Canadians Begin Planting of What is to Be Memorial Forest on Battlefield.

An overseas dispatch says 200 young maples have been planted on the desert of what was Vimy Ridge. This is the beginning of the proposed Canadian memorial forest—the maple is Canada's emblematic tree—and the saplings just placed are declared to be the only living trees in the war zone today.

How the landscape has been changed and how the reconstructed one will differ from that before the war! Most Americans think of Holland, Belgium, Flanders as painted by Van Goyen, Ruysdael, Rembrandt and others. Instinctively the mental picture follows Hobbema's "Avenue of Middleharnis," with spindling, thin-shanked, wisp-topped and scant-on-shade trees either side the road. What a different aspect maples would give the scene, or oaks, or elms or other wide-spreading varieties. The European, like the oriental, seems to have chosen his favorite trees on some other basis than expansive foliage—the cedar, the cypress, the palm, the stone pine, the poplar of Lombardy; yet the inspiration for Gothic cathedrals came from the solemn groves of archlike trunks and limbs and foliage, and wherever two elms meet there is the suggestion right at hand. Many years must elapse before the war-torn regions are again venerable with trees, and by that time a new school of landscape painting may have come, glad to paint full, rounded trees like the American, Inness; or, reversing the Inness method, of leaving a circular opening through his trees to reveal the scene beyond, this future school may feature the transplanted maple's rounded "area" in the foreground while displaying the European background on either side.

FIGHT JUST STARTING FOR THESE "DRYS"

The real job is just starting for two men—both life-long workers for prohibition. Above is Earl Hurst Cherrington, who was the organization for a nationwide prohibition. He is also in charge of all anti-saloon publications. Below is Wayne B. Miller, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League of America, who has prosecuted over 2000 cases, many of them in the United States.

Out of accumulated capital have arisen all the successes of industry and capital since, all the comforts and amenities of the common lot. Upon it the world must depend for the process of reconstruction in which all have to share.

—JAMES J. HILL

The Successful Farmer Raises Bigger Crops

and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

Inside Facts

It's what's inside your battery that makes it live long or wear out quickly.

Inferior insulation wears out before the plates do, and re-insulation is necessary.

Threaded Rubber Insulation eliminates the need of re-insulation, makes a battery last much longer under equal conditions, and reduces the liability to any other kind of repairs.

It's the one biggest battery improvement in ten years—demonstrated now by four years of use.

You can't afford not to know about it, for some day you'll need a new battery.

Call and let us tell you all about it.

TRYING TO KILL LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Senators Are Resorting to the Old Parliamentary Device of Killing by Amendment

The immediate aim of the Senatorial plotters against the League Covenant is plain to the view. They are trying to kill the League of Nations. The law assumes that men intend the necessary consequences of their own acts. If the action these Senators urge upon the Senate is taken, it will necessarily destroy the League. They do not even seek to conceal their purpose. They are resorting to the old parliamentary device of killing by amendment. Mr. Knox's hostile resolution, which has gone to its death, has been abandoned for a "qualifying resolution." It is intended that the Senate shall declare in this resolution that its ratification of the Treaty of Peace, so far as it applies to the League of Nations, shall be without effect so far as the United States is concerned until the other nations signing the Treaty shall agree to certain reservations, which are to be substantially those recommended by Senator Root. The Washington correspondent of The Times asked Senator Knox what would happen if the allied nations decline to accept these reservations. "The United States in that event would be outside the League of Nations," Mr. Knox replied, with a smile. Without the United States the League would be a lame and impotent organization; in all probability it would fall to pieces.

Therefore, we may start from the postulate that Senator Knox, Senator Lodge, Senator Borah, Senator Johnson and their associates fully intend the death of the League of Nations and are taking measures to that end. But what is their ulterior aim? Merely to prevent the erection of safeguards against the greatest cause of human suffering cannot be the whole end and aim of their plotting. We know that they have a political purpose—to express their hatred of PRESIDENT WILSON, to discredit him and thereby advance the fortunes of the Republican party. Their tactics and their utterances disclose that motive, it is charged against them by responsible leaders of their own party. But by what strange perverted process of argument have they persuaded themselves that the success of their desperate plot against the League Covenant would improve the chances of the Republicans in the Presidential election next year?

The country is against them. The great sober-minded, reasonable, and patriotic mass of their own party is against them. It is practically certain that they cannot command the support of the majority of the Republican Senators in their desperate adventure. That the Republican party at large condemns their procedure is made evident by authoritative utterances in many States of the Union. An ex-President and an ex-Attorney-General of their own party have condemned them. More than a score of representative Republicans in this city united the other day in a remonstrance against the course they are pursuing. In the West, newspapers of high standing and of unquestioned loyalty to the party are outspoken in denunciation of the thing they are trying to do. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, a great and influential newspaper of unswerving fidelity to Republican principles, declares that "a large proportion of the Republican press favors the League, and there are but few important Republican newspapers that are uncompromisingly against it." In support of this assertion it reproduces upon its editorial page in its issue of June 22, five columns of editorial expressions from Republican newspapers of prominence, all deploring the unwise and dangerous course of the Senatorial opponents of the League. Among these newspapers are The Los Angeles Times, The Portland Oregonian, one of the great papers of the Pacific coast; The Des Moines Register, a representative Republican paper; The Salt Lake Tribune, another sound Republican newspaper; The Topeka Capital and the Globe-Democrat.

The Globe-Democrat calls attention to the adoption of resolutions endorsing the League Covenant by the representative vote of 29,750 to 420 by the American Federation of Labor; to the resolution of the Federation of Women's Clubs, representing 2,000,000 women, declaring its approval of the revised Covenant of the League; it points out that in a canvass of agricultural papers published in forty-three States, only one of sixty-eight opposed ratification of the Treaty with the League and sixty-four unqualifiedly favored it. The attitude of the Church in favor of the Covenant has been made known from hundreds of pulpits. Says the Globe-Democrat: "Here we have labor, agriculture, the Church, the women, and probably business supporting the League. From what source would the Republican party draw a conquering power in opposition to it? It is a pertinent question for leaders of the party."
