

He would have subscribed to the Victory Liberty Loan because he was a real American.

He practiced what he preached —Americanism.

You might have disagreed with him at times but to the whole world he stood for America.

Are you doing less?

You are unless you are willing to sacrifice—unless you take your share of the Victory Liberty Loan

FARM AND CITY LOANS

If you are paying a high rate of interest, why not refund your loan at a lower rate and more liberal terms. It is not good business to pay a higher rate of interest than the market demands, nor is it good business to keep your surplus funds on time deposits at 3 to 4 per cent. per annum when 6 per cent can readily be secured on first Farm Mortgages. If you have money to loan or wish to refund or secure a new one, call or write S. H. HELTZEL, Stayton, Oregon.

FINE PLAYERS IN "RIDDLE GAWNE"

A fine cast will be seen in William S. Heart's new Arctcraft picture, "Riddle Gawne," which will be shown at Star Theatre next Sunday, April 27. Besides the splendid personality of Mr. Hart and the beautiful presence of Katherine MacDonald, his leading woman, there are in the list of players such well known actors as Lon Chaney, Gretchen Lederer, Gertrude Short, Leon Kent, Milton Ross and E. B. Tilton.

The photography is by Joe August, who gets all those wonderful "shots" of mountain trails and prairies that abound in the Heart pictures. Mr. Heart directed the pictures himself.

Future Air Travel.

It is predicted that in ten—maybe five—years from now, the sky will be marked out in regular lines of air travel, as the earth now is banded with steel rails. Stations and eating houses probably will be established high in the air, where the big limiteds will draw up alongside captive dining balloons for the usual 25 minutes for dinner. Aerated water will be served, and even the prices will be inflated. In this vision is seen but one feature which harks back to 1918: The dining-room girls will still be wearing those solemn, ugly black dresses, radiating the same old gloom even to the last table farthest back in the farthest corner.

Fish Trapped in Tomato Can.

Early in November Allen Wiffin of Blairsville, N. Y., filled a tomato can nearly full of worms and went to the lake to fish for pike. He anchored his rowboat near Lone Bar and proceeded to fish.

Late in the afternoon Wiffin placed his catch in a bag, picked up the can, which has half-full of angleworms, and threw it into the water. He says that when the can struck the water a large fish jumped out, hit the can with its tail, and the can filled with water and sank.

A few days later Wiffin again went to the lake to fish. He anchored his boat 50 rods from shore and had fished for nearly an hour when he discovered a tin can floating on the water. The peculiar motion of the can attracted his attention, he says, and he rowed the boat to it, and with a landing net scooped the can into the boat. Great was his surprise, he says, when he raised the can from the water to see a large fish with its head in the can.

Patriotic.

"See how Bill's wife is stamping her foot at him for wearing out the carpet by not wiping his feet."
"Yes; those are regular thrift stamps."

ARMY SURGEONS REBUILD YANKS BODY AND MIND

West's Crippled Heroes Being Fitted to Make Their Own Way.

Reconstruction—no, that's too prosaic. Regeneration is the only word that can describe the remarkable work of rebuilding the wounded in the military hospitals. One feels, after a tour of one of these hospitals, that he has been permitted a visit to a divine workshop where men are fashioned in parts, put together, and taught to function. God made Adam of dust, but these modern scientific surgeons make their men of wood and iron, gold and silver, bone and clay. That is the physical.

Of the mental and spiritual—that which is intangible—well, only these surgeons blow into their men of wood and iron, gold and silver, bone and clay, a spirit. And having blown into their product this spirit, they feed the spirit. Then months later from this hospital walks a man who was a machinist before his legs were blown off at Chateau Thierry. Now he is a draughtsman on his way to a job, confident, happy, independent. He is walking on legs of iron and wood. You would have to see him take them off before you would believe it. He walks so well. Yet his legs are no newer than his spirit or his ability as a draughtsman. Nor is his spirit or ability less firm than those new legs of wood and iron.

The Cost.

There are 1200 war wounded and sick in Letterman General Hospital in the Presidio at San Francisco. Most of these men from the Argonne, Belleau Wood, St. Mihiel, Chateau Thierry, are being remade bodily and spiritually. Of the two phases of their regeneration, the spiritual is perhaps the more difficult. For when a man is mangled of his legs, or his arms, or his eyes, he is apt to lose more than those physical assets. He loses his economic value and with it his confidence and his self-respect. For proof of that we have the legless, the armless, the blind begging on our street corners. They have lost their spirit.

Of course, this divine workshop of the military surgeons is an expensive regenerator. It takes thousands of dollars each month to carry on the work in Letterman Hospital alone, and Letterman is only one of many such hospitals, all of them run by the government.

So next April when the Victory Liberty Loan comes knocking at your door, remember that a big part of the money you lend is to be used to keep running the machinery of these divine workshops where men who were mangled for love of America are being remade.

THE FIRST THOUSAND

When a man gets a thousand dollars saved up there are always opportunities for a good investment. It is hard to place much less than that. That is why wealthy men who are self-made advise young men to begin early and save the first thousand.

Until we went to war, in order to get a thousand dollars together one had to go to the bank and put a little away each month or each week or tuck part of his salary away in an old-sock. It was troublesome to go to the bank and the sock was too handy.

"Doughboy."

There seems to be very little known on the subject of the origin of the appellation "doughboy." An English attempt, however, has been made to trace its origin, but with indifferent success. Colonel Repington, in the London Post of October 5, ultimo, says: "If I have a preference, it is likely for the 'doughboys,' the doughy American infantry. I believe that the name comes from a Spanish word, and was given by the American cavalry to the infantry during the old Mexican war, because the infantry was usually covered with dust. It does not matter, but doughboys they are and will remain. They are mighty fine infantry. They are soaked with the offensive spirit."

Soldiers' Rations Costly.

According to figures given out by General Smith of the quartermaster's department, it costs almost three times as much to feed an American soldier today as it did in the Spanish war. The cost in 1898 was 12.81 cents a day. Now it is 32 cents. The ration is a fixed standard, and accordingly the cost figures have mounted steadily in recent years.

All He Had Left.

The conjuror was giving a sleight of hand performance. One of his feats was to make a marked dollar bill disappear in the sight of the crowd, which he did successfully.

"That marked dollar bill will be found in the vest pocket of that gentleman," said the conjuror, pointing with his magic wand at Sam Lawing.

All eyes were riveted on Sam, who advanced to the front, took some money from his vest pocket and said: "Boss, here's your change. Ah've had two beers and a cigar out of that dollar you told me to keep in my pocket till you called for it."
