Farewell Party

Saturday night there was given by the Rebekas and Odd Fellows at their hall a social function that was in line with usual happy occasions arranged by these orders. The affair was in the nature of a surprise farewell, honoring Guy Kearns and G. C. Ekman, who expect in a short time to leave for Alaska.

The evening was very pleasantly spent with games and various amusements. Mrs. Mayo favored with a vocal selection which was highly appreciated. Dr. Beauchamp acted as toastmaster. Grant Murphy made the principal address. The honor guests made brief talks.

The ladies had prepared a spread that is spoken of as superb in all of its appointments.

The lateness of the time when the eighty-five participants dispersed—which was the "wee sma' hours"—attests the excellence of the entertainment.

Thursday, the 23rd, was the 82nd anniversary of Uriah Whitney, and in honor of the occasion his daughter, Mrs. Silhavy, arranged a birthday dinner. His granddaughter, Mrs. Geo. Thomas and husband, and Clie and Cliff Thomas were present. His daughter, Mrs. Worley, of Corvallis, was unable to come, but sent him a handsome memento. Mr. Whitney is well preserved for a man of his years and his many friends hope to see him pass many more birthdays.

W. I. Needham, deputy sheriff, was up from Salem Monday to sell the personal property at the laundry. J. E. Sloper was the purchaser. Mr. Needham is a republican candidate for sheriff and will no doubt secure the office, as he is a popular man and has made an efficient deputy.
