A sign on the wall in a Montana hotel: "Use only one lump of sugar and stir your coffee like hell, for we do not mind the noise."

Dr. C. W. Shaff of Lewiston, Idaho spent the week-end with his brother W. D. Shaff. The Doctor says Stayton appeals to him as an exceptionally good town for its size, its greatest asset being its facilities for education.

Reminiscing he said: "The fact that I taught school here in 1877 makes me realize how great your educational advantages are compared to those of other days when means and ends to an education were as crude as the teacher often was."

Dr. Shaff left on the Sunday morning stage and will reach Lewiston, Monday.

Make Your Fortune Live After You

Many men, during a lifetime of hard work have accumulated a fortune, which, after their death, has been dissipated through mismanagement, ignorance, or extravagance.

You can guard against such a contingency and make your fortune live on and perform your cherished wishes by making a will and placing it in trust with this bank as trustee.

Consult your lawyer about drawing a will and creating such trusts as you desire. A trust may be created to have effect either during your lifetime, or after your death.

A new high-school teacher had come to the local high school and was anxious to know how she impressed the faculty members and students. But she was new and of course would not ask any of them the others' opinion of herself.

So she began to watch for a chance to use her own ingenuity in making the discovery. And one day her chance came. She was in the principal's office filling out an identification card when she saw him and one of the other teachers coming down the hall. Quickly she slipped just outside the back door and stood there to listen a wee bit.

Just as she had hoped they would, they noticed the card she had just filled out. "Oh, she's the new teacher," spoke up the principal. "Do you know by any chance what history she teaches?"

The other teacher answered, "Ancient."
The principal grinned. "Why, of course," he returned. "I should have known that from her looks." — Exchange.

Your Teeth are an Expression of
YOUR PERSONALITY
Do You Smile With Your Mouth Closed

Do you know that when you are talking to a friend or acquaintance, while you are looking into that person's eyes, he is looking at your mouth?
Do you want your friends to remember badly decayed, broken-down teeth, and unsightly gums?
You can have your teeth restored to proper order under my New System of Dentistry, without the enormous expense, useless pain and waste of time that such work formerly required.

In my office you will find modern, sanitary equipment, where you can have your teeth fixed for less than you expected to pay. A trained Dental Nurse assists in looking after the comfort of my patients and cares for children while parents are being treated.
