High Cost of Hunting

In our fathers' time, fish and game, obtained at little cost from stream and field, helped mightily in keeping down the meat bills. Ten cents worth of powder, five cents worth of shot, the family muzzle-loader, a copy of the village newspaper for wadding and a leisurely day out doors mead meat—plenty of it. In almost every state, a generation ago, game was far more plentiful than it is today.

With the increase of population and the invention of modern sporting arms, wild birds and beasts have become almost exterminated in many localities.

Now it costs money to go hunting, and the sportsman hardly would dare calculate the price of the duck or pheasant he brings home. Guns and ammunition have gone way up; and a good bird dog is worth as much as a good horse.

The boy with the musket and powder horn is a dim and faded vision of the past.

Americans are masters of spending. They have spent the cream of natural resources such as timber and oil; they have spent in the same lavish fashion, the teeming life of the woods and waters. And now they spend fortunes pursuing the few surviving specimens in feathers and fur.

CONSTRUCTIVE BANKING PROGRAM

Bankers these days are racking their brains how to improve the service their institutions are rendering the community.

There is no line of business or community service that is so highly organized to help the public today as banking.

Bankers are studing how to reach out the helping hand to legitimate enterprises and efforts at community building.

While there is strife between capital and labor, largely fomented by labor agitators, there can be no free movement of capital into industrial development. But there is a constructive line bankers are taking thought upon and that is the encouragement of capital going into the housing situation.

During the war period all building not absolutely necessary was discouraged and there is today a shortage of at least a million homes in our country. This means that a thousand million dollars must go into new houses or on an average of sixty million dollars in each state and banks must furnish the capital.

There are plenty of building lots, plenty of material in the lumber states of the west, and there is going to be plenty of labor this coming winter unemployed. What better line can banks take up than helping clients with capital or credit, to finance, plan and erect buildings that are needed by the score in every community?

THE TOWNLEY SENTENCE

In these days of Reds and Radicalism the sentence of Townley and Gilbert, North Dakota Non-Partisan Leaders, convicted of the charge of "conspiracy to teach disloyalty," attracts little attention.

The sentence was for three months each in jail, no alternative of paying a fine, and sixty days' suspension of their original bail.

Judge Dean in handing down the decision threw out the old-fashioned idea that "any organization built on falsehood will not long endure."

Answering statements from the Non-Partisan League attacking the integrity of the court and the character of the jury, Judge Dean said:

"Never in the history of the jury system, was a more honest and impartial jury empanelled in any criminal case."

"It is outrageous that any person who was present and saw this farmer jury should accuse these men of dishonesty."

"It appears that no one connected with the trial was pure and undefiled except the defendants and those associated with them."

These political leaders should be allowed to quietly serve their terms and then go at some honest work for a living.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Lambert spent Tuesday at the J. T. Hunt home in Salem and while there attended the Willamette Chapter No. 37 which initiated three new members.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Schaefer and son Cecil, and W. F. Blakely motored to Lebanon Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Anderson, former residents of Stayton.

Andrew Rausher, Jr., and sisters Mela and Laura, motored from Goldendale, Wash., to attend the State Fair. They also visited relatives here before returning to their home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kusy who have lived near Stayton for the past fifteen years, have sold out and have gone back east. They will visit relatives in Eastern Oregon, Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska during the winter.

J. F. Richards who has been farming in the Fern Ridge district for a number of years, disposed of his farm implements stock and land last week. He has moved to Stayton where he will spend the winter.

Affairs at present are a long way from being perfect, but when we think of the anxiety and worry with which, a year ago, we watched the daily casualty list, we realize that we have much for which to be thankful.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
