When a town ceases to grow it commences to die, and the more the people try to kill off each other in their business and good name, the more rapidly will utter ruin come to all. Stand together for the advancement of every citizen. If a man shows ability to prosper do not pull him back with jealousy or weigh him down with cold indifference.

A romance which began before the war, ended happily in this city Wednesday, when Miss Idris Rossell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rossell, of Stayton, became the bride of Guy W. P. The period between Lincoln's birthday anniversary, February 12, and the anniversary of the birth of Washington, February 22, will be observed throughout the United States as a means of promoting thrift. Stores will arrange attractive window displays using the pictures of Lincoln and Washington with that of Benjamin Franklin as American exponents of thrift. Merchants in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District are planning to aid the thrift campaign in this manner.

Pull together, brethren. We are all here for the same purpose. Then live and let live. The best way to build up a town is for each and every man to pull together and not to rend and pull down. All the residents of a town are partners, not opponents. In all likelihood, the more business done by your rival the more you will do.

SCHOOL NOTES

Carola Mielke—Editor

The Board feels very fortunate in being able to secure Mrs. Loyd Tegart of Portland to fill Mr. Horton's vacancy. Mrs. Tegart is a graduate of the University of Oregon, but has just recently returned from New York, where she has been with her husband who is a Naval Officer and who has been doing transport duty. Mrs. Tegart will have charge of the English and Biology classes and also English History.

The School recently received another letter from Burgess F. Ford, stating that he was sending a German Officers dress helmet as a souvenir for the school. The helmet arrived as soon as the letter and has been the object of much examination by the teachers, High School students, and grade pupils for the past several days. All feel very elated over the gift and Mr. Ford's thoughtfulness in sending it. A packet of cards also came, showing various French and German cities, the Americans in Luxemburg, ect. The helmet and cards will be on display at the school and any one wishing to see them, is at liberty to do so at any time. In his letter Mr. Ford wrote of his busy life with the Y. M. C. A., stating that he has charge of canteens in eight different cities. He expects to be home sometime in March and assured the High School of an early visit.

Attendance in the high school was normal when school opened Monday morning. In the grades however, the teachers all report their attendance above normal. Much enthusiasm for work is shown throughout the whole school. Some of the teachers report that home work has been done and it has been of great value to the pupils who were so industrious.

Miss Margaret Schaefer, Secretary of the Senior Class, had a very pleasant surprise in store for that class Monday morning when she announced that the long looked for Senior rings had arrived. The Seniors immediately adjourned to Miss Miller's rooms, where they received them with all due ceremony. The rings are indeed worthy of much mention, as they are very artistic in design and altogether make a fitting emblem for the Senior class.

There is to be a Teachers' Institute at Woodburn on Saturday February 15. Most of the teachers from here are planning to attend.

The usual bi-weekly commotion regarding the Senior play is again in evidence. We sincerely trust that their activity will actually mean the production of the play in due time.

Cleo Weddle had the misfortune last Tuesday to fall on the walk in front of the school building, injuring her back. The grade pupils are interested at present in making valentines. Some of the rooms are planning to have valentine boxes on the 14th.
