LEONARD WOOD'S RULE OF LIFE

Eric Fisher Wood, a biographer of Leonard Wood, but not a relative, says in his book, published by George H. Doran company:

"The author once asked General Wood his rules of life. He replied: 'Always volunteer, no matter how dangerous or unpromising the task.' 'Once you have volunteered, never stop fighting. Do things, and don't talk about them. During the process you are likely to discover opportunity; eventually you can win through to success.' His face widened out into its characteristic aggressive smile. And then you will have the pleasure of hearing unenterprising men, who would never take a chance, allude to your achievements as the solely to luck and influence."
