Made in Oregon Week

The Associated Industry Association of Oregon are asking the merchants of Salem to put on a "Made in Oregon Week," the latter part of January in which the several store displays will be made of Oregon manufactured products and special effort will be made to show and familiarize the people of Marion and Polk counties with the products of our state. The Salem Woolen Mills store is going to take an active part in this "Made in Oregon Week" campaign and has already made arrangements with a number of manufacturers for displays and it is plain of the management to put on a display that will be worth seeing and the entire public is cordially invited to view the exhibit. Capable salesmen will be provided to explain the different lines, and as this purely an exhibit affair no one will be importuned to buy.

Dec. 27 was a banner day for Acacia Chapter No. 63. At 5 p. m. a special meeting was held and 4 candidates was initiated into the mysteries of the order. At 6:30 a banquet was served of the good things the Star ladies so well know how to prepare and at 8 o'clock Mrs. Wilbur, W. M., called the meeting to order appointed Mrs. Ellen Lambert installing officer and Mrs. Grace Neibert Marshal. At the close of the installation work Mrs. Lambert presented in behalf of Acacia Chapter, a beautiful emblematical bouquet to Mrs. Wilbur who responded in her sweet womanly way. During the last year Acacia chapter has prospered greatly under the leadership of Mrs. Wilbur, 24 petitions having been taken in.

HAND WORK HAS PLACE ON HAT OR WAIST

It may be the waists, the fashion artist was showing in this sketch—or again, it may have been the new hats—but incidentally—the hair dress on the young lady to the left is the newest twist—so all in all, the picture is very interesting to women. The apron or tunic panel on the waist to the right, caught with cord at the waist, is very new with its hand needle work to correspond with yoke.

DELIVERING AIRPLANE EGGS FROM THE AIR

Larry B. Jahn of Montevideo, Minn., helps make it easier on Uncle Sam's air mail carriers. He invented this parachute with which eggs have been delivered from 600 feet in the air while the plane was in motion—and without disturbing them. The parachute was first used during the war as "safety" for airmen. It automatically opens its case and opens when released.

TOO FOXY FOR COPS AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

A red fox hunt around the U. S. Capitol Building at Washington was one of the excitements of the day recently when Capitol police discovered the animal and gave chase. George M. Green, a passing spectator, captured the prize—then the fox followed him back to his home at the National Zoo.

HELD UP HER HANDS BUT FOILED ROBBERS

Marie Brockmeier, cashier in the First National Bank of a suburb of Cincinnati, put her hands in the air when six bank robbers started waving dangerous guns in all directions. But her feet were busy. She found a tiny button in the floor which sounded an alarm—a huge gong—to ringing. The robbers ran.

WORLD'S OLDEST MAN LIVES IN KAINTECK

Sense of Taste.
The sensation of taste, while of common and constant experience, is highly complicated in its nature. What is commonly called taste is not a simple sensation at all, but rather a complex. In addition to the actual functioning of the apparatus properly pertaining to the sense of taste, the tongue receives impressions of various other sorts, all of which go to make up this complex. As finally recorded in the consciousness, the taste of any substance has to do with its heat or coolness, perhaps with a mild amount of pain, certainly with astringency or acidity—which are in themselves further complexes of thermal and tactile sensations—and above all with smell. The reader will probably agree that ice cream and coffee are entirely different from their true selves when served at inopportune temperatures; and it is a matter of record that a person of the keenest taste may make the most ludicrous errors if asked, blindfolded and with his nose stopped, to identify substances placed in his mouth.
