OUTLOOK NOT ROSY

Whether it be spring fever that makes us more pessimistic, or whether the war has spread so much gloom and depression all over the world or whether it be really true that people are getting worse instead of better, we do not know, but we do know that our faith in the progress of the brotherhood of man part of the doctrine is getting considerably shaken and we are not suave, oily, diplomatic and dishonest enough to say otherwise.

Those Germans, Austrians, Bulgarians and Turks—Huns all—over across the water are human beings, same as we are, with, presumably, human instincts, and if any of them are displaying "Brotherhood of Man" proclivities it is not visible to the naked eye.

Russia, claiming a special dispensation in the brotherhood of business, overthrew its autocracy in its behalf. This was well, but now look at them. Cutting each other's throats over the distribution of the spoils, robbing, murdering, plundering, looting and acting like maniacs, with Delirium Tremens as their slogan, instead of Brotherhood of Man. Judging from their present actions, they would steal anything not spiked down, and commit murder to get it.

EDUCATION

Miss Mollie Brown, a Georgia backwoods school teacher and spinster of 40, but who was neither fat nor fair, was going the rounds of the neighborhood to raise her average in attendance. On leaving one squatter's place she advised Nancy, a half-grown, dyed-in-the-wool cracker girl, to come back to school, and pointedly set forth the many drawbacks of ignorance.

With a knowing bob of her head Nancy touchingly said:

"Now look here, Miss Mollie. My granmaw she didn't git no eddication, an' she got married. My maw she didn't git no eddication an' she got married. You got eddication, an' you hain't got married. Huh! I ain't hankerin' after eddication!"

The shortage of gasoline in Stayton the past week has played havoc with business in more than one way. It has crippled our truck service and also has put the Ky Bosh on joy riding. The oil company promises to have plenty of gas in the next few days.

Our Republican friends who meet at Chicago to nominate a ticket for president of the United States, are reminded of an ancient admonition: "Let him not boast who puts his armour on as he who pulls it off the battle won." This is a year of variegated politics and strange things are very likely to happen.

As some merchants blew in $2.75 on handbills several years ago and did not any appreciable they think they have demonstrated that advertising doesn't pay.

Why Ocean Waters Are Never Still.

The surface waters of the ocean are in constant motion under the influence of waves, tides, currents and drifts. Waves are vertical oscillations caused by the winds. Tides resemble waves in their motion, but they owe their origin to the attractive force of the sun and moon. The horizontal movements of the surface waters are known as drifts and currents. A drift is a general movement under the influence of the wind, but slower and more changeable in direction than a current. Enclosed seas have a circulatory movement because the water usually differs in density from the ocean.

Haw, Haw!

"It says here that if you want to develop anything you should exercise it regularly," said the Old Fogey, as he looked up from the newspaper he was reading.

"Huh!" commented the Grouch. "If that was a fact, a woman's jaw would be as big as her chest."—Clatsop Enquirer.

Tennyson's passion for a "long pipe" is well known. The story that he never smoked the same pipe twice can be dismissed, for, like all smokers, he detested new pipes. He entertained the liveliest hatred of Florence because he could not get any decent tobacco there, and on this account promptly returned home. Carlyle, describing Tennyson, said: "Smokes infinite tobacco." His devotion to the herb became so intense that, literally he could not exist without it. On one occasion, at a soiree of the Royal society, he declared he must have a pipe. A friend said he should smoke up the chimney of the library or on the roof. Tennyson chose the latter, and with his body thrust half way through the skylight puffed away in peace, descending in a quarter of an hour greatly refreshed. Wherever he went he must be allowed to smoke. Accepting an invitation to visit Gladstone in 1876, he wrote: "As you are good enough to say you will manage anything rather than lose my visit, will you manage that I can have a pipe in my room whenever I like?"

"Strad" Violin Poor Investment.

From a contemporary we learn that: "Cervetto, an Italian musician in London in the eighteenth century, is said to have received a number of Stradivari violins for sale. He was instructed to ask $4 ($20) each for the violins, but failed to sell them at this exorbitant price, and had to send them back to Italy. With these same violins selling at the present day from $10,000 to $20,000 each, this seems almost incredible, but we must remember that at that time Stradivari was not known as the premier violin maker of the world. However, it would have been a very poor speculation for anyone to have bought the violins at even that nominal sum at that time and hoarded them away for his heirs to sell at the present day. The sum of $20 invested at compound interest at that time would have amounted to far more than $20,000 at the present day. Such is the power of money to breed if kept steadily at work at compound interest."

"Here we are, in tip-top shape"

—Chesterfield

YES, and that's the way Chesterfields always arrive—crisp, fresh and in prime shape for smoking. It's the extra wrapper of moisture-proof paper that does it. Your Chesterfields never become too moist or too dry.

"They're Talking About It Everywhere" says the Good Judge

How much more genuine satisfaction you get from a little of the Real Tobacco Chew than you ever got from the old kind.

The good, rich, real tobacco taste lasts so long—you don't need a fresh chew nearly as often. That's why it saves you money.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

Put up in two styles

RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco

W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco

Inside Facts

It's what's inside your battery that makes it live long or wear out quickly.

Inferior insulation wears out before the plates do, and re-insulation is necessary.

Threaded Rubber Insulation eliminates the need of re-insulation, makes a battery last much longer under equal conditions, and reduces the liability to any other kind of repairs.

It's the one biggest battery improvement in ten years—demonstrated now by four years of use.

You can't afford not to know about it, for some day you'll need a new battery.

Call and let us tell you all about it.
