson, very well Thomas I will close it myself. The boy says I will or I will not and that is an end to it. We must expect our children to be much like what we are, what we sow we shall most assuredly reap in our children.

A banker in England, on leaving his home one morning, when there was snow on the ground, got almost as far as the front gate on his way to the bank; when he looked behind and saw his little boy five years old trying to follow him, by walking in his footsteps. On seeing his father looking at him he said "it is all right dada, it is all right dada. I am following in your footsteps. He retraced his steps and carried the child back into the house. This father was a moderate drinker, and said to himself, "well, if my boy follows me in one way he will in two." So he never tasted strong drink again for his boy's sake.
