He wishes to take this opportunity of informing bathers that they will have to find some other place in which to exhibit their pretty forms in the future.

Wheat Seven Feet Tall

Talk about bumper crops, Mr. Crause, who has a fine farm and a large crop of wheat, has been exhibiting a sample of the grain that measures seven feet. There are a number of acres of this grain which is in a sort of a draw, that is moist practically all the time, and is so heavy that it was necessary to cut it with the mower for hay. The land is located in the McAlpine district.

It has been said that he who has no enemies has no friends, and this is especially true of the editor. If he takes no stand on a proposition he makes no enemies, but he also makes no friends and his influence for right is a minus quality. On the other hand if he supports projects of which he approves and helps to defeat actions which do not seem right to him, he makes enemies. But he also makes firm, lasting friends, and he has the satisfaction of knowing that he has done his best.
